MAYOR SEEKS STREET CAR PEACE

CITY TO HELP REACH TRUCE; CONFAB TODAY

Busby Will Meet Men and Consider Anew Their Wage Demands.

LETTERS FROM UNIONS

NO STRIKE THIS WEEK; ALL WORK FOR PEACE

There will be no traction strike on Saturday, at any rate. Peace is yet in sight. The strike order has not been and may never be issued. It is hoped that the conferences today may show a way out of the difficulties—Substance of statements by the representatives of the unions and the employers.

Mayor Thompson is expected to tackle the emergency that confronts Chicago in the event of a transportation strike today. The mayor indicated last night that he would hold a conference this morning, following which he might invite the officials of the surface and elevated lines and the representatives of the street car men, into a conference seeking a compromise.

It was considered by the mayor that this is eminently proper in view of the fact that the city is the big partner in the operation of the surface lines. Under the unification ordinance the city gets 55 per cent of the net receipts.

It was also suggested that the city's share might be one of the subjects for discussion. Some months ago Mayor Harrison was quoted as saying that in the event of emergency the city might yield a portion of its 55 per cent toward the increase in wages asked by the men. Expressions of sentiment on this subject will probably be asked.

Busby Writes Union Today.

President L. A. Busby will write a letter to the officials of the street car men's union this morning asking the committee to meet with him to negotiate for the settlement of the differences between the surface lines and the 11,000 employés.

The letter will be in reply to a communication from the union announcing the result of the strike vote and requesting any suggestions for ending the differences without a strike. President Busby received the letter from the street car men late yesterday.

President B. I. Budd will make a similar reply to the elevated employés following the receipt of a similar communication from his employés.

Presidents of both locals announced at night that they would accept the offers of the presidents to meet with them.

The conferences may result in a plan for adjusting the differences between the employers and the employés without a strike.

"There is the best of feeling between President Budd and the officials of our local and the union men," said John J. Bruce, president of the elevated employés' local. "We will meet with President Budd if he asks us."

Quinlan Sees Chance of Peace.

President William Quinlan of the surface lines employés' local was also optimistic and predicted that the conferences might result in an adjustment.

The union officials sent a communication to Mayor Thompson, also apprising him of the situation and asking him to use his office to prevent a serious tieup in the street car situation.

The letter to Mayor Thompson was signed by Mr. Quinlan and Mr. Bruce. It follows:

"As mayor of the city of Chicago, we deem it our duty to notify you of the serious situation that presents itself through the refusal of the surface and elevated railway managements to improve wage conditions of their employés. The contracts between the companies and the employés expired June 1, 1915.

Refused Wage Increase.

"We have sought to renew them, demanding a reasonable wage and some improvement in working conditions. The committees representing the employés of the Chicago Surface lines and the Chicago Elevated railways have held a number of conferences with the managements of the respective companies and have endeavored to bring about a practical adjustment in an amicable way.

"Nothing has resulted from these conferences, the management of both companies having positively refused to grant any wage increase. The decision of the MEXICO WANTS RESCUE BY U. S.

BULLETIN.

Denver, Colo., June 2.—Adjt. Gen. John Chase of the Colorado National Guard today received orders from the war department in Washington to be prepared to mobilize upon an hour's notice, according to reliable information. The order, it is said, was accompanied with a request prohibiting discussion of the communication.

In view of President Wilson's announcement yesterday that Mexico must restore peace, or the United States will act, the following dispatch by "The Tribune" correspondent is of timely value as showing the feeling of the natives regarding intervention.

Mr. Gibbons, back in El Paso from several months in Mexico, says Mexicans of high standing admit there is no possibility of any one faction becoming dominant, or of a merger of the factions. The statement is made that Mexico's only hope lies in intervention by the United States.

Stories of how natives are living on roots and herbs and attacking trains for water are cited to show the extent of famine conditions.

BY FLOYD P. GIBBONS.

[War Correspondent of The Tribune.]

El Paso, Tex., June 2.—[Special.]—Poor Mexico! Now that I am back again in the United States I can indulge myself with expression of the terrible conditions in Mexico.

Mexico is starving and crying that some hand must be stretched forth to its relief. It wonders and cannot understand why the United States has not come forward before now.

Views of the People.

I have had occasion to talk with a number of the old federal officers who took up arms with Villa after the overthrow of Huerta. Most of them are graduates of the military academy of Chapultepec and speak English.

All of them are wondering why the United States has not intervened before this and none of them can see peace for Mexico until there is intervention. To mention names or quote these men would be the same as signing their death warrants.

"There is no faction in Mexico today that is strong enough to dominate all the others," a federal of high rank told me. "And until one faction or another becomes supreme, conditions will grow steadily worse. It has only been possible for the war to last as long as it has by reason of the richness of the soil and the wonderful resourcefulness of Mexico.

Intervention Only Alternative.

"A nation of people with wants more refined would never have lasted as long. Unless the various Mexican factions can be brought together, which they cannot do themselves, there is no hope for Mexico other than in intervention. Armed intervention would be met with resistance for awhile, but the weakness of the country would not permit it to last long."

There is a United States consul in Mex-

LATEST NEWS OF THE WAR.

BERLIN, June 2, via London, June 3, 3:55 a. m.—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from Bucharest, Roumania, says: "Alexander Marghiloman, the leader of the Conservative party in Roumania, and an advocate of nonintervention in the war by Roumania, has been re-elected president of his party. His re-election is taken to mean a vote for his policy of 'armed waiting.' The advocates of intervention are attacking the validity of the vote."

LONDON, June 3, 3:42 a. m.—English insurance companies have already paid claims amounting to $500,000 in connection with the loss of life by the sinking of the Lusitania. This represents the sum payable on about 350 lives and many more claims are expected to be filed.

BERLIN, June 2, via London, June 3, 3:55 a. m.—Prince August William of Hohenzollern, fourth son of Emperor William, who was badly injured in an automobile accident on the western battle front during the winter, has so far recovered that he was able to start today to rejoin the staff of the army to which he is attached.

LONDON, June 3, 3:33 a. m.—According to German newspapers received here Bremen has taken the lead among the German cities in a plan for a tax on war profits, to be levied on farms or individuals in receipt of an income of more than $3,000 annually.

ROME, June 2, via Paris, June 3, 1:25 a. m.—A meeting was held here today and a committee was appointed to prepare plans for taking care of persons in civil life who may be rendered needy by reason of the war. Premier Salandra, Foreign Minister Sonnino, and senators and deputies attended the meeting. The ministers were given an ovation.

SLEUTHS EMPTY OAK PARK MOVIES

Two Mysterious 'Dicks' Hanging on Senator Austin's Gate Draw Crowds.

Movie managers in Oak Park tore their hair last night. Only blase ushers were present to enjoy the pictures.

A bigger attraction than all the movies put together was in town, and Oak Park in a body had marched down to the back gate of State Senator H. W. Austin's estate at Forest avenue and Erie street to see those two famous real life detectives go through their nightly business of detecting.

The detectives were obligingly on the job, swinging on the Austin gate, their hats pulled low, hither and yon. Their very presence, inactive though they seemed, meant a sizzling scandal in the making. Who were they watching? What pillar of the church had gone wrong?

Calls the Police.

All Saturday night the detectives had been there, all Sunday night, all Monday night, all Tuesday night—sinisterly swinging on the Austin gate. When Mrs. Austin, alarmed, had sent for the police they had revealed their authority as professional cousins, but that was all.

The detectives at first affected not to notice the crowd. When the street was jammed—particularly when one old lady approached and whispered: "Who it it? I won't breath it to a soul!"—they no longer could ignore the fact they were themselves under surveillance. That made their own detecting difficult.

Leap Into Auto.

The detectives broke into a run, likewise the crowd. Several blocks away an automobile was waiting in charge of a third mysterious man. The detectives jumped into it. In an instant they were jointly disguised as a dust cloud.

Later that night a prowling motor patrolled the streets of the suburb. Finally, when Oak Park had tucked itself into bed, the motor came to a halt opposite the home of Alfred McArthur, a neighbor of the Austins. The engine chugged noisily. Mr. McArthur could not sleep. He appeared on the street in a dressing gown.

"What do you want?" he demanded of the men in the machine.

"None of your business," was the neatly turned retort.

"Oh, yes it is," insisted Mr. McArthur. He made a rather conspicuous display of a revolver. The man at the wheel was convinced it would be better to be frank.

"My wife's got a job as nurse for Mr. E. R. Hills," he said. "These men are detectives. We're trying to get something on her, so I can get a divorce. That enough?"

Quits Her Job.

"Yes—if you shut off your motor," agreed the armed confidant.

Mr. Hills, who lives at 413 Forest avenue, was reached by telephone.

"I did have a nurse," he said, "but she quit her job this morning and I don't know where she's gone."

Oak Park's scandal was dust and ashes.

CAN'T GIVE AWAY CIGARETS.

"Rider" in New Wisconsin Law Discovered Barring Gifts of "Pills."

Madison, Wis., June 2.—[Special.]—The new cigaret act, legalising the sale of cigarets to adults, it was discovered today, has a "rider" which makes it unlawful to give away tobacco in this form, either to minors or adults.

Convicts Turn Farmers Under Honor System

Felon Shut Up 28 Years Admitted to Outdoor Colony.

[This is the first of two articles by Mr. Hyde on the most remarkable experiment in dealing with criminals now being conducted in the United States.]

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

"By Gott!" he almost whispered. "The grass is just as green as it used to be!"

The man had been penned inside of a stone wall for twenty-eight straight years. The wall is so high that he had never caught a glimpse of what was going on outside.

Half of each twenty-four hours for twenty-eight years he had been locked up in a stone and iron cage. When he lay down on his iron cot the heavy stone walls were within a hand's breadth of both his head and feet. When he stood up his head almost touched the roof. The cage is four and one-half feet wide. And there were always two men locked up together in it.

No Sunshine in Fifty Years.

There are fifty cages, exactly alike, in each row. The rows are piled on top of each other, four tiers high. In the fifty years since they were built never a ray of sunshine has shone through their bars.

At one end of each row of cages and on the outside sits a man on a stool. At 6 o'clock every evening he reaches up and pulls a lever. With a single click the locks of the fifty cages grate into place.

At 6 o'clock every morning he reaches up again and pulls the lever the other way. With a single sound the locks of all the fifty cages click open again.

That is a wonderful example of efficiency.

One Day Ten Years Ago.

It was a lie to say that the man who swore under his breath had never been outside of the high stone wall for twenty-eight years. On a day ten years ago he was once taken across the road to help carry a heavy timber back inside the walls. Ever since he has talked about "that day when I seen the trees."

He is illiterate, as well as profane. He is also a murderer. He is serving a life sentence at Joliet penitentiary. One may as well face the facts before he lets go of his sympathy.

Yesterday the man went outside of the high stone wall for good, unless he is returned for his own fault. He became one of the 137 honor convicts who are working the state honor farm, which covers a great stretch of country three miles from the prison walls.

The Honor Convicts.

The honor convicts live and eat and sleep in a lot of farm houses, which used to be scattered all over the great tract of 2,200 acres which are now comprised in the one great honor farm. Under the direction of Warden E. M. Allen these houses have been moved on rollers over the country roads and brought together into two groups, the honor convicts doing most of the work.

There is not a gun, not an armed guard, on the whole place. Capt. J. C. Carver, who had army experience in the Philippines, is the official who represents the warden in direct charge of the honor farm. There is also a night watchman at each group of cottages who sees that everything is all right after the lights go out. That is all.

Last year when work on the honor farm

ITALIANS BEGIN FIRE ON TRIESTE

Heavy Shells Dropped on Capital of Istria; Other Successes for Invaders.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

CHIASSO, via Paris, June 2.—The first Italian shells have fallen in Trieste, and the capital of Istria tonight is under an intermittent bombardment from a point near the mouth of the Isonzo, less than twelve miles away, across the gulf of Trieste.

The Italian army, in spite of continuous rains and flood conditions in the creeks and rivers along the eastern frontier, has reached the outskirts of Monfalcone and is in touch with the main Austrian army, although the battle in force has not developed.

Bad Weather a Handicap.

The seizure by the Italians of Grado and the small peninsula on which this port is situated gave to Gen. Cadorna his opportunity to begin direct fire against Trieste. While the terrain is difficult for the transportation of big guns, a battery has been sent from Terzo to the slight eminence overlooking the gulf, and with these pieces it is expected an effort will be made to cut the railway from Monfalcone to Trieste and at the same time keep the latter town under fire.

A report reached here tonight that Gradisca has been evacuated by the Austrians. If this is true it means that the way has been opened for an Italian advance to the gates of Trieste.

Should the Italians force this line the intrenched camps of Sessana and Divaca, on the Corso chain that surrounds Trieste, will be depended on to command the approaches to the city.

Italians Hold Monte Nero.

The ridge of Monte Nero, on the west bank of the Isonzo and about six miles northwest of Tolmino, has been captured by the Italians. The Austrians sought to recapture it by several counter attacks, but the Italians are safely organized on the summit.

Further to the north, in the Carnic Alps, the Italians are bombarding the Austrians at Malborghet, at the junction of the railroads from Caporetto and Klagenfurt to Villach.

MISS LARNED'S BUS LINES DENIED SUPPORT OF CITY.

Aldermen Decide They Have No Jurisdiction Over Boulevards and Put Petition on File.

Hopes of Miss Emily B. Larned and others of her set, who thought they could effect the establishment of boulevard bus lines by an appeal to the city council, blew up in smoke yesterday, when the council local transportation committee decided it had no jurisdiction over boulevards and put her petition of 1,200 names on file.

JITNEYS MUST OBEY STATE.

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—The Illinois public utilities commission today held that jitneys render a public service such as to bring them under the intent of the utilities law and that they must incorporate and seek certificates before operating. The commission also ruled jitneys may not operate along streets where they become a parallel competition to a railway.

Forgan Verifies Engagement of Barker Heiress

Guardian Announces Wedding to Howard Spaulding on July 31.

MR. JAMES B. FORGAN announces the engagement of MISS CATHERINE BARKER to MR. H. H. SPAULDING JR.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, July 31, at Miss Barker's country home at Harbor Point, Mich.

Mr. Spaulding has for some time been attached to the Chicago office of the Haskell & Barker Car company in the capacity of assistant secretary of the company.

The young couple have rented an apartment in the Spades apartment building, 221 East Walton place, where they will reside after they return from their honeymoon trip.

This announcement is of unusual interest in that it gives authoritative confirmation to an engagement and approaching wedding that has interested Chicago society for a number of months.

Miss Barker is the young daughter of the late John H. Barker of Michigan City and since she is worth some $30,000,000 in her own right, she is one of America's great heiresses. She is only 19. Her guardian is Mr. Forgan, president of the First National Bank of Chicago. Young Spaulding is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Spaulding of 155 East Chicago avenue.

Rumors of their engagement have persisted for eighteen months and have been substantiated by the fact that Miss Barker has spent most of her vacation periods at the Spaulding home or at Harbor Point, where is located the beautiful summer home left her by her father and which she has chosen as the scene of her wedding.

To Attend Another Wedding.

Miss Barker left yesterday for Council Bluffs, where she is to attend the wedding of her friend, Miss Stewart, and serve as bridesmaid. On her return she will begin to make definite plans for her own wedding.

It is understood that among her bridesmaids will be Miss Rosamond Goodrich, with whom she has been attending Miss Finch's school in New York City this winter; Miss Jane Vincent, Miss Marie Frost, and Miss Elizabeth Goodrich.

Studies Her Business Interests.

A few months ago young Mr. Spaulding went into business—his fiancé's interests in the Haskell & Barker Car company being selected.

Miss Barker has been the heroine of a number of interesting adventures which have given Mr. Forgan interesting moments during his years of guardianship.

She has received more letters than perhaps any young woman in Chicago proposing marriage—letters from every state and nation practically the world over. Most of these Mr. Forgan contends she has never seen.

And two winters ago when she left with Miss Edith Harrison and her governess for a trip to South America she astonished Mr. Forgan by cabling him a sudden desire to visit Spain, along with the fact that she was en route to Madrid. Arrived there she was welcomed by a message from her guardian that brought her to America and eventually to Chicago by the next steamer.

ENVOY CABLES WILSON VIEWS TO GERMANY

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, June 2.—The German government, it is reported, is willing to pay the owners of the American steamships Gulflight and Cushing whatever damages may be asked as a result of the German attacks on these vessels.

Germany is willing to settle the cases without prize court proceedings.

The German foreign office today handed a note c the Gulflight case to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador. It confirms the announcement of the admiralty staff two days ago that the Gulflight was torpedoed by error, the submarine mistaking it for a British ship.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—The conference of President Wilson and Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, at the White House today produced no change in the policy the administration purposes to pursue in the effort to win from Germany respect for American rights in the submarine war zone.

The frank and friendly twenty minute talk of the representatives of the two nations was productive, however, of some hope that Germany and the United States would be able to reach a clearer understanding of their differences which will permit an amicable settlement.

Count von Bernstorff pleaded the ignorance of the German government and people of the deep feeling engendered in the United States by the sacrifice of American lives and property to the submarine warfare on commerce. This ignorance he held entirely due to his inability to communicate with his government except in fragmentary wireless messages.

CABLES SITUATION IS SERIOUS.

President Wilson offered to have the state department cable to Berlin any reports upon the existing situation the ambassador might care to make and Count von Bernstorff accepted the offer.

Returning to the embassy the ambassador prepared a report to the Berlin foreign office upon the situation, which he described as serious. He set forth the insistence of the president upon obtaining from Germany as a prerequisite to any further discussion a promise to observe international law in the warfare on commerce. He also described the unanimity of the American people in supporting the president's policy.

The ambassador's message was delivered to Secretary of State Bryan late in the afternoon and is being cabled to Berlin tonight.

WILSON WRITING REJOINDER.

It was learned tonight that the president is drafting the rejoinder to the German reply to his Lusitania note in accordance with the policy mapped out at the cabinet meeting yesterday. He will submit it for final approval to the cabinet on Friday and it is possible that it will be dispatched to Berlin that night.

The rejoinder pacifically but firmly states that the United States cannot enter into any discussion of the circumstances of the killing of Americans and attacks on American ships unless Germany promises to comply with the rules of visitation and search and of provision for the safety of noncombatants aboard unarmed merchant steamers, rules of international law, the observance of which would effectually prevent a recurrence of the sacrifices of American lives and property.

TELLS OF GERMAN EFFORTS.

The White House conference was the culmination of Count von Bernstorff's indefatigable efforts to avert a rupture of the relations of the United States and Germany.

Count von Bernstorff described the desperate efforts made by Germany to hwart the British attempt to starve out Germany and the equally desperate efforts to cut off the supply of arms and other munitions of war to the allies. He said that Germany was convinced that British merchant vessels had been armed and were to all intents and purposes vessels of war which are not entitled to a warning before being attacked.

The ambassador also set forth the fury of the German populace, fed by the realization that German soldiers were being shot down with arms and ammunition obtained from America and the desperate measures to which the government had been pushed by public demand to destroy cargoes of war munitions consigned to England. Germany, he said, is employing its only available naval weapon, the submarine, to cope with Great Britain and views the carriage of passengers and munitions of war on the same vessel as a British attempt to protect contraband.

SAYS LINER WAS ARMED.

Count von Bernstorff informed the president that evidence in his possession establishes the fact that the Lusitania was an armed vessel. He said that four affidavits to this effect had been submitted by the German embassy to the state department.

The character of these affidavits became known today when the department of justice was furnished with copies of the document for the purpose of investigation. The principal statement is by Gustav Stahl, 20 Leroy street, New York City. He asserts he saw guns mounted on the Lusitania.

Charge Denied by Malone.

Customs Collector Malone at the port of New York officially reported that the steamer carried no guns, mounted, unmounted, or masked, when it left New York on its fateful voyage.

When it became known last week that the German government would justify the sinking of the Lusitania on the ground that it was an armed vessel, the president summoned Mr. Malone from New York. The collector informed the president that there is not the slightest basis in fact for this charge. He said the Lusitania was carefully searched and inspected before sailing and that neither guns nor emplacements therefor were found.

Stand Taken by President.

The president made it clear in his discussion to the German ambassador that the status of the Lusitania and all other facts relating to submarine attacks upon merchant vessels are entitled to careful consideration in connection with the question of German responsibility and liability for reparation.

But the greatest anxiety of the United States, the president pointed out, pertains to the future conduct of Germany. It is imperative that the United States know whether the rights of the citizens conferred by international law are to be respected. If Germany does not intend to comply with the rules of warfare on commerce it is clear that the safety of Americans traveling on British liners will continue to be jeopardized and that American vessels will continue to be subjected to attack no matter how accidental and unintentional such attacks may be from the German point of view.

This question of preventing a repetition of these tragedies, the president impressed upon the ambassador, is a much greater one than the determination of responsibility and reparation for deeds that cannot be undone. Until the United States knows whether the guarantees of international law are to be respected by Germany, it will not know whether its citizens and its ships will be immune from harm in the subarine war zone.

BERLIN IS ANXIOUS.

BERLIN, June 2.—The officials of the government and the general public are waiting expectantly upon the American developments in the exchange of notes between Germany and the United States respecting the Lusitania.

One set of reports intimates that the German counter proposals have been found to harmonize with Mr. Bryan's plan of providing for a period of investigation in cases of international conflict, while other advices reproduce various American editorials declaring that the German note is unacceptable and demanding that steps of varying degrees of aggressiveness be taken.

While waiting, the time is being utilized by some of the more aggressive German newspapers and writers of the type of Reventlow to launch abusive articles against the United States and President Wilson's policy, but the press and public generally seem desirous of avoiding anything which might increase the tension between the two governments. In this they are acting in complete accord with the foreign office, which apparently is anxious to preserve friendly relations with the United States.

MAKE PEACE IN MEXICO OR WE WILL—WILSON

Statement of President on Change of Country's Policy Is Made Public.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—President Wilson today issued his ultimatum to the warring factions in Mexico.

The president told them that they must cease their strife; return to their constitutional form of government, and set up a government in Mexico City which the powers of the world can recognize and deal with.

If they do not do these things the president said the government of the United States "will be constrained to decide what means should be employed by the United States in order to help Mexico save itself and serve its people."

Points in Wilson Document.

President Wilson's statement on conditions in Mexico was largely a review of events within the last two years, combined with a promise of more definite action on the part of the United States if there is not immediate fusing of factions in Mexico. The president pointed out:

1. That for more than two years revolutionary conditions have existed.

2. That one government after another has been set up, only to be undermined by intrigue and rebellion.

3. That all the various leaders in Mexico now claim to be seeking the same end.

4. That they are apparently unable, or unwilling, to work together towards that end.

5. That as a result of their strife there is no protection for either the citizens of Mexico or the citizens of other countries within Mexico.

No More "Watchful Waiting."

6. That the United States cannot stand by and do nothing any longer.

7. That if the factions do not unite the United States will have to act as it sees fit, probably by lending its moral support to some man or some group of men for the purpose of setting up a strong government which can obtain and justify the recognition of the great powers.

8. That in whatever action it takes the United States will seek only the good of Mexico, as it wants nothing in Mexico for itself.

The President's Statement.

The president's statement is as follows:

"For more than two years revolutionary conditions have existed in Mexico. The purpose of the revolution was to rid Mexico of men who ignored the constitution of the republic and used their power in contempt of the right of its people, and with these purposes the people of the United States instinctively and generously sympathized.

"But the leaders of the revolution in the very hour of their success have disagreed and turned their arms against one another.

"All professing the same objects, they are, nevertheless, unable or unwilling to coöperate. A central authority at Mexico City is no sooner set up than it is undermined and its authority denied by those who were expected to support it.

Mexican Problem Still Problem.

"Mexico is apparently no nearer a solution of its tragical troubles than it was when the revolution was first kindled. And it has been swept by civil war as if by fire. Its crops are destroyed, its fields lie unseeded, its work cattle are confiscated for the use of the armed factions, its people flee to the mountains to escape being drawn into unavailing bloodshed, and no man seems to see or lead the way to peace and settled order.

"There is no proper protection either for its own citizens or for the citizens of other nations resident and at work within its territory. Mexico is starving and without a government.

Time for Action.

"In these circumstances the people and government of the United States cannot stand indifferently by and do nothing to serve their neighbors. They want nothing for themselves in Mexico. Least of all do they desire to settle its affairs for it, or claim any right to do so.

"But neither do they wish to see utter ruin come up it, and they deem it their duty as friends and neighbors to lend any aid they properly can to any instrumentality which promises to be effective in bringing about a settlement which will embody the real objects of the revolution—constitutional government and the rights of the people.

"Patriotic Mexicans are sick at heart and cry for peace and for every self-sacrifice that may be necessary to procure it. Their people cry out for food and will presently hate as much as they fear every man, in their country or out of it, who stands between them and their daily bread.

New Policy of U. S.

"It is time, therefore, that the government of the United States should frankly state the policy which in these extraordinary circumstances it becomes its duty to adopt.

"It must presently do what it has not hitherto done or felt at liberty to do—lend its active moral support to some man or group of men, if such may be found, who can rally the suffering people of Mexico to their support in an effort to ignore, if they cannot unite, the warring factions of the country, return to the constitution of the republic so long in abeyance, and set up a government at Mexico City which the great powers of the world can recognize and deal with, a government with which the program of the revolution will be a business and not merely a platform.

Calls on Leaders to Act.

"I, therefore, publicly and very solemnly, call upon the leaders of factions in Mexico to act, to act together, and to act promptly for the relief and redemption of their prostrate country.

"I feel it to be my duty to tell them that if they cannot accommodate their differences and unite for this great purpose within a very short time this government will be constrained to decide what means should be employed by the United States in order to help Mexico save itself and serve its people."

What President Would Like.

What the president would really prefer, according to his intimates, is that all leaders who have been active in the strife of the last two years should step aside and unite upon some man not connected with the military forces of the country for the presidency, each pledging and each giving him the support he would be entitled to as president of Mexico.

President Wilson contemplates immediate action for the relief of the starving citizens of Mexico who are not connected with the various armed forces. He conferred again tonight with Miss Mabel Boardman, director of the Red Cross, on the Mexican relief work.

Says Villa Appreciates Wilson.

After reading President Wilson's statement Enrique Llorente, head of the Villa agency here, said:

"Gen. Villa will certainly give the most serious, attentive and practical consideration to any friendly suggestion reaching him from President Wilson, whose unselfishness of purpose he well understands and fully appreciates."

Huerta Resents Moral Support.

New York, June 2.—Gen. Victoriano Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, after he had been shown President Wilson's note regarding the situation in Mexico today, through A. Z. Ratner, in whose offices at No. 61 Broadway he makes his headquarters, issued the following signed statement:

"As a foreigner, enjoying the hospitality of a foreign country, I should not criticize nor even discuss statements of the government or officers of the foreign country I live in. But I may say this:

"Any foreign country that is sincere and honest in its endeavor to help our nation would commit the biggest blunder by giving its moral support or assistance to any person or factions. Such actions, instead of bringing the results desired, would result in the opposite direction.

"The Mexican nation, as a whole, will never accept any such party, even if it would only be suspected that that party received any help from a foreign country.

"Our people will never stand for any government inspired by foreigners, no matter how humanitarian or noble the motives of such foreign nations appear to be."

Gen. Villa's representative in New York City, Francisco Urquidi, said he was much gratified by President Wilson's new policy towards Mexico.

Tells of Americans Slain.

Galveston, Tex., June 2.—[Special.]—That American citizens are being assassinated with impunity by Mexicans at Tampico and about the Panuco oil fields, is the statement which was made by Capt. Oscar Lane of the oil tanker Winnifred, which arrived here today.

Capt. Lane declared that all foreigners are expecting a general massacre of Americans by bandits, "who appear to have deserted the armies of Villa and Carranza for the purpose of wreaking vengeance on American citizens."

"I know of six American citizens who were assassinated during the last few days," declared Capt. Lane, "and I was told at Tampico that at least one dozen had met a similar fate."

Carranza Takes San Luis Potosi.

Brownsville, Tex., June 2.—The Carranza consulate here today announced that Carranza troops captured San Luis Potosi, capital of the state of that name, on Tuesday, killing three Villa generals and capturing one.

MEXICO WANTS RESCUE BY U. S., GIBBONS SAYS

ico who is the father of a metaphor on the Mexico situation that would be worth copyrighting. Not less than a month ago he said to me:

"The Mexicans are like a group of children who have been left alone in a house by those in authority. They are not bad children and several of them mean well, but still they are children. They have spoiled all the food in the pantry and they are likely to starve. In the meantime they are playing with matches and likely to burn down the house.

"If there is a grownup family living next door, what is the duty of that family? It is not their house that the children are in and they are not their children. But still there is a duty to humanity that demands that the grownups go into the house of the children and exercise some care over them, both for their sakes and the sake of those who wish to save the house from being burned down."

Nations Hold Like Opinion.

There is only one meaning to that metaphor and that is intervention, whether it be armed or benevolent. A similar opinion is held by most Americans and thinking Mexicans in the division of the north.

Here in El Paso and Juarez the Mexicans have shown resentment today toward President Wilson's new policy announced today. The day was marked by the hurried passage of more ammunition across the border.

Villa representatives declared their leader was still capable of taking care of the situation. Carranza officials declared their forces would soon eliminate the necessity of intervention.

Return Just in Time.

I returned to El Paso and the United States early today in company with five other Americans.

"Mighty glad to see you back," was the greeting the United States customs official gave when we hurried by automobile and carriage from the Juarez depot to the international line.

"Why?" inquired one as he opened his suitcases for inspection and laid the contents on the concrete abutment of the bridge that spans the Rio Grande.

"Pick up the first extra that you see on the street and you'll see," he said.

"You are back just in time. President Wilson has given out his last note, and there is something doing this time."

The extra editions of the El Paso newspapers completed the story. Not one of the American travelers who had availed themselves of the "hunch," intuition, or tip to return—call it what you may—but who felt thankful for his safe arrival.

The "gringo" hate had not been aroused yet when we left the interior of the turbulent republic, but no one questions the fact that it is there, waiting only the flame of denouncement that is necessary to make it spread like a prairie fire.

It is good to know that almost all of the American citizens remaining in the north of Mexico have long since sent their women and children to the border on the advice of various United States consuls.

Mexico in Claws of Famine.

Mexico is starving. Its fields are bare. Its towns are full of women and children who are living on what nourishment they can chew from roots and natural weed growths. The country is in the first stages of famine.

Here is an incident: When our train reached the station of La Colorado in the province of Zacatecas yesterday morning it was found that the town was even without water. The water tank by the side of the railroad had long since been reduced to ashes by revolutionary bands too numerous to mention. Since then the town had been existing on water that had been pumped from an artesian well by a mining company. But there was no more coal to run the pumps.

People Mob Water Tank Car.

With pots and cans of every description the populace of La Colorado mobbed the water tank car behind the locomotive. They climbed up on both sides, and regardless of the remonstrance of the engineer, eager to carry his train to the next tank, they dipped out the water from the tank. They fought for it.

One man seeking a position at the mouth of the tank drew a stiletto and started to cut his way through the throng that clung to the top rails. A Villista colonel, bound north on an official assignment, was riding with me in THE TRIBUNE box car, which was next to the tank car.

With pointed revolver he made the holder of the dagger turn over his weapon. He bent the cheap instrument under his heel and turned it over to me for a paper cutter.

Similar Scenes Elsewhere.

At other stations through the states of Coahuila and Durango and Chihuahua, where the country is of a sandy and desertlike nature, similar scenes were encountered. Only at the large towns was the engine able to obtain water.

Meat is selling at $1.50 a pound in Aguascalientes. One piece of bread costs 20 cents. A tortilla with a handful of boiled beans on it costs 30 cents. A meal on the Pullman car costs anywhere from $30 to $60. The menu quotes a cup of coffee at $3.75.

Scene of Heavy Fighting in France.

The map shown above gives in detail the localities near which the greatest battles on the western front have been in progress for the last few weeks. The vicinity of Albain and other nearby villages was the scene of desperate struggles by which the French gained possession of several positions of extreme strategic value after hand to hand fighting with the bayonet.

In the recent fighting in the region around Carency, according to the French official account, the allies have taken 3,100 prisoners and buried the bodies of 2,600 German dead. The allied casualties in killed, wounded or missing is given as 3,200, two-thirds of whom are said to have been slightly wounded.

TERRIFIC FIGHTS RESULT IN GAINS FOR THE ALLIES

Paris Statement Says British Have Advanced in Belgium by Use of Bayonets.

PARIS, June 2.—Continued gains by the allies on the western front are described in an official statement issued by the war ministry tonight.

"In Belgium," it says, "the British troops have carried at the point of the bayonet the Chateau Hooge near Zonnebeke.

"To the southwest of Neuville St. Vaast, the Germans have delivered a counter attack in the 'labyrinth'; we have repulsed them and have made new progress, taking some prisoners.

"It is interesting to note that between May 9 and June 1 the French division which took Carency, Ablain-St. Nazaire, the Malon mill and the sugar refinery at Souchez, have made 3,100 prisoners, of whom sixty-four are officers, and buried the bodies of 2,600 Germans, and have themselves lost in killed, wounded, or missing 3,200 men, of which total two-thirds are slightly wounded."

Statement from Berlin.

BERLIN, June 2.—The war office gave out the following statement today:

"The sugar refinery east of Souchez, into which the French penetrated yesterday afternoon, has been recaptured. An attack begun by the French against our positions at and south of Neuville was repulsed. Only a small section of a trench on the other side of the high road from Neuville to Ecurie was occupied by the enemy."

GERMAN GIBES AT AMERICAN

New York, June 2.—Dr. Clarence H. Neymann of Chicago, who arrived in New York today on the Italian liner Duca Degli Abruzzi, said he was practically driven from Germany by anti-American insults. Neymann has been with the German Red Cross.

MORE MINES GIRD BRITAIN.

Admiralty Order Indicates Fear Submarines May Enter Busiest Shipping Waterways.

LONDON, June 2.—Admiralty orders issued today restricting the courses to be followed by merchant shipping in entering the Thames and the Firth of Clyde indicate these waters have been extensively mined. The assumption is this action was taken to meet the tightening cordon of German submarines, some of waterways.

BERLIN EXPECTS TO DRIVE ENEMY OUT OF GALICIA

Capture of More than 300,000 Russians in May Claimed in Official Statement.

BERLIN, June 2.—Official statements issued by the general army headquarters tonight indicate that the capture of Stry and the storming of three of the strongest forts near Przemysl will result in early expulsion of all the Russian forces from Galicia.

"In the month of May," one official statement says, "863 officers and 268,869 men were taken prisoners in the southeastern theater of the war, while 251 cannon and 576 machine guns were captured. Of these numbers the capturing of 400 officers, including two generals; 153,254 men, 160 cannon, including twenty-eight heavy ones, and 403 machine guns is to the credit of the troops under Gen. Mackensen. Including prisoners taken in the eastern theater of war, as well as those announced yesterday, the total number of Russians who have fallen into the hands of the Germanic allied troops during the month of May amount to about 1,000 officers and more than 300,000 men.

Advancing on Medenice.

"Further Russian entrenchments situated around Dunkowiczki (near Przemysl) wer taken by storm yesterday. After the victory at Stry the allied troops advanced yesterday in the direction of Medenice.

"Successful engagements occurred against minor Russian divisions at Neu hausen, fifty kilometers (about thirty miles) northeast of Libau, and at Shidiki, sixty-nine kilometers (about forty miles) southeast of Libau. The same thing happened further south in the district of Shavli, and on the Dubyso, southeast of Kielmy and between Ugiamy and Ejargola. At Shavli we took 500 prisoners."

Tells of Hard Fighting.

Some of the difficulties encountered by the Austro-German forces in capturing Stry are described by correspondents.

At Lisowice the Russians had entrenched themselves strongly and their trenches were protected by barbed wire entanglements.

The Russians fired Lisowice and other villages in the vicinity when the attacking troops approached. Among the blazing houses a night battle with bayonets and clubs took place.

German military authorities assert that this victory is of large strategic importance. The broad plain north of Stry does not afford effective opportunities for defensive operations, so that the Russians are expected to retreat to the Dniester line at Rozwadow, where they probably will make a stand in the swampland. Should they be again forced back the only other opportunity of making a defense before Lemberg would be in the lake district south of that city.

Great Battle Continues.

LONDON, June 2.—The battle for Przemsyl continues with unabated fury Both sides have poured reinforcements into the field, and with attacks and counter attacks the losses in men and material are piling up to an unprecedented extent.

The German and Austrian reports claim that some of the forts on the northern front have fallen and that on the southeastern front their troops are progressing toward the railway that joins the fortress with Lemberg. But the latest Petrograd communication says that the Germans who got into one fort were driven out and makes no mention of the capture of Stry or of other successes claimed by the Teutonic allies.

The Germans are making another effort to break through the Bzura lines toward Warsaw, but whether this is a serious attempt to capture the Polish capital or only a diversion to prevent the Russians from sending more reinforcements into Galicia is not disclosed.

ROUMANIA AND BULGARIA READY TO JOIN IN WAR.

Two Nations Have Reached Agreement and Will Start Fighting Simultaneously.

PARIS, June 2.—Bulgaria and Roumania have arrived at a complete understanding, according to a Bucharest dispatch to the Petit Parisien. Roumania having agreed to cede territory in Dobruidja. The two countries will enter the war simultaneously, the dispatches say, Roumania against Austria and Bulgaria against Turkey.

KAISER CUP TO BROOKLYN.

THE GREAT DECISION.

A letter from Robert Herrick giving Mr. Herrick's view of the supreme influences—including the sinking of the Lusitania—that were pushing that nation into the vast conflict.

Announcement.

Prof. Herrick, who is in Italy, wrote the following article a week before that nation entered the war. In the letter he gives his views and opinions of the influences that were animating the Italian people—their attitude toward the warring countries—on the eve of the Rome declaration of war. Further letters from Mr. Herrick will appear in both the Daily and Sunday "Tribune."

BY ROBERT HERRICK.

ROME, May 16.—If Germany really desired to keep peace with Italy, not to have another enemy on her back in the present crisis with a million and a half fresh troops, she surely has shown a strange lack of tact in sinking the Lusitania just at this moment, when Italy is in the throes of her great decision.

ROBERT HERRICK

Probably the Germans calculated that this display of destructive ingenuity must convince a hesitating Italy that she had better refrain from provoking such a diabolic antagonist and content herself with the odds and ends of Austrian territory that the kaiser through Prince Buelow is offering to take from Austria's pocket and throw to the ex-ally.

It was certainly for this same political effect on Italy that Germany and Austria put forth latterly prodigious efforts to push back the allies at the same time on the east and the west. These successes, however real, have had little or no effect on Italy. Her deliberations apparently have pursued their course towards an imminent rupture with her former allies But the Lusitania affair had an instantaneous effect upon public opinion; it touched the smouldering passions of Italy and made them flame.

War Cause Made Popular Among Italian People.

If the government desired the war—which is doubtful—this fresh proof of German policy has made it extremely easy for them to make the war popular, which before it was certainly not, among the mass of the people. There has been a growing tension, a curious suspense for days and weeks, a feeling of fatality, mysterious and inexplicable, that was carrying the country into war, but not until the news of the last deed of the Germans was there any expressed enthusiasm for the fatal event.

But now an extraordinary change has come into the tense situation. Before there were many opinions, though a general sense of inevitability; no enthusiasm for the war, but now there is practically but one opinion.

The servants, the shopkeepers, the writers, the country people—all the little atoms that create in their totality what we call "the public"—are now outspoken for intervention. At last the idea of war has become popular—and that is what the final demonstration of German policy has done in Italy.

If the war had to be—which may quite possibly result in the sacrifice of this wonderful country, for there is no denying its danger with a furious foe like Germany who will not hesitate to violate the neutrality of Switzerland as she did that of Belgium with the same excuse—one is glad that it should come with this passionate abhorrence in the hearts of the people rather than from a failure to extract diplomatically concessions of territory from Austria.

The Italians themselves are relieved to feel themselves on this higher ground, though it is easy enough for the protected outsider to underrate the real dangers to Italy in her present indefensible frontiers. She is exposed not only to her hereditary foe in the Trentino and in Istria, but to whatever power emerges from the present maelstrom in control of the Dalmatian coast. And frontiers mean something in Europe that Americans can hardly understand.

But all these months of chaffering for the "national aspirations," the long drawn out bargaining with her old ally for Trieste and Fiume and the Dalmatian islands could not escape an aspect of sordidness that must have galled the prouder and finer among her people. The "national aspirations" could not well be dressed up into a sufficient cause for a popular war. It was not heroic. The people were lukewarm, at the best fatalistically convinced of the necessity.

Claims as Set Forth in Official Statements.

Without doubt, should Italy intervene she will present to the world her diplomatic brief in a purple or red or two-colored book, and she will detail in it with more or less accuracy and minuteness the steps of the diplomatic discussion with Austria and Germany during the last eight months. There will be found in it much concerning the claims of these "national aspirations," much about Italy's natural frontiers, and the rights of Italy to realize at this auspicious moment her long dream of complete nationality, and so on. All of which means in few words territorial concessions wrung from her recent ally, her ancient foe, in the latter's extremity.

The Italian book, whatever its color may be, will not satisfy those neutral idealists who would believe that great nations should have some better ground for making war on each other than a greed—or "necessity"—for territory. The basis for all this somewhat sophisticated and sordid diplomacy may be studied in "The Rights of Italy to Trieste and Istria," in which the story of the irredentist dream is set forth at length with the positions of Cavour, Mazzini and Bismarck among other statesmen of the last century on this historical question.

I will not anticipate the official apology and justification by a discussion of the contents of this interesting volume. It is a technical as well as sentimental matter, much involved and full of diplomatic and political angles. Whatever its merits may be as a basis for negotiations, it does not completely represent the attitude of the people in regard to Italy's intervention in the war.

Enthusiasm of People Has a Deeper Basis.

The right to Trieste and Istria and the Dalmation coast is not what the tanned and boyish conscripts are thinking of as they leave their families and friends at the railroad stations all over Italy and begin the journey to the north. It is not that which made the young soldier at Subiaco yesterday lean from the window of the departing train and shout with all the strength of his spirit, "Viva Italia!" Nor what the children and women and old men in the fields were thinking as they waved their caps in reply. It was not because their soldiers were setting forth on a predatory excursion after Austrian lands. Thank God, the little people who fight the wars are not moved by these fine diplomatic considerations that form the basis of "negotiations."

It was an emotion more profound, more obscure, more noble, that moved those mountain folk at Subiaco, an emotion that has made Italy restless under her necessary restraint of neutrality these last nine months, that is turning her today towards a bloody and costly war, perhaps towards national humiliation.

It would be difficult to resolve this popular emotion into all its real elements. In it is a sense of nationality—of pride and glory in a country loved as few countries have been loved by their children; also a very real sense of an abiding danger in their position in Europe.

But above all there is in it a feeling of kinship with the allied powers, which made it absolutely impossible for this nation to live up to the terms of its false alliance with Austria and Germany when the crisis came last August—an alliance with secret conditions which was foisted on the country by its government for political reasons and has never represented the real desires of the people.

King Could Not Continue Pretense of Neutrality.

The kaiser may well storm at the treachery of Italy in disregarding this particular scrap of paper. No alliance of a purely political character entered into secretly by diplomats will ever stand the test of modern democratic societies. The king of Italy and his government, no matter how much they may have desired to perform their treaty obligations with Austria and Germany last summer, knew that they would do so at the cost of an internal revolution.

So today they may realize that it will be impossible finally to hold the country in the bonds of a shallow neutrality. As these fatal days of final decision slip past one by one, it is more and more evident that at all cost the people want intervention.

It is not of any racial kinship with the French—there is none with the English and the Russians—that stirs the Italian. France, the Latin cousin, has never done anything for Italy that she need remember. It is rather a spiritual kinship with the cause of the allies that draws Italy to them closer and closer as the months pass and all the significance of the conflict is exposed before the world.

It is this conviction, greatly crystalized into passion by the most recent proofs of the German spirit, that now make Italians desire what for anxious months they have shrunk from. And in this underlying consciousness of national necessity one must sympathize with Italy in its crisis, however much one might wish that for her immediate safety the risk could be avoided. The risk for Italy is perhaps greater than even for France—the risk of isolation, of loss, of possible annihilation. She has raised herself from the dust among modern nations with a magnificent spirit, with tremendous sacrifices and poverty, and was beginning to enjoy a dawn of prosperity when this cosmic whirlwind struck.

Even with success to her arms, with appreciable territorial gains and the satisfaction of those ancient aspirations, nevertheless Italy must stagger for years under the financial burden already incurred. And there is that other clear possibility that Germany will catch her in the back, while Austria keeps the front, by marching through Switzerland and sweeping into the Lombard plain. The Austrian in Venice and in Milan again!—and the German also! That would indeed be a bitter day for the Italians.

As I drove along the Anio the other day and saw the scars of the recent earthquake, the tottering buildings, and also the floods that this spring have done so much damage in the fertile river bottoms, which contain most of the cultivable land; as I saw the forlorn old men and boys and girls hacking at the soil with the awkward tools the Italians use, and realized how completely drained of its active manhood already under arms the country was, I could think only of the ancient fable of those armed creatures who sprang from the sowing of the dragon's teeth. That sowing of dragon's teeth is still actively progressing here in Europe after nearly two thousand years of a nominal Christianity; its fatal crop is still being harvested in the blood soaked fields of Europe with the groans of men and the tears of women, the pitiful cries of little children. Is it any wonder that the diplomatic discussions continue at the Consulta, that the government hesitates to give its last word to the German and the Austrian ambassadors, that even in these last fatal hours of the great decision those responsible are seeking a way by which to escape the bloody sacrifice?

But whatever the record may show on the surface, it is not the greed of territory, her "rights to Trieste and Istria" that will lead Italy down the steep precipice into the war—although doubtless the diplomatic mind will think so!

KITCHENER TOPS NEW HONOR LIST OF KING GEORGE

Diplomats and Military Men Are Named in Long Roll of Decorations.

LONDON, June 2.—The list of honors conferred on the occasion of the king's birthday, which was issued this evening, was, as had been expected in view of the war, an unusually long one.

The list is headed by the names of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, secretary of state for war, who received the knighthood of the Garter, and Sir Francis Bertie, ambassador to France, and Sir Kenneth Muir Mackenzie, clerk of the crown. The two latter are the only old servants of the crown, and are made barons.

Military Men Decorated.

Following these names is a long list of officers of the army and navy who receive promotion in or appointment to the Order of the Bath, chiefly for services in connection with the organization of various departments.

It is mentioned that a further list is forthcoming. This probably will include men serving in the field.

Half a dozen members of the house of commons, both Liberal and Unionist, are appointed privy councillors. Sir Gilbert Parker, the novelist, and Sir Henry Norman, Liberal member, receive baronetcies.

Nobel Winner Honored.

Rabindanrath Tagore, the Indian poet, who won the Nobel prize, was knighted.

Sir John Newell Jordan, minister to China, is appointed a privy councilor; Rt. Hon. Sir James Rennell Rodd, ambassador to Italy, is given the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George; Charles Louis des Graz, minister to Serbia, and Francis William Stronge, minister to Chile, are made knight commanders of St. Michael and St. George.

Lieut. Col. the Hon. John Stratearn Hendrie, lieutenant governor of Ontario; Dr. William Peterson, principal of McGill university, Montreal; the Very Rev. Daniel Miner Gordon, principal of Queens University, Kingston, Ont., are made knights of the order of St. Michael and St. George.

M'ADOO DENIES REPORTS CONCERNING HIS DAUGHTER

Says She Did Not Leave French Hospital Service to Avoid Scrubbing Floors.

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo became incensed today at cable reports from Europe that his daughter, Miss Nona McAdoo, has given up her work as a nurse in the American ambulance hospital at Paris because of her dislike for scrubbing floors.

According to dispatches, Miss McAdoo was given little nursing but a great deal of scrubbing. Accompanied by Miss Katherine Britton of Washington, she went over to nurse.

"This untrue statement," said Mr. McAdoo, "does these young ladies a cruel injustice. My daughter gives up her work and returns to America with great reluctance and only because I feel that she is not equal to the mental and physical strain which nursing entails."

New England Westinghouse Company Completes Deals—First Order 1,000,000 Rifles for Russia.

Springfield, Mass., June 2.—The New England Westinghouse company today completed transactions for the purchase of the business and plant of the J. Stevens Arms and Tool company in Chicopee Falls and the plants of the Stevens Duryea Automobile company in Chicopee Falls and East Springfield.

About $1,000,000 was paid for each.

The plants will be operated by the recently incorporated New England Westinghouse company for the manufacture of war munitions, the first order being for 1,000,000 military rifles for the Russian government.

TURKS REVOLT; KILL GERMANS

Gallipoli Uprising Put Down and Forty-three Plotters Are Executed.

MOSLEMS LOSE GROUND.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ATHENS, June 2.—A number of Turkish troops on Gallipoli peninsula have revolted, having been egged on by Turkish officers, according to reports received here. Many German officers and subofficers were killed.

Other troops were called up to quell the uprising and they captured forty-three revolutionary Turkish officers. These were sent to Constantinople, where they were courtmartialed and condemned to death. The sentence was immediately carried out.

The Turks have suffered heavy losses in the recent fighting at the Dardanelles. A great number of wounded have been taken to Aivali, a Greek town, in Asia Minor, and have been installed in the houses of the Greeks, the hospitals being overcrowded.

Allies Claim an Advance.

CAIRO, June 2.—The following official communication concerning the allies' operations against the Dardanelles was made public today:

"During the first of June close hand to hand fighting occurred on our northern front. At the northern section of our position two saps of the enemy were rushed by our men with the intention of filling them in, but a heavy bombing checked the work and one party had to fall back. The other party still holds on to its position between our firing line and that of the enemy.

Heavy Artillery Fighting.

"This action necessitated heavy artillery support, to which the enemy replied vigorously, regardless of expense. Throughout the fighting the enemy again lost heavily.

"On the southern sector the Turks made repeated attacks during the night of June 1 and 2 against the French right, and twice reoccupied a fort captured on May 29. On both occasions the enemy was driven out and the new French front remains intact."

SAFE CONDUCT TO DERNBURG

Washington, D. C., June 2.—The British, French, and Russian embassies here have assured the state department they will give safe conduct to Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former colonial secretary of Germany, when he leaves the United States. It has been known that Dr. Dernburg is about to leave the country, and it is reported he will go to Norway some time this month.

STERLING MOUNTED SHEFFIELD PLATE

In the Sheffield plate of the eighteenth century, copper and silver plates were rolled together, by a tedious process which to-day would make it more costly than solid silver. Modern Sheffield plate, of which the pattern shown here is a splendid example, has a base of nickel silver, but retains the chief characteristic of the original Sheffield, the sterling silver border mountings giving it a wearing quality which places it beyond the question of How long will it last?" and upon the same plane of service as sterling silver.

CHICAGO SINGER HELD SPY'S AID

Isabelle Wade Taken in Milan as Bavarian Officer's Accomplice.

MILAN, Italy, June 2.—Isabelle Wade, 37 years old, a singer of Chicago, was arrested here today on the charge of being an accomplice of a Bavarian officer who is accused of espionage.

A few days ago the police arrested this officer, named Martin Schehammer, on suspicion. He had made several visits to the provinces of Brescia and Verona in the war zone.

Lived in Italian Towns.

It was learned that Schenammer had lived in several Italian towns, Milan and Rome included, and had many addresses His close acquaintance with Isabelle Wade was discovered and the police found the woman living in an apartment here under the name of Margherita Martello.

Search of her apartment revealed a large package of correspondence in cipher, military maps of important strategic value in the provinces of Alessandria, Udine, Verona, and Bassano. These were contained in a large valise, in which also were field glasses and a revolver.

Dealt with Berlin Police.

From another package of German correspondence it would appear that Isabelle Wade had had dealings with the police of Berlin.

The woman at first maintained that she was Margherita Martello and had found the valise in the street, but after spending a short time in prison she admitted her real identity. Miss Wade declared Schehammer had placed the valise in her hands, saying he was shadowed by the police and feared he would be arrested.

TREACHERY OF SKIPPER BLAMED FOR ARMS COUP.

Swedish Ship Bearing Rifles to Bulgaria Believed Betrayed Into Hands of the Germans.

LONDON, June 2—The Daily Chronicle's Copenhagen correspondent reports that instead of a seizure, the Swedish steamship Pan and its cargo of automatic rifles consigned to the Bulgarians through treachery was turned over to the Germans, who procured thereby a large consignment of weapons. At first it was reported that the Pan, which had sailed for Dedeagatch, in the Ægean sea, had left Falstebro on the express declaration of the Bulgarian representative at that port that the rifles were for the Bulgarians alone. Then came word that the ship had been seized by a German destroyer and taken to Stettin. The Swedish government immediately directed its representative at Berlin to ask for an explanation.

Now comes the captain of the Swedish steamship Minna, who declares he saw the Pan discharging its cargo to German torpedo boats on May 29, with no signs of capture or seizure.

The report has created great excitement in Scandianavian countries. It is believed the captain treacherously handed the cargo over.

INDICT SHAVERS FOR GIRL MURDER AND ABORTION

Grand Jurors Also Name Harvey, Who Is Denied Immunity by Hoyne.

True bills charging murder and abortion and conspiracy to commit abortion were returned by the grand jury yesterday against Dr. Eva S. Shaver, her son, Clarence W. Shaver, and their roomer and janitor, Willis C. Harvey, for the death of Anna Johnson at the Shaver residence at 1120 Sedgwick street, a week ago.

State's Attorney Hoyne fixed the bail at $5,000 for each prisoner in the abortion case. The court will fix the amount, if it is decided to grant them liberty pending trial, in the murder case when Attorney Irwin R. Hazen submits the testimony for review and makes formal application for their freedom. Mr. Hazen said he would take such action today.

Hostetler Goes Free.

Marshall Hostetler, the slain woman's sweetheart, who made the arrangements for her abortion and personally escorted her to the Shaver "hospital" and then made a "clean breast" after her death, was practically set free. He told his story to the grand jury reviewing the case so far as his knowledge extends.

Hostetler and the girl had been sweethearts for eighteen months and became engaged about a year ago. He was anxious for an immediate marriage, but she insisted on waiting until she had a complete trousseau. After she started on her motherhood, Hostetler swore at the coroner's inquest, he again proposed immediate marriage, but she feared people would say "she had to get married."

It worried Hostetler. One night, as he was proceeding homeward on an elevated train, he met an old friend—a young man with whom he worked in a mail order house several years ago. That young man was an eager listener. He was Clarence W. Shaver. He was just beginning to introduce to the public some highly touted "abortion pills." His name appeared on the box as distributor, and the balance of the printed matter indicated they were the composition of his mother.

Taken "Up to Mother's."

Hostetler visited Shaver at his office in the First National Bank building and procured two boxes of pills for $3. They failed to work. Hostetler was advised to purchase two more, but he was skeptical and accepted them on condition that he would not pay if they didn't produce the desired result. They failed, and then Hostetler accepted an invitation of Shaver to "take the girl up to mother's."

After being there a day or so young Shaver took Hostetler on an automobile drive, leaving the girl, Dr. Shaver and Rose Gevengo, an Italian patient, in the basement of the house. Upon Hostetler's return the girl said: "It's all over."

On Tuesday night of last week Hostetler visited his sweetheart and she gave him a few more details of the "treatment." She appeared to be convalescing nicely on Wednesday noon when he phoned her. Hostetler phoned again about 5:30, when Harvey answered:

"Come over quick! She is dead!"

She had been shot through the right temple. Two bullets had gone wild, one in a bureau and another in a door.

Hostetler hastened to the house and was met by Clarence Shaver. Soon Mrs. Shaver and Harvey joined them. All agreed it was suicide. Hostetler was advised to flee to Canada. He acquiesced and then changed his mind. He went back to his own rooming house, wrote a suicide note, and then changed his mind again and spent the night with young Shaver in a north side hotel after failure of a plan to have him spend a week in a hospital, so he would be "under cover," as he stated it.

At midnight, six hours after the fatal bullet was fired, Mrs. Shaver employed Edward Shute, an undertaker, to get the body and prepare it for burial. Shute got the body, but notified the police. Dr. Shaver and her son were questioned by Lieut. White and released, the lieutenant considering it a plain case of suicide.

What the Detectives Find.

Lieut. White thought so little of the case that a uniformed officer attached to the patrol wagon was sent to investigate. The lieutenant discredited the wagon man's report that although the bullet entered from the right side the weapon was clutched in the left hand of the dead girl. Then some "regular detectives" were sent to check up on the "copper," and when they reported to Lieut. William Murphy the police decided he had a case after all.

With Hostetler supposed to be in the lake, it seemed easy for Mrs. Shaver, her son, and Harvey to prove up a suicide case. But Hostetler showed up at the inquest, and at the sight of the dead girl blubbered, "O, my sweetheart! I'll tell all!"

Hostetler was the principal witness before the grand jury. Harvey was willing to testify, but State's Attorney Hoyne didn't care to grant him immunity. Other witnesses were the same who appeared before the coroner's jury. Police officers testified Dr. Shaver admitted making no attempt to see if she could aid the injured girl or if life was extinct.

Perrona Case Accident?

A partial inquest was held in the case of Mrs. Lena Perrona, the abortion victim who died at the Columbus Memorial hospital on Tuesday. Deputy Coroner George W. Webster, who is conducting the investigation, said he believed the abortion was accidental, but decided to give the police further opportunity to procure evidence. He set Saturday to complete the case.

Letters to "Tribune" Expose Abortion Crimes.

THE "crime of abortion" in Chicago seems to be a regular flourishing business. Several days ago "The Tribune" requested its readers to send in any information they might have concerning abortionists. Hundreds of letters have been received with the request that the names of the informants be withheld. "The Tribune" herewith publishes a number of letters.

The Political Case.

QUACK DEPT. TRIBUNE.—In regard to the Shaver-Johnson case now before you. What is or has been the mysterious political ward influence that for years has protected the notorious abortion and lying-in hospital and assignation house combined and known as the L— hotel, —— avenue and North —— street, and made to all appearances that well known abortionist Dr. W— (also of the B— hotel) and the landlady and her man stronger than coroner, chief of police or mayor?

Is this more of the Q— or O'— type of influence?

Case of the Tamperer.

TRIBUNE QUACK DEPT.: You are doing a splendid work if you expose the abortion doctors and quacks. I want to help by calling attention to an "abortion parlor" run by a supposedly reputable physician, a Dr. R——, at —— North —— street. This man lives here, has a few beds for hospital purposes, and caters to the trade of young girls brought there by wealthy men. Not satisfied with this, he often tells a young woman that she is on the way to become a mother, tampers with her to make her believe she is to be freed from motherhood, gets her into a weak condition, and then satisfies his greed for gold by telling her an operation is necessary, when nothing at all was the matter with her from the first.

I have a friend who was preyed upon this way by him, and when she became suspicious that he was lying to her, called her family doctor, who told her nothing was wrong with her—the quack was only tampering with her. This fellow will go the limit. Sincerely,

ONE OF HIS NEAR VICTIMS.

When the Quack Failed.

TRIBUNE QUACK DEPT.—The following information no doubt will interest you. My wife called on Dr. L— H— of —— —— avenue for advice and to find out if everything was O. K. in every respect before giving birth to baby. She had been in the office but a short time before she (Dr. H—) recommended an abortion, as my wife was strong and the last few months are the hardest. She said her charge wouldn't be but $75 and it would save pain and trouble in after months.

All this surprised the wife and disgusted her, as she had never had any such a thought ever enter her mind. This doctor stated that she had just performed an abortion on a woman who had been in a delicate condition seven months. She said that many doctors sent all their cases of this kind to her. The strange part of it is that she seems to specialize in such practices and took for granted that my wife came to her for no other purpose.

All this happened a few months ago and since then the wife has given birth to the prettiest baby girl you ever saw. I am giving you this information so you may know just who the abortionists are.

I have no desire to get mixed up in anything, so keep my name confidential. There is no doubt in my mind that this woman is in the same class with Dr. Shaver. Wishing you success in exposing all quacks, I remain, yours very truly. N.

The Young Girl from Norway.

TRIBUNE QUACK DEPT.:—I read of your campaign against abortionists and I want to help a little in this good work. There are two people in Logan Square that are much interested in the business and work together. They are Dr. P— at M— and F—, and Mr. and Mrs. L— at —— North F— avenue. Most of their business comes from abortion cases. Dr. —— hardly does anything else.

Mrs. L— poses as a midwife and has grown rich off of this kind of business. She will take any girl in—keep her for a week or as long as she is recommended by another patient. She will not perform an operation with any one in the room besides the patient. She has young girls coming to her all the time, and I think it is time she was stopped in this criminal work. She lost one case that I have personal knowledge of, and it was a young girl from Norway.

Yours truly,

"Wholesale Slaughter."

TRIBUNE QUACK DEPARTMENT—If you desire information in regard to abortionists I would advise a canvas among the "lady" physicians and midwives of the west side in the Bohemian settlement. There are two women on the west side who make a practice of performing abortions that I know of positively. There probably are many more. The name of one woman is Dr. N—. The other woman is unknown to me by name, but I hope to learn her identity. I for one would like to see a stop put to this wholesale slaughter of unborn babies.

TRIBUNE READER.

"He's a Bad Pill."

TRIBUNE QUACK DEPT.: You might inquire of Dr. —— —— of —— West Madison street, what became of a woman that he operated on last winter in a house at the corner of —— boulevard and L— street. He might tell you of lots of things in the abortion line. He's a bad pill in that business.

Yours truly,

The Story of the Sweetheart.

TRIBUNE QUACK DEPARTMENT—When I was 18 years old I had to have an operation performed. First my former sweetheart, P— D—, got some medicine for me. The first bottle failed, so he got a second bottle. It failed also. There was a lapse of about two weeks, and one night while we were out walking I took sick suddenly and he had to carry me home and take me upstairs in his arms.

Then he went out and got a colored doctor. The medicine had made me deathly sick by this time. He made arrangements with this doctor, who lives on Walnut street, between H— and R— streets, to do something for me the next day. He said he would not have to operate. I was afraid of him and all the time I begged this man to marry me as he had faithfully promised to do.

But the next day he took me to Dr. W— on H— and T— street. This doctor examined me and said that he could refer me to another doctor that would help me out. This other doctor was Dr. N—, with office at T— and A—. I called at his office and he asked me for $35, so I went back to my sweetheart, P— D—, and told him. Well, he gave me his watch and told me to pawn it. I took it to the First State and pawned it, but all they gave me was $30. Then I went back to the doctor and had to beg him to abort me for that much money. He said that he had only asked me $35 because I was a poor girl, because as a rule he charged $50.

The next day I had to call at his residence at 9 a. m. He introduced me to a woman and told me she was his wife. Well, then they chloroformed me and then operated on me. They sent me home that night. I could explain more if it were verbal instead of written.

All that I am living for is to see the day that they will do justice to men that believe in doing wrong to young girls. If every girl feels as I do about it there is no wonder so many of us sink to the depths of hell in a short while.

Is This Quack Immune?

CHICAGO TRIBUNE—Dr. — of — Lincoln avenue is an abortionist. He operates on an average of ten women a week. This man has been reported to the police several times in the last few years, but continues his work just the same. Please investigate this terrible condition. SUBSCRIBER.

DEMOCRATS PUT OFF REPORT ON VOTE MACHINES

Plead That Final Action Might Have Effect on Chicago Judicial Election.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—Democratic members of the Butts commission, investigating the million dollar voting machine deal, succeeded in staving off final action on the committee report until next Thursday. Their plea was that it might have some effect upon Monday's judicial election in Chicago were the report to be presented to the legislature this week.

However, six Republican members, including Representative Jayne, who was named as a Progressive originally, signed the report, the conclusions and recommendations of which were published this morning.

Willing to Sign.

The seventh Republican, Congressman E. J. King of Galesburg, who was a state representative two years ago, signified his willingness to sign. He was unable to be in Springfield today and Chairman Butts will confer with him in Galesburg.

The six Democrats will have the opportunity, early next week, of signing, if they care to do so, and the agreement made tonight was that the full committee should meet next Thursday in Springfield for final action.

Change in Recommendations.

One slight change was made in the recommendations tonight, so far as the Republican members were concerned. The last draft recommends that the voting machine law be repealed "or amended," the latter provision having been made on the ground that recommendation of flat repeal might be taken as an unnecessary reflection upon the members of the legislature who passed the original voting machine act.

Democratic members remained away from tonight's conference.

PRIMARIES FOR SEPTEMBER DECIDED ON BY CAUCUS.

Joint Meeting of G. O. P. Legislators Fixes Date for State, County, and Other Nominations.

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—State, congressional, legislative, and county primary nominations will be made in September, 1916, as was forecast in THE TRIBUNE two weeks ago.

The Republican joint caucus tonight by a 2 to 1 vote turned down the proposition to have the primaries in the spring and the September date was ordered into the omnibus election bills, which now will be pushed to passage. Practically the solid Republican membership of the two houses attended the joint caucus.

The presidential primaries, too, it was agreed, will be held the first Tuesday in April, coincident with the township elections downstate and the municipal election in Chicago.

There is some talk of an effort to hold the state primaries the last week in June, but this is strenuously opposed. There is every probability the September date, as the law now stands, will be retained.

DISORDERLY HOUSE BILL ADVANCED AFTER A FIGHT.

Injunction Measure of Committee of Fifteen Goes to Third Reading in House at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—Practically unchanged, the injunction and abatement bill directed by the committee of fifteen against disreputable houses went to third reading in the house this afternoon.

The hardest kind of a fight was made against the bill, led by Representative Lee O'Neil Browne. Mr. Browne's final attack was a proposed amendment which would have submitted the act to a referendum vote by municipalities before it could become effective. This amendment was defeated, as was every other one proposed.

The bill provides that any citizen may file injunction proceedings in the chancery courts directed against property alleged to be used for immoral purposes and that such disorderly house may be abated by court order if the prayer of the petitioner is upheld.

$5,000,000 WIN FOR EDUCATION

State University Gets Right in Lower House to Buy Land.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—President James and the organized alumni of the University of Illinois won a decisive victory in the house tonight in behalf of the medical school of the university in Chicago, formerly the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

A determined minority sought to prevent the use of any portion of the $5,000,000 appropriated to the university for the purchase of ground for the medical school. Representative Igoe, in offering the amendment striking out this proviso, demonstrated that it would put the medical department out of business, and by a strong majority the Igoe amendment was adopted. The $5,000,000 measure was then advanced, and President James said that the university troubles were practically at an end for this session.

To Change Home Rule Bill.

The home rule bill is to be recalled to second reading tomorrow for amendment, according to agreement reached tonight. The amendment inserted last week, extending the Chicago provisions for home rule to all cities and villages, is to be stricken out by unanimous consent, it is reported, and the bill made a straight Chicago bill. In this shape, it is claimed, it can pass the house, and the Solon organization is now ready to pass it in the senate, the reports say. Home rule boosters are more sanguine tonight than they have been at any time during the session.

Omnibus Charities Bills Pass.

The omnibus bill went to third reading in the house tonight and will be passed tomorrow. The omnibus charities bills were passed by the senate, and there is little left on the appropriations calendar except bills of minor importance.

The Shurtleff bill, enabling boards of review to go back any number of years and assess omitted property, was passed by the house.

The house passed the Provine bill ratifying the sale of the old Second infantry armory site in Chicago.

The house committee on judicial department and practice reported favorably the Chicago jury commission bill and killed the Jewell bill permitting a grand jury to be dispensed with at the will of the state's attorney.

Judiciary Committee Reports.

The house judiciary committee reported favorably the Austin bill, fixing the salary of the county treasurer of Cook county; the Woodard bill, permitting the parole of life prisoners after having served actually twenty years; the Austin bill, amending the dental act; and the Boehm bill, amending the pharmacy act.

Representative Shurtleff introduced another waterway bill at the request, he explained, of Lyman E. Cooley.

ACT TODAY UPON PLANS TO MERGE TRACTION LINES

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—Merger of the elevated and surface systems of Chicago for operation purposes will come up before the senate public utilities committee tomorrow. The controlling interests in the traction properties have agreed upon the terms of the merger, which must be satisfactory to the city council of Chicago and which requires the permission of the Illinois general assembly.

Arthur Dyrenforth brought to Springfield the bill, which is satisfactory to the elevated railroad contingent. It is the bill which has the approval of the city council committee on local transportation, although it has not been submitted to it formally.

Captain on Mission.

It is understood that Ald. Henry D. Capitain will arrive in Springfield some time during the night, armed with authority to approve the bill for the council, as it will be presented to the senate utilities committee.

The elevated interests will offer an amendment to the bill as drawn in the corporation counsel's office, which is known already in Springfield as the "anti-Venner" amendment. This amendment, if adopted, will meet the objections from minority interests which oppose the merger as proposed by Clarence Venner.

Scope of the Measure.

The bill would permit any two companies owning or operating railway or transportation companies or lines situated entirely within a city or town to consolidate their stock, property, or franchises under permission and upon the terms approved by the city council or village board of trustees. It further is provided that the merger must receive the approval of the voters in a referendum election.

CHILD LABOR SUPPORTERS DECRY CHANGES IN SENATE.

Measure Advanced, but Adherents Oppose Amendments, Which Are Branded as Menace to Bill.

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—The senate child labor bill, amended seriously and dangerously, in the estimation of its chief supporters, was sent to third reading by the senate this afternoon, following a long, heated debate.

It had been a hope of backers of the general proposition that the senate bill might get out of the upper branch and into the house in a semi-respectable condition, in view of the disastrous amendments which were put into the house bill last week.

The house bill is now most strenuously opposed and the senate bill is not much more satisfactory to the men and women leading the movement.

Senator Smith of Sangamon, Progressive, secured the adoption of an amendment which struck from the bill the prohibition of the labor of children under 14 years of age. This is considered a vital blow at the heart of the proposed original bill.

HOUSE VOTES FOR PASSES ON ROADS

SALARY BOOST WINS.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—State representatives today decided they should have railroad passes. By a vote of 73 to 70 they kicked over the anti-pass ruling of the state public utilities commission and amended the senate's bill permitting exchange of newspaper advertising for railroad transportation, so as to permit passes to members of the general assembly. Then the bill was advanced to third reading, and may be called up for final passage tomorrow.

The amendment, which was championed by Representative Lee O'Neil Browne and offered by Representative Thomas Curran, did not prescribe what might be exchanged by the legislators in return for free railroad riding.

Earlier in the day the house had passed the house bill introduced by Representative Moore of Henry, providing that members of the general assembly elected in 1916 and thereafter should be paid at the rate of $3,500 per session instead of $2,000 per session as at present.

The house also passed the senate bill carrying an appropriation of $26,000 for payment of mileage to members of the present session at the rate of 2 cents a mile for twenty-one round trips from home stations to Springfield and return. This bill was passed by a vote of 112 to 30 and now goes to the governor for his signature.

*Sitting Judges.

AVOID THIS MISTAKE.

The voter at the judicial election should not make the mistake of thinking that he cannot vote for two or more candidates whose names happen to be on the same line in different party columns. In voting for Circuit judges twenty candidates should be voted for, and they may be selected from any for two or more candidates whose names happen to be opposite each other are not running against each other. On the contrary, owing to the fact that the names of sitting judges are given precedence each in their respective party columns, their names will be found opposite each other and all ought to be voted for.

Remember, there are no restrictions except as to the number of candidates to be voted for, twenty places for the Circuit court, two for the Superior, and one for the Supreme court.

CHLOROFORM NEEDED IN FRANCE

The fact that the war hospitals in France are constantly operating with a shortage of chloroform seems in the first instance to indicate a callous and hardened disregard for humanity. This is an unbelievable explanation, but the appeals made to American generosity to provide anesthetics reveal the lack of them, whatever may be the excuse for the shortage.

It would be thought that a soldier who has been through the hell of a battlefield and has been brought out wounded would not be required to go through another hell on the operating table when alleviation is possible. It is hard to understand why the purchase of chloroform is not regarded as essential as the purchase of ammunition. It may be that agents of destruction must be thought of before instruments of relief can be considered.

The French so much deserve the good opinion of neutrals that criticism is ungracious and hard to make. It is a kinder office to urge Americans who feel disposed to contribute something towards the mitigation of suffering in Europe to consider the needs of the war hospitals and, whether the French government be at fault or not, to remember the victims of unmerciful fate.

DEFECTS OF THE MANN ACT.

The points raised in the brief of counsel for Diggs and Caminetti are those urged repeatedly in these columns against the so-called "white slave" or Mann act.

That statute was passed in a period of strong public feeling against the organized traffic in women, whose condition was described in the dramatic and just phrase "white slavery." Commissions had investigated this subject and had made elaborate reports showing systematic seduction and a traffic in its victims involving interstate cooperation. Panders in various cities were known to one another and fallen women were made a commodity dealt in and exchanged.

To correct this evil naturally federal legislation was proposed, but its proponents in their zeal for morality were not content to limit the scope of the law to "white slavery" with which the public was concerned, but wished to make the federal government an additional agent for the punishment of all sexual irregularity. The phraseology of the bill was made so broad as to include transportation for an immoral purpose even though no element of commercial profit is involved and the action of both parties is voluntary.

One of the inevitable results of this law was its abuse as an instrument of blackmail, but this evil has been in great degree checked by the refusal of prosecuting officers to act when the complaint is plainly extortionary. But to throw such responsibility on executives is demoralizing and unjust. It is maintained by defenders of the Mann act that no worthy person will be blackmailed and also that any one who is guilty of irregularities deserves whatever consequences follow prosecution under this law. The first assertion is untrue and if the second represents the moral judgment of the community it is important enough to be openly discussed and honestly and definitely formulated in a law which is what it purports to be, not in a masked enactment which both in its popular title and in the circumstances of its enactment purports to be directed at one evil though phrased to cover other and very different offenses.

Legislation of this nature is fraudulent and demoralizing, but for other reasons the Mann act is bad public policy and, we shall believe until the Supreme court holds explicitly the contrary, unconstitutional. It adds to the heavy duties of the central government the duty of punishing acts entirely within the punitive powers and already enacted laws of the states. As the brief of counsel in the Digge-Caminetti case declares and as THE TRIBUNE has insisted, "no matter how much we may abhor moral delinquency it is subject to state and not to federal control."

Ardent enemies of vice may think this is a mere academic distinction, but, on the contrary, it is one of the most essential principles of the American system of government. To ignore it in favor of a special reform is narrow and shortsighted. It opens the door to a process of overloading federal authority, diminishing local responsibility and building up a centralized bureaucratic tyranny which in the end will be both intolerable and inefficient.

AMMUNITION CARRIERS.

The American government, we trust, sees the need of accepting the fact that sea law must be progressively modified to conform to the course of mechanical development. It would require a wise statesman to say where our interests lie, but one of ordinarily perceptive intelligence can see that conditions have changed and that law must be modified to meet the change.

We think it is the desire of Americans to deal with all peoples as fairly as prejudice will permit. The force of prejudice has to be conceded, and it will warp the thought; but so far as it can be recognized as a factor it is thus far minimized.

What we must grant the Germans if we are to maintain a position morally defensible is the right to stop the shipment of ammunition by any means at their disposal. It would be hideous injustice if we were to assert on one hand the right of American manufacturers to sell any contraband that a purchaser could come for and then deny the Germans their right of stopping such shipments.

If anything seems plain and clear in this war it is the fact that the decision will rest with the forces able to supply themselves with the most ammunition. Whichever force can get the most shells will win. It is not a question of men. It is a question of explosives.

By our rightful insistence that American manufacturers may sell whatever a purchaser wishes to buy we have put ourselves in the position of becoming a deciding factor in the war. We must not, directly or indirectly, and cannot, guarantee the delivery of the ammunition.

That would be a sin against international fair dealing. Boats carrying explosives must not have the protection of passengers for whose security this government holds itself responsible. We must admit that a submarine cannot conform to sea law formulated before submarines were used. A change has been made by mechanics.

The United States must meet Germany fairly on this question. We have no right to say that Germany shall deprive herself of the use of her only effective sea weapon in preventing the delivery of ammunition which may be the deciding factor in the war.

We must recognize that the movement of military supplies of this character is a military movement. In easily demonstrable fact it is a more dangerous military movement than that of sending a regiment of troops. No one would deny the right of a submarine to sink a transport, and if we are to maintain the morality of our position we must not insist upon the acceptance of principles of international law which governed before the mechanical change made by the submarine.

AN END OF WATCHFUL WAITING.

The nation will welcome the end of "watchful waiting" and emphatically support a vigorous policy to end the unspeakable conditions in Mexico. The president has proved to the limit his patience and good intentions and the country has willingly abided his judgment. But there can be no longer a scintilla of doubt that a more aggressive policy is necessary for the sake of our legitimate interests in Mexican peace and responsible government, for the sake of our responsibility to the governments who recognized our hegemony and accepted our waiting policy, and for the sake of distracted Mexico itself.

We have hopes that a sharp and definite declaration to the Mexican leaders will lay the basis for factional cooperation, if need be under our monitorship. But if this is not promptly forthcoming the government should proceed at once to armed intervention.

A realigation that this intervention is the certain alternative to a failure to set their own house in order, we believe, will be the most salutary factor in our present relations with the Mexican leaders. Our conciliatory tone and care for their susceptibilities have been misinterpreted. It is time to make ourselves clear.

Editorial of the Day.

TWENTY-SIX MORE SUBMARINES.

[From the New York World.]

There is no disguising the fact that in submarines the United States navy is weak, and that of such as it has many are of old types. The small flotilla that served with Admiral Fletcher's fleet in the navy war game made a sorry exhibition. But it must be kept in mind that the navy department has about completed plans for twenty-six new submarines for immediate construction.

It is only three months since congress adjourned after making the largest appropriation for submarines in the history of the navy. It is not yet time to abandon all hope and seek comfort in abuse of everything and everybody connected with the department.

In his persistent attacks upon the navy Representative Gardner of Massachusetts revels in personalities and calls names like an ill mannered boy in the street. Because of the noise he makes he has attracted more attention to himself than to the merits of any case he has had to offer. If he were less interested in playing partisan politics, he would start with the whole truth. It is congress that determines what appropriations shall be made for naval purposes and until last winter congress never attached sufficient importance to submarines.

As a matter of fact, although he has served seven terms in the house, Representative Gardner, as a naval authority, has not been regarded with enough respect to secure a place at the hands of his own party on the committee on naval affairs. Nor was the new policy of the department and congress of greatly increasing the submarine fleet in any way due to his influence. Soberer minds have created a navy which even Admiral Dewey ventures to assume is worthy of the nation's confidence.

THE PAST.*

FROM the bloody brook at Blenheim,
From the ditch at Malplaquet,
The ghosts of the old English
Rise up once more today
To watch where, mixed with strangers',
The blood flows once again
Within the sodden trenches

Changed are the times and weapons,
Yet the same ends they gain
As when upon the Holland dykes
They faced the pikes of Spain;
Or when, for the world's freedom,
Till the long fight was through,
The English guard stood fast upon
The heights of Waterloo.

Once more the British yeomen
Stand fast amid the slain,
And those who've gone before know well
They will not die in vain;
And the shades of the old English
May lay them down and say,
"Another gallant company
Will win or die today."

THE impending crisis leads us to express to Col. Foreman the hope that he will establish his armory as near No. 40 East Schiller street as possible; we are not too proud to seek a haven beneath the shadow of his crimson wing. Perhaps the Potter Palmer residence can be bought. With a few alterations it would make an excellent fortress; or the MacVeagh house would do almost as well. And if Col. Foreman will tell us the brands of cigars and wines that he prefers we will be happy to lay in a supply.

HEADLINES in newspapers are always more startling than the text which accompanies them; so, if one read only the headlines he would receive the impression that the German reply was an invitation to the war dance, whereas the note was at the worst evasive. It is not the fault of the headline writer. He hasn't space to convey the spirit of the dispatch, or to modify the mildest verb which he is obliged to use. Remember this when you take up your favorite journal at breakfast.

BOKOO BAWL-OUT.

[From the London Times.]

On the appearance of the twenty-sixth woman brought before him yesterday at Old-street Police Court, on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, Mr. Clarke Hall said it was perfectly shocking the number of drunken women who had been before him that morning, although the fines had recently been increased.

In this most critical time of their country's history these women might at least try to keep sober.

A MAN writes 500 words of invective against the Germans, it is printed in Vox Pop's column, and accepted as a matter of course. Another man writes a six-line satirical fling against Prussia, we print it, and it becomes a Burning Outrage. Yet one column is as much a forum as the other. We discussed this with Prof. Raymond, the eminent hoobologist. "Sure," said he, "a Line is only a sublimated Vox Pop."

THE explanation perhaps lies in the sublimation. Three lines of satire will get a goat where 300 lines of conventional abuse will fail. Satire is by far the most effective weapon against sham, hypocrisy, and guile, therefore satirists have never been loved in any country or in any age. No writer who desires to be popular should adopt Byron's motto, "Fools are my theme, let satire be my song."

Relief Is in Sight.

The crank migratory season is now near at hand. They will soon swarm. Buzzing hives of them will speedily settle in "conferences" of one sort and another in many widely scattered lakeside, seaside, and mountain resorts. Vast herds will be corralled in remote chautauquaries. The episodical, sporadic ones left behind should not be a difficult problem. There may be a few more of them this year than usual, that is all. The obstreperous ones will be automatically sequestered by the routine machinery of public safety and order. The more fantastic will scale their dizzy peaks of idiocy and harmlessly grimace and gibber thereon as is their wont. The plain, conventional nuisance type will plod his wearisome way among us as of yore. All will be tolerated and endured as of the day's work, just a part of the sane man's burden.

EVERYTHING being relative, as we say in the Cannery, De Palma probably WAS slow in changing a tire; but the first tire that we are called upon to change is going to occupy from two to four hours, and then it probably won't be on.

THE ADVENTURES OF URSUS.

LEAVING the Cellist we walked briskly up the street, passing a Kentucky colonel who was mixing and drinking dozens of mint juleps. I wished to observe his actions since he, too, seemed to be doing a penance, but the Kansas editor, whose prejudices against alcohol were still strong, hurried me along.

The street intersections were marked with plain signs giving the name of the street. Below were other signs reading: "AS YE DID ON EARTH DO YE HERE FOREVER."

This also appeared at the bottom of window cards in the shops along the sidewalk; it seemed to be Hell's motto, and the Kansas editor put it in his notes. "It appears to me," said he, "that so long as I am to be here I shall have to do things connected with newspaper publicity. Mr. Adful has directed me to report on Kansas, where a better foothold is needed, and I am sure that this is only a beginning of the w. k. end. Not that advertising has not its subtle attractions for me, but I fear it may end in my having to take a desk and edit copy, and I have done too much of that sort of stuff on Earth. I regret that I failed to ask before this why you are assigned to this division."

"You heard what Mr. Adful said," I replied, "and I know no more than you. On Earth I did many things, some of them well and some not so well. It was my delight to pry into different trades and opportunities, for such was, to me, the joy of living. Previous to my embarking for these strange shores I was a book agent for, perhaps, two years."

"A book agent!" exclaimed the Kansas editor. "My friend, I am indeed sorry for you." His voice broke and tears gathered, while he pointed to the signs on the lamp posts and window cards.

WEIGHT DISTURBANCE IN BABIES.

THE babies who come in the class suffering from so-called weight disturbance are artificially fed. Rarely does the condition develop in the breast fed. Dr. Gruber says that this is a disease of babies of the well to do and that it is much more frequent in winter than in summer.

The reason for this is that it is in a certain sense a midway condition. The babies are not right, but then they are not very ill. The same condition developing in the baby of a poor person or developing in a baby in hot weather would go on to a more serious form of trouble.

The two outstanding symptoms are constipation and fretfulness. Commonly, the mother tells of how her fat baby seemed to be thriving except that he was constipated. A while back she thought he was doing extra well, as his weight increased rapidly. Suddenly the increase in weight stopped. Now for several weeks he had not gained, not even an ounce.

O, yes, she would say, he was fretful. Somehow she could not find out what he was fretting about. Maybe it was gas, as a fair amount passed. Latterly she had noticed that his urine smelled like ammonia.

Yes, there was some tendency to eruption. The urine was strong and had chafed around the buttocks. Somehow dusting powders would not keep the creases from getting sore. She could not see why he was not growing and thriving, as his stomach was not upset, his food was agreeing, and he was fat.

The trouble with this baby is that he is not digesting the fat in his milk. In the intestines the undigested fat is being changed to fatty acids. These are absorbing alkalies from the system. The peculiar looking stools are mostly fatty soaps caused by undigested fat. The system, robbed of its alkali to make these soaps, is overacid. That causes the ammonia in the urine. The scientists call this over-acidity—acidosis.

What must be done is to give the baby less cream. Commonly they start the baby on the proper amount of skim milk properly diluted. In a few days a little whole milk, an ounce or two a day, is substituted for some of the skim milk. The addition of whole milk to the diet must be done very slowly. A little ought to be added and the result watched for a day or two before it is tried again. If the stools show fatty or chalky masses the whole milk must again be withdrawn.

But energy without fat is not possible unless something replaces it. The first carbohydrate to be tried as a substitute for fat is malt extract, say half an ounce a day. This can be increased for a few days, and then everything going well malt food can be substituted. Barley water can be given in place of plain water.

Older babies can have cereals or cereal gruels. The child must be kept in the open air as much as the weather will permit. Good air is almost as necessary as good food. Care should be taken to keep the skin clean.

MIGHT BE APPENDICITIS.

E. B. L. writes: For years I have been troubled with constipation and about a year ago was professionally advised to use a mild cathartic every night. Prior to this time I had had several attacks of some sort of intestinal trouble, accompanied by a terrible soreness—possibly it was autointoxication—I never succeeded in getting a satisfactory explanation. It seems quite obvious that I had better take a cathartic nightly than to suffer from these intestinal attacks, but is the cathartic the right thing? Is there any reason in your opinion for my trying out the lactic acid treatment? If there is a more effective and better way than by drinking large quantities of buttermilk—which to me is very unpleasant—please state same. I am 36 years of age. My duties require much brain activity and a fair amount of walking.

REPLY.

It is very important that you know the nature of the attack you refer to. When in your next attack you should be seen by a physician who by examinations and other tests should make a diagnosis. Most attacks of abdominal trouble with terrible soreness are attacks of appendicitis. Gall bladder trouble and some form of partial obstruction are also to be considered. So much for that part of your letter.

It may be necessary for some persons to take "a mild, cathartic every night," but it must be avoided if possible. Ninety cases out of a hundred respond to a change in diet. The change consists in more fruit, more water, and more bran and other forms of roughage. Most of the other ten will respond to agar, mineral oil, or lactic acid bacilli. There are many preparations of lactic acid bacilli on the market.

TO CLEANSE REFRIGERATOR.

M. writes: "My refrigerator has an odor, although I think I keep it clean. Can you tell me how to get rid of the odor?"

REPLY.

Empty and scrub all parts inside with soap and water. Then sprinkle with chloride of lime and add enough water to make a paste. Scrub thoroughly with this paste and then rinse thoroughly with boiling water. Put some of the chloride of lime in the pipes and pour some boiling water through them. Then leave open for twenty-four hours, sunning if possible.

RUPTURE.

J. M. S. writes: "I am nearly 80 years old, and have in some way brought on a rupture. Is there any cure for it, either with medicine or an operation?"

REPLY.

A man 80 years of age is not justified in having an operation for rupture. He should wear a truss. There is more hazard in operation for rupture in a man of 80 than there is in the rupture. A man of 80 is not sufficiently disabled by a hernia to warrant the extra hazard of operation.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

(Copyright, 1915, By the Brentwood Co.)

AMONG the features of the present war, one which cannot fail to add to the intense bitterness against one another of the members of the reigning houses taking part therein is the treatment of their private property by the foe.

It is not generally known that King George owns extensive property in Germany, all of which has been confiscated by order of the kaiser. Some of this property came to King George through his German-born grandfather, the prince consort, who was Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg. But Queen Victoria also invested quite a large amount of her private fortune in German real estate, which was managed throughout the greater part of her lifetime by dear old Hermann Sahl, who was her German secretary and the extent of whose quiet influence over her majesty was known only to her children, to the inner circle of the members of the royal household, and to a few of the ministers of the crown. He used this influence so wisely and so discreetly that no English statesman ever had any occasion to take exception thereto, privately or publicly.

The Duchess of Connaught, wife of the governor general of Canada, inherited half of the immense fortune of her father, Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia, the so-called "Red Prince," to whom Bazaine surrendered the French stronghold of Metz in the war of 1870.

He was one of the richest princes in Germany, and his property was divided between his son, Prince Frederick Leopold, inspector general of German cavalry [married to the kaiserin's sister], and the Duchess of Connaught.

Inasmuch as most of the property is in real estate which is situated in Germany, the duchess has naturally had it confiscated by her cousin, the kaiser.

King Albert of Belgium also inherited much property in Germany through his mother, the late Countess of Flanders, who was by birth a princess of Hohenzollern, her father, Prince Anthony of Hohenzollern, of the Sigmaringen and Catholic branch, having not only inherited vast estates but also having added extensively to his wealth as one of the great railroad kings of Germany.

All of King Albert's property in Germany has been confiscated. So, too, have Queen Elizabeth's estates in Bavaria, estates which came to her from her father, Duke Charles Theodore of Bavaria, the famous oculist.

The reigning house of Austria owns vast estates in Italy, those which the young heir apparent to the Austro-Hungarian throne, Archduke Charles Francis, inherited from his uncle, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, who was murdered at Sarajevo last summer, being valued at some $20,000,000. They are known as the d'Este estate and include the exquisite Villa d'Este at Frascati.

Emperor Francis Joseph himself owns the grand old palace of Venice at Rome, until now occupied by his embassy to the holy see, and which already has been seized by the Italian government.

Other members of the house of Hapsburg possessed of great landed interests in Italy are the widowed Archduchess Rainer of Austria, whose father-in-law was the last Austrian viceroy of Lombardy; Archduke Francis Salvator, who is the son-in-law of Emperor Francis Joseph, and Archduke Leopold, who also has extensive estates in northern Italy which came to them from their uncle, who was the last reigning sovereign grand duke of Tuscany. In fact, there are numbers of the archdukes and archduchesses of the Hapsburg dynasty who were possessed of estates in Italy which have now been seized.

Sharing this fate are the princes of the house of Bourbon-Parma, sons of the last sovereign duke of Parma, among whose Italian property is a palace and an immense estate at Viareggio. As they are fighting under the Austrian flag [they make their home in Austria, and their sister, Princess Zita, is married to the Austrian heir apparent], their property in Italy has been confiscated. In the same way they have lost the superb and historic chateau of Chambord and the immense estate connected therewith in France, which have been seized by the French government.

The czar's favorite Polish sporting estate and chateau of Spala have been completely devastated and sacked by the Germans. But one of the reasons why Gen. Rennenkampf, who achieved so much fame in Manchuria in the war with Japan, was deprived of his command last Christmas by the personal order of the czar was that he had permitted his troops to loot and ravage the kaiser's fine sporting estate and favorite shooting lodge at Rominten in East Prussia, near the Muscovite border.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has been threatened by the Austrian government with the forfeiture of his extensive and rich estates in Hungary, Austria and Bavaria, in the event of his joining the cause of the triple entente, and as most of the private fortune of King Ferdinand of Roumania, who is a scion of the Roman Catholic branch of the house of Hohenzollern, is invested in Germany, he has been menaced in a similar manner by the kaiser in the event of his siding with Russia, Great Britain, and France.

Of course, the sovereigns who have suffered most cruelly in this particular have been the king and queen of the Belgians, whose palaces at Laeken, Brussels and Antwerp, and whose chateaux in the Ardennes, as well as whose villas at Spa and at Ostend, have not only been seized by the Germans but looted.

Prince von Buelow, who was formerly justly renowned as the most able and astute diplomatist in the service of the kaiser, seems to have lost most of his statecraft and political finesse since he was forced to retire from the chancellorship of the German empire some years ago, and his recent embassy to Rome is not precisely calculated to enhance his reputation.

The manner in which he sought to intervene in the internal policy of Italy not only to create a pro-German party in the state but even to bring about the substitution for the party in office, resulted in arousing the patriotic indignation of even those Italians who were at first disposed to be neutral, and who had retained a strong personal liking for himself and for his Italian wife, sister of Senator Prince Camporeale.

Indeed, he ended by embittering the people of Italy of every class and caste against him to such an extent that during the closing days of his stay in the Eternal city it became necessary for the government to take special steps for the protection of his villa and of its occupants from hostile attack on the part of the angry Romans.

PICNIC ISLAND CONSIDERED UNSAFE.

Chicago, May 29.—[To the Friend of the People.—Is not Lincoln park, or the pier at Fullerton avenue adjacent to the park, public property? Why should the pier, the only one in the vicinity or within reasonable distance of it, be closed now at the time of year when from 1,000 to 3,000 able bodied citizens prefer to spend an early morning or evening, or a pleasant Sunday, with hook and line in real recreation, inhaling fresh air untainted with gasoline fumes? The pier as a part of the park belongs to the people.

A. F. SPACK, 825 Diversey boulevard.

The section of pier referred to is a strip of breakwater now in the course of construction being backed up with a paved bench; therefore, it has been deemed unsafe to permit the general public to use this section of Picnic island at the present time. For the information of the writer we may suggest that last year there were two or three people seriously injured and one death caused by drowning at this point; therefore, this action.

NEW LAMPS FOR HARRISON STREET.

Chicago, May 28.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please see what can be done toward having better lighting on Harrison street, between Kostner and Kilbourne avenues. TAXPAYER.

Plans are now in the hands of the sanitary district, for the rehabilitation of the lighting system in this part of the city and new electric lamps will be installed on this street on Chicago base posts, using underground construction. These lamps will be installed within the next three weeks. RAY PALMER,

NEXT HEARING FOR NATURALIZATION.

Chicago, May 29.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I made my application for final citizen's papers in the Circuit court on Dec. 8, 1914, and was told at the time that I would be notified when to appear for the final hearing. As yet I have not been notified. Please let me know how long I must wait before I can secure my final papers. D. ADLERBLUM, 1442 West Twelfth street.

The next hearing of petitions for naturalization in the Circuit court for Cook county, Ill., will take place on June 10, 1915. On account of the Judicial election to be held on June 7, 1915, there will be no hearings of petitions for naturalization in the state of Illinois within thirty days preceding that election, as the naturalization law provides that no person shall be admitted to citizenship within thirty days of a general election.

SPREADING ASSESSMENTS.

Chicago, May 28.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I own the southeast corner of Eighteenth street and Ashland avenue and I have been informed that sidewalks will be laid in this vicinity. Can I be compelled to pay for the full length of my lot?

M. KLEIN, 6844 South Halsted street.

The theory of special assessments and the special assessment law is that property benefited by an improvement shall pay the cost of same. In spreading an assessment, the superintendent of special assessments decides that property other than Mr. Klein's will be benefited by building a walk on the side of his lot he will assess a portion of the cost of the walk to the property in question. This is in accordance with a decision of the Supreme court of Illinois requiring assessments to be spread in the manner above described.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

MORTGAGES AND TAXATION.

Chicago, June 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Under our present law the owner of personal property is obliged to schedule the same for taxation and the tax rate is not far from 2 per cent of the face value of the securities in all sections of the city. This is due to the fact that all classes of property are taxed equally.

If an investor wants to buy a mortgage he goes to a dealer in mortgages and buys, for example, a mortgage paying 5 per cent. When tax time comes around he is obliged to schedule that mortgage and the tax collector takes two-fifths of his entire income, reducing the income from 5 to 3 per cent on the amount of principal invested, and this regardless of the fact that the property behind the mortgage has already been taxed by the assessors at the same rate.

If this same investor were to buy real estate he would go to a real estate dealer and buy property to net 5 per cent after the taxes had been deducted.

If this same investor were a merchant and wanted to buy a store with a stock of goods, he would buy it on its earnings as shown from the annual turn over of merchandise, figuring the net return after the taxes had been deducted.

The same argument applies to the investor who buys bonds, as bonds are practically in the same class as real estate mortgages, being either secured by a trust deed or mortgage.

The development of the resources of the state of Illinois are very largely dependent upon the ability of those who undertake great enterprises to borrow money, and unless the lenders of money are given fair and equitable treatment under our tax laws, how can we expect them to invest their money in this class of securities within the state of Illinois? Many investors are obliged to keep their money in liquid assets, which are quickly and readily salable. Ought they to be penalized on this account? J. E. OTIS,

VIVE LES ETATS UNIS.

Chicago, May 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I wish to thank "K. B. K." for expressing his opinion in this column on the attitude of the French people of Chicago. And Friend Westenberger is just as bad if not worse. He rails against your cry of barbarism on the part of Germany. I read THE TRIBUNE every day, and I remember many letters from your splendid correspondents abroad who in a strictly impartial manner gave many facts showing that scores of claims against Germany were untrue. Did Westenberger not read these letters? He accuses you of being pro-English and opposed to Germany. Has he read the many letters from others accusing you of being pro-German? ETHICS OF ITALY'S POSITION.

Chicago, May 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Of course, Germany and Austria will howl about Italy's "perfidy"—and so they have about England's. The real perfidy is the treatment of Belgium by Germany. Italy's defense against the charge has force; if she was one of the triple alliance, what right had Germany and Austria to go to war, with such outrageous demands upon Servia, and perpetrate such infamous crimes against Belgium, without Italy's consent?

It was really the thing for Italy to do at the outset—to denounce Germany and Austria and renounce the alliance; but this she could not do in her unprepared state. MAYOR TO CALL JOINT MEETING FOR CAR PEACE

Says City's 55 Per Cent of Earnings Gives It Share in Labor Settlement.

Surface Lines management was reported to a massmeeting of the employés, members of division 241, held at Hodcarriers' hall, Harrison and Green streets, Thursday evening, May 27, 1915, at which the members unanimously ordered a referendum vote of the membership to be taken Saturday, May 29, commencing at 6 a. m. and continuing for twenty-four hours, on the following question:

"'Are you in favor of supporting the demands of the organization to the extent of a strike?'

"The vote was taken as ordered, resulting as follows:

"Yes, 9,716.

"No, 112.

"The same procedure followed at a massmeeting of the elevated employés, members of division 308, held at Musicians' hall, 175 West Washington street, on Saturday evening, May 30, 1915, at which a vote on the same question was ordered to be taken Tuesday, June 1, commencing at 6 a. m. and continuing for a period of nineteen hours. These instructions were carried out and the result of this vote was:

"Yes, 2,863.

"No, 64.

Total Vote 98 Per Cent.

"The total vote in both locals in favor of supporting the demands to the extent of a strike represents about 98 per cent of the members.

"We inform you on these matters that you may understand the seriousness of the situation that has been brought about by the positive refusal of the companies to relieve their employés of some of the burdens they are compelled to endure through insufficient pay and other impositions.

"The company managements state that they will not grant a wage increase because of reduced receipts, due to business depression. This answer cannot be accepted as a reasonable conclusion; it is neither justifiable nor based on facts. The financial earnings show the companies to be amply able to meet the wage demands of the men who operate their systems and through whose labor they are earning enormous profits.

"When we consider that the companies operating under the head of the Chicago Surface Lines have received in net profits from these properties since 1907, in round figures, the sum of $13,000,000, and that the city's share of profits from the operation of the properties during the same period, representing 55 per cent, amounts to more than $16,000,000, it is not easy to understand why the men who do the labor which produces these profits should be forced to accept a wage that denies them and their families a living standard consistent with their surroundings.

Cites Figures in Profits.

"When we consider again that the companies operating as the Chicago Surface lines have received, in addition to profits already stated, some $31,000,000 interest on capital stock in the last five years, and that for the year 1914 their interest on capital amounted to $7,729,650, with additional net profits of $1,981,000, and the city's 55 per cent amounting to $2,421,225, we are moved to reiterate that their denial of fair compensation to their employés is not justifiable and the reason they give for such denial is not borne out by the facts.

"Notwithstanding these enormous profits, the highest paid street car man receives a much less rate of wage than common laborers in the employ of the city of Chicago.

"Again, when it is realized that 55 per cent of any wage increase granted the surface employés is paid by the city, it seems still more difficult to understand why the men should not be granted an adequate wage and fair working conditions. It seems to us that the great city of Chicago, as a copartner of the surface lines, sharing 55 per cent of its net profits, should assume some responsibility for the fair treatment of the employés.

Attacks Elevated Statement.

"As to the elevated companies, which divide no profits with the city, their refusal of a wage increase on the plea of decreased earnings is wholly inconsistent and unwarranted.

"The low wage of the electric railway employés of Chicago and the long period of service demanded before the maximum wage is reached, is an injustice.

"We have been publicly referred to as a body of men 'notoriously underpaid and overworked.' During our last controversy in 1912 the city council unanimously went on record as favoring an adequate wage for us. We have struggled for years and used every reasonable means to bring our conditions up to what they ought to be, but we have failed. Our failures have been due largely to a confiding faith that we would get a square deal through the means used to effect settlements.

"The square deal has not been forthcoming. Unfair methods have been used against us, which have resulted in bitter disappointments, and if our faith has been shattered in the means heretofore used to establish proper wage and conditions there are others responsible for it. The last settlement took good conditions away from us which we had enjoyed for thirty years and gave us practically nothing in return.

Insist on Share of "Great Profits."

"We fully realize what it would mean to the city of Chicago to have the transportation systems cease to operate. As citizens of this city we are as much interested in its welfare as any. We want to avert such a condition, if possible.

"We shall insist, however, that in view of the great profits the copartners are sharing from these properties, that the men who give their lives to the making of these profits must also share in them, to the extent of a living wage consistent with American standards, and reasonable conditions of labor.

"With the city as co-partner in the surface lines, we submit this matter to you as chief executive, in the hope that you will use your good offices to coöperate with us in bringing about a satisfactory conclusion."

Letter to Busby.

The letter to Mr. Busby, signed by Mr. Quinlan, is as follows:

"We take this means of informing you that the answer of the company to our proposed contract conditions, and the refusal of the company to grant the employés any wage increase, was reported to a special meeting of Division 241, held Thursday evening, May 27, 1915. It was unanimously ordered by the members at this meeting that a referendum vote of our membership be taken on the question:

"'Are you in favor of supporting the demands of the organization to the extent of a strike?'

"Voting on this question commenced Saturday, May 29, 1915, and finished Sunday, May 30, the result being: Yes, 9,716; no, 112.

"The matter has been placed in the hands of our committee for further action. If there are any suggestions to be offered by the company, our committee is ready to receive them and to give them thorough consideration."

The letter to Mr. Budd is practically the same as the letter to Mr. Busby, except that the vote of the elevated men (yes, 2,863; no, 64) is announced.

Mayor Plans Conference.

Mayor Thompson announced he might call a conference of the company's representatives and the officials of the unions in his office to see just what the situation is.

"I am sure that no one wants to see a strike of street railway employés in the city," he said. "If there is anything that I can do as a representative of the public of Chicago, I will be glad, indeed, to lend my aid."

The officials of the elevated employés' organization and the surface lines union met during the afternoon and discussed the situation. Some members of the committee were opposed to arbitration and said they believed a strike should be called and then efforts at arbitration be tried. The report that the date for calling a strike had been set for Saturday was vigorously denied by both Mr. Bruce and Mr. Quinlan.

They said no date for calling a strike had been set and none will be decided on until replies from their communications of yesterday are received.

Surface Men Ask 19.44 Per Cent.

As the situation stands now, the demands of the employés of both lines have been refused. The surface employés asked for increased wages amounting to 19.44 per cent. They asked a minimum wage for first year men of 33 cents an hour and a maximum of 36 cents an hour for men who have worked more than one year.

Wages now range over nine grades and start at 23 cents an hour, reaching the maximum of 32 cents an hour at the beginning of the sixth year of service with the company. Officials of the surface lines said 60 per cent of their employés were in the maximum class.

On the elevated lines the wages start at 22 cents and reach 34 cents an hour as a maximum. These 3,500 employés are demanding a minimum of 25 cents an hour and a maximum of 38 cents an hour.

Changes in working conditions also are demanded. Prior to the breaking off of negotiations substantial changes in working conditions were offered by the traction lines officials.

Prejudiced Against Carter.

There is said to be a strong sentiment among the employés against arbitration of the differences this year prior to a strike because of what the men believe was not a fair deal from Supreme Court Judge Orrin N. Carter three years ago. Judge Carter was one of the arbiters, and the employés contend he made their conditions worse than they were before.

Mr. Busby met the argument against Judge Carter by stating that under the ruling three years ago the employés received an increase of $1,600,000 in the last three years, or 3 per cent over the wages they received prior to three years ago.

"The employés have received that increase despite the fact that the companies' receipts have dropped," President Busby said.

See $3,537,000 Added Expense.

The salaries of the trainmen employed by the surface lines amount to $7,500,000 a year, according to figures obtained at the offices of the surface lines. That represents 24 per cent of the passenger receipts.

It was pointed out also that if the demands of the employés were granted in full the wage scale increase which the company would be required to meet would amount to $1,844,000 a year. If the working conditions were changed to satisfy the demands of the employés an additional increase of $1,693,000 would result, making a total increase in the operating expenses of the company of $3,537,000.

Where City Gets Off.

The city, according to the figures at the surface lines offices, received last year $2,558,000 as its 55 per cent of the net earnings of the company. If the full demands of the employés were granted on the same basis that total would be reduced to $612,000.

The joint arbitration board of the carpenters and the contractors will meet this afternoon in an effort to settle the strike of 16,000 carpenters. Many mill owners have refused to start their mills following the agreement with the men to return to work. They assert there is no demand for material and do not want to bear the expense of operating their mills with no sales.

Gossip of the Traction Muddle.

A syndicate is reported to have arranged for 1,000 second hand automobiles to put a jitney system in operation if the street car men strike. It was reported that a routing system had been worked out by the syndicate for the operation of the jitneys.

Violence in the event of a strike is to be avoided. President Busby announced that the cars would be locked in the barns and no attempt to operate them would be made. It was reported that operation of the cars by women had been considered and abandoned. Women, according to the report, would be less liable to attack than men.

The plan was suggested yesterday that the city give a percentage of its receipts from the street car lines to the wages of the employés. Persons in favor of the plan argued that inasmuch as 55 per cent of the net profits of the company go to the city, it is a partner in the company and should give a certain per cent to paying increased wages. One supported suggested that the city give 7½ per cent and the company 2½ per cent of the increase if a settlement cannot be made otherwise. Others argued that such a plan would require the approval of the company and a change in the 1907 ordinances.

ELUSIVE MR. BURCHILL ELUDES 'EM ALL, BY HECK!

Lake Forest College Sophomore Toastmaster Goes Circuitous Route, but Attends Banquet.

The annual attempt of the freshmen of Lake Forest college to break up the annual sophomore banquet took place last night and failed, and that failure was due chiefly to the elusiveness and activity of W. J. Burchill, toastmaster.

Fleeing the clutches of the enemy, Burchill hurried to Chicago in the morning, only to be waylaid when he endeavored to return for the banquet at the Moraine hotel in Highland Park. Freshmen waiting to welcome him at the Highland Park station prevented his leaving the train, and when he went on to Lake Forest, planning to return on the interurban line, he found more freshmen, who captured him and imprisoned him in a room.

The room was on the second floor, but a drain pipe was just outside one of the windows. Down this drain pipe slid Burchill. He reached the banquet only half an hour late. So what mattered the torn coat and trousers!

JUDGE ORGANIZES NEIGHBORHOOD IN COUNCIL APPEAL

Joachim Wax's Post in Private Alley Made Rallying Point.

If the city of Chicago took your street number away from you by allowing a railroad to build its tracks down the middle of the street, would you consider yourself justified in building a sidewalk down the middle of a private alley and planting a post at the corner of the alley preventing the use of the alley by vehicles and thus protecting the sidewalk you had built?

That is what Joachim Wax, whose address used to be 3212 Bloomingdale avenue, did, according to Charles Messing, a neighbor, who brought suit for $1,000 damages against Wax for blocking the alley.

Twelve neighbors, whose, rights, it is said, have been jeoparized by the actions of Wax and the St. Paul railroad, occupied seats in Judge Joseph Z. Uhlir's court yesterday.

Messing testified that when the railroad took over Bloomingdale avenue during the elevation of its tracks in May, 1914, Wax got an injunction preventing the railroad from laying tracks until it had settled with him for a substantial sum.

Then, according to Messing, Wax obstructed the private alley at the side of his house by building a sidewalk in it so that he could make his way to a public street through two private alleys and a city alley. According to Messings, Wax placed a post in the alley so wagons could not be driven over his sidewalk.

"The city has offered to settle with us property owners for $100, but we have steadily refused to do that," Mr. Messing said.

"It seems to me that the time for quarreling and fighting is past," said Judge Uhlir. "Where were all you good people when the city council passed the ordinance which gave the railroad permission to take away your property rights without remuneration? Now I advise you to band together and complain to the finance committee of the city council. One hundred dollars would be grossly inadequate damages."

"Poster Trust" Defense Begins.

The government concluded its side of the testimony in the anti-trust suit against the Associated Bill Posters and Distributors of the United States and Canada before Judge Landis yesterday and the defense began the presentation of evidence. Edward H. Thurston of St. Louis, secretary of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco company, was the first witness for the defense.

Traction Woes in Berwyn, Too.

The board of aldermen of Berwyn may order the police to stop the operation of street cars in the village. This plan of forcing the company to meet the demands of the residents was informally discussed at a meeting of the board Tuesday evening. Definite action will probably be taken at the next session, June 15. Berwyn wants a 5 cent fare into Chicago. A 5 cent fare petition is now pending before the utilities commission, but some of the aldermen favor direct action to obtain cheaper transportation. The street car company is said to be operating by sufferance in Berwyn, and the board of aldermen revoked the company's franchise some time ago.

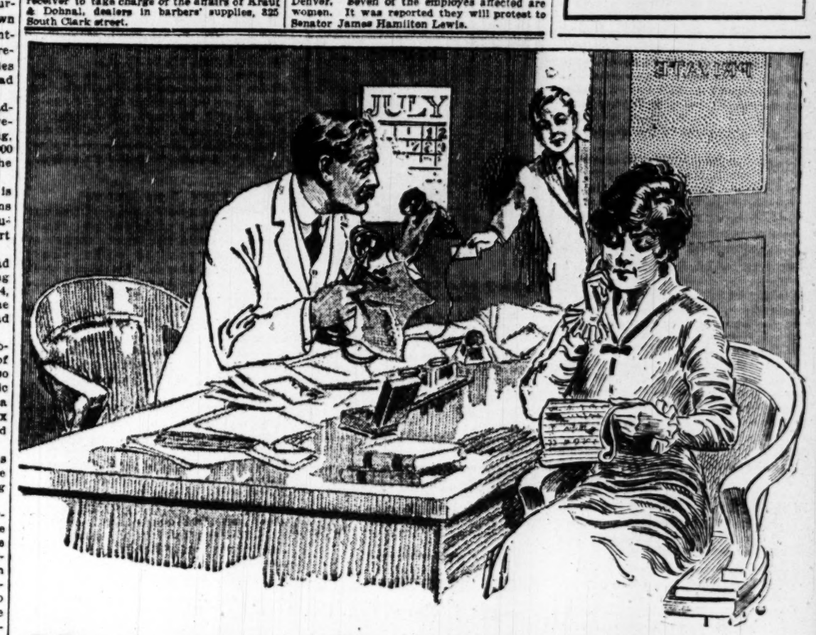
NORTH SHORE OBJECTS TO 'SHOW TICKET FIRST' RULE.

Innovation by Chicago & Milwaukee Electric Stirs Residents from Evanston to Waukegan.

Residents of the north shore from Evanston to Waukegan are up in arms against a new rule put into effect last week by the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric railroad. The rule provides that passengers must exhibit tickets before being permitted to board the cars. Heretofore many of the passengers, especially those going short distances for which only a five cent fare is required, have failed to go to the trouble of purchasing tickets. The cash fare and ticket rates vary but slightly except for long distances.

Eleven Lose Federal Jobs.

An order abolishing the purchasing division of the Chicago office of the federal reclamation service was received yesterday by C. E. Harris, agent in charge. The order was notice to him and ten civil service employés of the office that their services will be terminated June 15. Six additional employés were notified to report for duty at the executive offices in Denver. Seven of the employés affected are women. It was reported they will protest to Senator James Hamilton Lewis.



Your way of writing letters—and the right way

YOU CAN'T convince anyone—not even yourself—that you like to write letters that way. You don't pay your stenographer to sit at your desk waiting on you—wasting her time while you telephone, hunt around for papers, and listen to the interruptions of the office boy.

Of course you don't! Well, what do you keep on doing it for? You're slowing down the whole works—you are throwing away money and losing efficiency every minute. Your typist could be earning her salary, doing what she's paid for—producing finished typewriting. Instead of that she spends a couple of hours every day taking dictation and waiting to take it. Let her quit writing your letters twice—once in shorthand and once on the typewriter.

It's all so obvious—the utter foolishness of sticking to the wasteful, costly, inefficient shorthand system, doubling up on your letter writing and wasting money and losing out on the biggest single thing ever devised for your personal convenience.

Thousands of other business men have stopped doing it. Now they dictate to the Dictaphone. And it's about time you did.

Call Rand. 2770—the Dictaphone. Or, drop in at 12 North Michigan Avenue—the Dictaphone office. Or, write. And arrange for a demonstration in your own office on your own work. And while you are about it, get a copy of "Your Day's Work."

ROTHMANN LAYS SCHOOL DEFICIT TO MRS. YOUNG

Says Poor Business Management of Woman Chief Loses Million.

William Rothmann told the members of the ways and means committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday at the Hotel La Salle that the deficit on the school board has been caused by the poor business management of Supt. Ella Flagg Young. He blamed also the majority of the board of education of a year ago, which he said made a point to pass practically every recommendation made by the superintendent, no matter what embarrassment to the board might follow.

The raise in the salaries of teachers was given by Mr. Rothmann as the principal cause for the present deficit. He said $1,000,000 of the $1,250,000 deficit would have been saved if the board had not approved of the recommendation to raise the salaries of teachers.

"Insistence of Superintendent."

"There was a considerable minority," he said, "which objected strenuously to the increase of the salaries on the ground that the board did not have the money. The raises were given at the urgent insistence and solicitation of the superintendent. The minority pointed out that the increase could not be paid this year unless there was a considerable increase in the revenue.

"Every member know this, but many deluded themselves with the idea that we would have a great increase in revenue instead of the decrease which we actually have. The increase cost us $500,000 last year and $500,000 more this year, thus accounting for $1,000,000 of the deficit. The so-called Loeb investigating committee has put into operation economies which have saved $250,000.

Average to Room Slumps.

"There is a rule of the board which requires a minimum of forty-five pupils in each room. We found that the number was dwindling, either by accident or design, until last year there was an average of only forty-two pupils to each room. If the rule were obeyed there would be an approximate saving of $450,000.

"These matters, which come under the direct supervision of the superintendent, show a lack of proper business management. It is the general rule among public officials that if there is something they want and they have no money, they ought to borrow the money. The board is trying to cut down its expenditures to meet its probable revenue. That procedure is so startling that we have subjected ourselves to a storm of criticism.

"We have been told to go out and borro on the theory that we can pay it back. If we do borrow this year we shall have to borrow more next year, and it will not be long before we get to the point where the city will expend in 1915 the taxes that are to be paid in 1916."

FISH PEDDLER SEIZES GIRL; MOTHER COMES TO RESCUE.

Neighbors Chase Man from Alley —He Boards a Lake Street Trolley and Escapes.

Alarmed by the absence of her 5 year old daughter whom she had sent to look for a strawberry peddler, Mrs. Catherine Ward of 231 North Avers avenue went into the alley at the rear of her home yesterday and found the child struggling with a fish peddler. Mrs. Ward grabbed the man and screamed. The man released his hold on the girl, struck Mrs. Ward and fled, leaving his basket of fish.

Neighbors chased the man to Lake street, where he boarded a car and escaped. Mrs. Ward described the man as 30 years old and of stout build. He wore a blue suit.

HIGH SCHOOLS' FINANCES CUT

Board Trims Several Thousand Dollars Off Expenditures for 1915.

High school finances were buffeted about yesterday between members of the board, the superintendent of schools, and the high school principals until an amount totaling several thousand dollars was cut off of the estimated expenditures for 1915. The board was sitting as a finance committee of the whole to work on the budget.

The greatest single cut came in the matter of school supplies, which were cut 25 per cent in all high school appropriations. The saving will amount to about $17,000. The principals were given the right to choose which of the supplies in their schools are to be cut, but they were asked to report on their selections by next Monday.

A Cut of 75 Per Cent.

Another cut of 75 per cent in supplementary reading was authorized by the board. This shows a decrease of $5,000 over the estimates submitted by the superintendent of schools, but amounts to only about $600 less than was spent for supplementary reading last year.

A suggestion was made by Mrs. Young that 2 per cent of the estimates on the salaries of high school teachers could be cut off the total without decreasing or affecting in any manner the salaries of teachers. The difference in the estimate would have amounted to about $38,000.

Case of Overestimating.

Members of the board asserted, however, that it was merely a case of overestimating, and Mrs. Young withdrew her recommendation. The difference was to come through substituting lower paid teachers in place of those who left the service or who died during the year.

Michael J. Collins, president of the board, called a special meeting for this afternoon to consider again the matter of the request of the city council for an investigation of the board

SUSPECT CAUGHT WITH UNMAILED MAFIA LETTER

Locked Up on Charge of Demanding $1,000 from an Italian Grocer.

The Twenty-second street police, in cooperation with federal officials, yesterday arrested Luigi Anello of 259 Twenty-second place, on charges of writing Mafia letters. This is the third arrest in a Black Hand cleanup within two days, and further arrests are impending.

Anello was arraigned before United States Commissioner Mark A. Foote. At the request of Assistant District Attorney Henry R. Harris Jr., who is in charge of Black Hand prosecutions, the bond was fixed at $10,000. The prisoner was locked up in the county jail pending a hearing today.

Show Four Letters.

Postoffice Inspectors Adam E. Otto and John B. Trusel exhibited before Commissioner Foote four letters alleged to have been written by Anello between May 15 and June 1. The letters were addressed to M. Monachino of 266 West Twenty-second place, a grocer.

Monachino aided the police and postal officials in the capture of Anello by pretending willingness to pay the blackmail demanded. The letters demanded payment of $1,000. All the missives are written in Italian and will be translated today.

They were unsigned, but bore crude drawings of crosses in red crayon, black coffins, sawed off shot guns, and daggers pointing to hearts.

Anello was arrested after calling at the grocery store and receiving $250 from Monachino, supposedly in part payment of the $1,000 demanded in the letters. This was part of the ruse adopted to capture the blackmailers. After Anello had received the money detectives in hiding in the rear of the store appeared and placed him under arrest.

Unmailed Letter Found.

Th prisoner was taken before Postoffice Inspector James E. Stuart and searched. Another letter, the fourth in the series, dated June 1, but unmailed, was found in his pocket. This also was addressed to Monachino and demanded payment of $1,000 on penalty of death to himself and his family.

Anello denied he was the writer of the letters. He refused to explain the presence of the unmailed letter in his pocket beyond saying he had helped Monachino read a number of letters, because, he said, the latter is unable to read. The prisoner is 24 years old and is correspondent for a newspaper in Nicosia, Italy.

FORMER P. O. CLERK TO CELL

Judge Landis yesterday sentenced Frederick Charvat, former clerk in foreign division of the main postoffice, to serve two years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas. By order of the court, Charvat turned over to Postoffice Inspector James E. Stuart $1,395 which he confessed he had stolen from letters during the last year. In sentencing the prisoner the judge praised postoffice employés for maintaining a high average of honesty in spite of "outrageously poor pay."

CONVICTS WORK ON HONOR FARM

NO GUARDS ON WATCH.

began some sixty convicts were employed and housed there. This season for some months there have been 136 living in the farmhouses. Under the direction of the farm superintendent, B. H. Faltz, they have put 2,100 acres into crops. They have repaired and rebuilt many of the barns and outbuildings. Yesterday morning a dozen men with riding cultivators were sent out a mile or two from the cottages to cultivate the 650 acres in corn, which already shows a splendid stand.

At noon they came trooping in from all over the great farm in answer to the farm bell which rang for dinner. There was no roll call, no formal attempt to see that all the men were there. They sat down about long tables, more than ninety in the dining room at one group of cottages, and about forty in the other.

Thirty-six Are Murderers.

Among them were thirty-six men sent down to the penitentiary for life for murder. Why don't they run away?

Six men in the two years that the Honor Farm has been running have tried it. Five of them have been caught, brought back and locked up in the stone and iron cages behind the high stone wall for good. There has not been one attempt to escape for more than three months.

There is a bill pending in the present legislature appropriating $350,000 as a start on the building of a new penitentiary. If that bill passes Warden Allen plans to put up some temporary sleeping quarters on the honor farm and to move 300 more honor convicts over there from the penitentiary. That will make a total population of 500 convicts, practically without guards. First of all, under expert direction these men will set to work to build a drainage system which will cover the whole farm. Then they will complete a switch track which will run to the site on which the new cellhouses will be built.

Build Own Prison.

After which, working with cement and iron, the honor convicts will themselves build the first section of the new cellhouses.

Eventually Warden Allen hopes that he or his successors will be able to house and furnish work on the honor farm for perhaps three-quarters of all the convicts sent down to Joliet.

This is in many ways the most remarkable experiment in penology ever attempted in the United States or elsewhere. Before one makes up his mind about it, one way or the other, he will, perhaps, be willing to wait until he reads a more detailed statement of what it means, how it has so far worked, who the men are behind it, and how far it is calculated to serve the twin purposes of punishment and reform.

MRS. SCHULTZ IN NEW YORK

The appeal of F. J. Sullivan of Milwaukee for news of his sister, Mrs. Martin M. Schultz, wife of a broker, was answered yesterday by telephone to THE TRIBUNE. Instead of being on the Isle of Wight in the war zone, as Mr. Sullivan presumed, Mrs. Schultz and her family are said to be at Hotel Grosvenor, Fifth avenue, New York.

CITY DEPARTMENT HEADS ORDERED TO RETRENCH.

Controller Requests Officials to Show How They Intend to Cut Expenses 20 Per Cent.

Reports from every city department head showing how he intends to save 20 per cent of his appropriation during the balance of the year were requested yesterday by the city controller's office.

Circular letters sent to each official informed him that the deficit at the end of the year, unless this economy is brought about, will be $3,750,000. The previous estimate of the amount was $3,000,000 of overappropriation in the annual budget. The greater part of the increase in the estimate is due to the fact that the city will not receive the $600,000 from the railroads as their contribution to the expense of building the new Twelfth street bridge and viaduct. The improvement will not be undertaken this year.

Controller Pike's figures show that the departments spent 33 1-3 per cent of their appropriations during the first four months of the year, although they should have retrenched between 10 and 15 per cent.

SHOOTS HIS ACCUSER DEAD.

When Mike Ross accused his brother-in-law, Salvatore Amory, of alienating the affections of his wife, the latter flew into a rage, pulled a revolver, and shot and killed Mike last night. Ross lived at 426 Lorette court. Amory, who lives at 108 Tilden avenue, told the police he acted in self-defense.

Here's real Paint economy

Paint economy does not lie in the cost per gallon, but in what the gallon will accomplish. Cheap paints cover only 200 to 250 square feet per gallon, two coats. "High Standard" covers 350 to 400 square feet, two coats.

Your painting will require fewer gallons of "High Standard" than of cheaper paint—so many less, in fact, that your painting cost will be lower.

THOMPSON TELLS HOW HE'LL BOOM CITY LAKE FRONT

He Calls Shore Chicago's Greatest Asset in Address to Yacht Club.

The long walk from north side transportation lines to the lake is soon to be a thing of the past. Bathers and dwellers along the lake front within the next ninety days will ride to their destinations in street cars.

Such was the promise made by Mayor Thompson last night at the Chicago Yacht club's annual dinner in the Auditorium hotel. With the promise was coupled an announcement the mayor had signed the ordinance whereby tracks will be laid to the water front on Chicago avenue inside of three months. Work started fifteen minutes after the ordinance was signed.

Sailor in Mayor's Chair.

"As long as there is a sailor in the mayor's chair you may expect him to make a fight for Lake Michigan," said Mayor Thompson.

"Great credit is due to the Chicago Yacht club for our anticipated lake development. I want to say that Chicago can come into its own quicker and easier than we think by developing the lake front. The little seed sown by the club has sprouted and the people are beginning to see what is coming. Chicago's greatest asset—its sleeping asset, and I might say its almost murdered asset—is its lake front.

Up to Chicago.

"It's up to the people of Chicago. My administration will be what you make it. It's not only the 'I Will' spirit, but a 'Get Through' spirit that will make Chicago Greater.

Mr. Simpson of Marshall Field's says that our proposed developments will bring $200,000,000 each summer to Chicago, and I hope he is right. Our city council committees have got new life and spirit and are ready to coöperate with the plan commission at an early day."

"It's the same old story over and over again," said Judge Harry P. Dolan in the Boys' court yesterday as he imposed a fine of $100 and costs on Samuel Cohen, 1139 South Troy street. Cohen was charged with disorderly conduct.

He was found loitering in South Clark street by two detectives of the South Clark street station.

"This boy has been here again and again," the judge continued. "He won't work. His family can't control him. He is too old to be sent to St. Charles. He scales seven years in the psycopathic laboratory. What am I to do with him? The bridewell is not a fit place for him, but if I allow him to roam at large, society will be shocked by a crime one of these days and the police will be blamed."

HOTEL MEN TO SIT TIGHT.

Decide to Take No Action on Demands for Sunday Bar Closing —Will Leave It to Courts.

At a meeting of the Hotel Men's Association of Chicago at the Palmer house yesterday it was decided to take no action on the demands for Sunday closing of hotel bars, but to leave the legality of this to the courts.

The cases against several of the hotels for keeping their bars open on Sunday will be tried June 15.

It was stated by many of the hotel managers that though some hotel bars are now closed in obedience to the demands of the Chicago Law and Order league, violations are made in sale of intoxicants in restaurants, dining rooms, and private clubrooms of those hotels.

A new $200,000 boys' club will be built soon in the most densely populated section of the north side as a memorial to Mrs. Lucy Keep Isham.

The new branch, to be known as the North Side Boys' club, will be equipped and managed to serve the less favored class of boys, to whom membership privileges will be available at a low fee. The building will contain two gymnasiums, a swimming tank, social and class rooms, an assembly room fitted for motion picture lectures and entertainments, and a café where inexpensive meals will be served. There will be an outdoor playground.

In addition to the main building there will be a dormitory annex containing 182 rooms. The buildings are expected to be ready for use by early spring next year.

WOMEN STILL PLAN PROTEST IN MISS M'DERMOTT CASE.

Despite Reinstatement Report They Call Meeting to Uphold Principles of Civil Service Regulations.

The chairman of the committee of arrangements was busy yesterday at the Woman's City club. For letters to more than thirty women's organizations had to be written and sent out for the protest meeting tomorrow.

This meeting was called, according to Miss Mary McDowell, president of the Woman's City club, to consider the dismissal of Miss Valeria McDermott and C. D. Blachly from the public welfare department of the city and to uphold "civil service."

"We shall hold our protest meeting just the same," said Miss S. Grace Nicholes, executive secretary of the municipal citizenship committee, "although Miss McDermott has been reinstated today. There is a principle involved in the dismissal of civil service employés."

ROUTING OF FLY MADE SURE BY UNIFIED SCHEME

Dr. Robertson Tells Medical Society of Plan to Swat Health Foe.

Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson told the Chicago Medical society last night that there has been perfected a coördination between the health, police, and street departments which will make Chicago an unfavorable place for the breeding of the fly.

The commissioner pledged to do his utmost to bring the fly plague to a termination during "Fly week," June 7-12, inclusive.

Foresees Great Advance.

"Surveys of one-fourth of the alleys of Chicago have shown conditions that are enough to make us ashamed to live here," Dr. Robertson said. "However, we have effected a working combination with the street department and the police which, I believe, will accomplish great things."

Dr. W. A. Evans demonstrated the fly lecture slides furnished by the International Harvester company in order that the 200 members of the Chicago Medical society who are expected to volunteer to lecture on the fly may know what is expected of them.

Dr. Evans announced any volunteer lecturers may notify him or Health Commissioner Robertson or William M. Roberts.

Easier than Havana.

"We Americans cleaned up Havana, making it a flyless city, yet Chicago is worse than the average city for flies in this climate," Dr. Evans said. "What was done in Havana in the tropics certainly can be accomplished in Chicago, where the obstacles should be less."

Spray Now or Wear Iron Mask

Your choice lies between a sprayer filled with crude oil and kerosene or a coat of mail and wire mask combination, if you expect to dodge the mosquitoes during the coming season. If you think winter's "flare back" with the resulting cool May is going to mitigate the mosquito crop, you are due to wake up, sadly mistaken, and rubbing your bites. Despite the cool weather, the heavy precipitation of rain more than compensated for the low temperature so far as the breeding of mosquitoes is concerned. Remember the Klondikers who were bitten by millions of 'em up in Alaska near the Arctic circle. Assistant State Entomologist D. K. McMillan is authority for the statement that 1915 is bound to be a banner year for mosquitoes.

SENATE PASSES CARROLL'S 'HOME RULE' BOXING BILL

HOUSE FAVORS NEW MEASURE, POLL PROVES

Local Option Clause Kills Objections Held by Downstate Men.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—The Carroll boxing bill, carrying a local referendum clause so that each city or village must adopt it before becoming effective, was passed by the senate this afternoon. The vote was 28 to 15. The roll call followed a sharp preliminary in which Senator Hull starred in fighting the bill. Senator Jewell of Fulton, who said he attended every scrap in Peoria that he could get to, joined the Hyde Park senator in fighting the measure.

Lieut. Gov. O'Hara gave the backers of the bill full leeway in rounding up the necessary votes. No protest was made to this procedure in any quarter and the necessary twenty-six votes were secured after considerable skirmishing.

Means Home Rule on Boxing.

Immediately after the senate action Representative Epstein took a quick poll in the house among members who voted against the house bill last week. He reported that six members had changed front because of the addition of the referendum clause, which it is claimed eliminates the chief downstate objection that boxing matches might have been staged in any municipality by an order of the state athletic committee. The referendum clause, as the bill is now viewed, will restrict the act to the larger cities of the state and will grant genuine home rule on the boxing proposition.

It is felt that the senate bill has an excellent chance of passing the house if it doesn't get caught in the final hour's jam which started today.

Salary for One Commissioner.

The Carroll bill, now through the senate, is similar in all essential particulars to the defunct house bill, except that there is a single salaried member of the state committee appointed by the governor, who is also secretary of the board. The two additional commissioners serve without pay.

Senator Hull viciously attacked the bill when it was called up by Senator Carroll. He declared it should not be called a boxing bill but a "box office bill." It was a question of financial consideration all the way through, he declared. He denounced the method employed yesterday in advancin gthe bill to third reading and predicted that the same tactics employed in that procedure would mark the administration of the law. "It will be a 'rough house' bill forever," he declared.

Condemns Entire Proposition.

Senator Hull questioned the character of men that would be placed in charge of the administration of the law, and condemned the proposition as undesirable in every way. "It seems to be a case of complimenting Senator Carroll," he said. "I am ready at any time to compliment Senator Carroll, but this seante should be a deliberative body and should not let the matter of compliments enter into the passage of laws. I do not care to be a party to this game of 'you scratch my back and I will scratch yours.'"

At the conclusion of Senator Hull's speech Lieut. Gov. O'Hara asked for his objections to the manner in which the bill had been advanced to third reading yesterday.

"You gave no one an opportunity to offer any amendments," shouted Senator Hull with much heat.

"Did you attempt to gain recognition to offer any amendments?" asked the lieutenant governor.

"I wouldn't have had the opportutnity if I had," retorted Senator Hull.

Dailey Raps Senator Hull.

Senator Dailey of Peoria then took the floor and excoriated Senator Hull for the display of ill temper that had been made. "I am sorry," Senator Dailey said, "that the gentleman has refrained from discussing the merits of the bill and gave such an exhibition of ill temper. The only objection I heard him raise to this bill was that it gives the men appointed to administer this law some discretionary powers. These men are to be appointed by the governor. My judgment is that the men appointed by the governor would not be of the character as to merit their being assailed before appointment by such language as indulged in by the senator from Cook."

Those who voted for the bill were: Senators Baldwin, Bardill, Barr, Boehm, Broderick, Canaday, Carroll, Coleman, Dailey, Denvir, Ettelson, Glackin, Gorman, Haase, Hamilton, Harding, Harris, Herlihy, Hughes, Hurley, Latham, Meeker, McNay, Olson, Roos, Sullivan, Swanson, and Womack. Total, 28.

Votes against the bill were: Senators Austin, Bailey, Campbell, Cleary, Cliffe, Compton, Cornwell, Curtis, Franklin, Hull, Jewell, Landee, Pervier, Piercy, and Smith. Total, 15.

WHITE TO BATTLE THOMAS IN BOSTON RING TUESDAY.

Charley White will meet Charles ("Kid") Thomas in a twelve round bout at Boston on June 8, the weight being 133 pounds at 3 o'clock. White, who is being trained by Joe Thomas, will work at O'Connell's today. With Manager Nate Lewis he will leave on Sunday for Boston.

Ruby Hirsch, Chicago's best featherweight, and Frankie White have been matched to box ten rounds with a decision, in private, on June 17. The weight will be 122 pounds ringside.

Davy Miller will be third man in the ring.

LUCCA WINNER ON POINTS.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 2.—[Special.]—Charley Lucca of Chicago was given an unpopular decision here tonight over Johnny Corbett of Chattanooga after eight fast rounds of fighting. Roy Hurst of Camden, N. J., and Terry Nelson of Chicago fought eight rounds to a draw.

SWEET. SMART. NOTT. SCOTT. FEY.

A TEAM of five athletes has put La Grange on the map in interscholastic athletics. This quintet of stars—Sweet, Smart, Nott, Scott, and Fey—has taken part in six interscholastics this year. It has won two, the University of Michigan classic and the class B title at the University of Illinois games. It was the winner of second places in the Beloit, Lake Forest, and suburban interscholastics, and was third in the annual prep games of Northwestern university. Although the team will be pitted against a strong field in the University of Chicago interscholastic on Stagg field on June 12, it is hopeful of finishing well up in the point column.

WOLGAST LOSES TO LEACH CROSS

New York, June 2.
The decision of "The Tribune's" eastern fight reporter was that Cross won.
(Signed) E. C. CARTER.

BY E. C. CARTER.

New York, June 2.—[Special.]—For seven rounds Leach Cross and Ad Wolgast gave one of the fiercest and most even battles ever seen in the St. Nicholas rink between lightweights in New York. Then the skill and persistency of New York's Ghetto fighter overcame the aggressiveness of the former champion and Cross took a decided lead in the eighth and ninth rounds.

In the final session Wolgast made a better showing, but by that time Cross not only had the fight tucked away, but maintained his advantage to the end.

Floors Cross for Count.

The biggest advantagt gained by Wolgast was in the sixth round, when he caught Cross with a left hook and sent the east sider down for the count. Wary work on the part of Cross held his rushing opponent at bay after he recovered from the telling clip, and at the end of the session the dentist was holding his man, although losing the honors of the round.

In long range fighting Cross had the better of the fight, and in the first round Wolgast was unable to find any range which would help him to reach his man. At the beginning of the second round Wolgast landed a left hook which staggered Cross, and, after receiving much punishment, repeated the dose at the end of the round, which was about even.

Wolgast Leads in Third.

Wolgast took a decided lead in the third, forcing the fighting and landing damaging body blows together with a right hook to the jaw that sent Cross' head back.

Cross started jabbing again in the fourth and as Wolgast rushed the east sider slipped to his knees to receive an unintended blow that was apologized for. At the end Cross was doing all the work and had the round.

Wolgast was at his best in the fifth and sixth periods and, rushing Cross into clinches, had all the better of the fighting. His knockdown in the sixth when it failed to win the battle appeared to take the steam out of the former champion and after holding Cross even in the seventh he went all to pieces.

METROPOLITAN GOLF MEET ATTRACTS FIELD OF 119.

Rye, N. Y., June 2.—One hundred and nineteen golfers took part in the qualifying round of the thirty-six holes medal play for the metropolitan amateur championship over the Apawamis club's links today. More than 100 of these turned in cards, and twenty-nine qualified for championship match play with scores of 168 and under. Nine more were tied with 168 and under. Roy D. Webb of Englewood, N. J., was the medal winner with 78—77—155, just one stroke better than Jerome D. Travers. Kirkby and Walter J. Travis, with 161 each; Findlay S. Douglas, 163; Charles H. Seely, 166, and Fred Herreshoff, 168, were the others who qualified.

CUEISTS TO DOUBLE PURSE.

Lloyd Jevne overcame a deficit of eleven points incurred at Weeghman's and defeated Charley Morin, 150 to 144, in their three cushion match, which finished last night at Flenner's. The match was the second played by the experts for a purse of $200, and as each won one it was decided to play off for a purse of $400, Morin being the challenger. Seventy-five points will be played at Flenner's tonight and seventy-five at Weeghman's tomorrow night.

MURPHY SHADES CROUTCH.

In a private bout last night Stockyards Tommy Murphy shaded Ben Croutch in ten rounds. The boys are middleweights. They put up a warm setto from start to finish. There were no knockdowns.

Soccer Teams Qualify for Finals in Sportsmen's Meet.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Crane and Hyde Park won their matches in the Chicago High School Soccer league tournament of the Sportsmen's club at the White City stadium yesterday. Crane qualified for the final by defeating Wendell Phillips, 4 corner kicks to 2, the high schools having a rule that in the event of a tie the side having the greatest number of corner kicks is winner.

Crane on Defensive.

Wendell Phillips had the wind in the second half and it looked as if it would win as for some time it kept Crane on the defensive, but although the west siders broke away several times neither side was able to get a goal. Lineup:

Crane.		Wendell Phillips.
Perlman	Goal	Kreeger
Golinken	Right back	Barrett
Koehler	Right half back	Hurley
Steinmetz	Cent. half back	Dowd
Hennessy	Outside right	Segal
Smith	Inside right	Swafford
McDorman	Center	Slinon

Corner kicks—Wendell Phillips, 2; Crane, 4. Referee—Haxton.

H. P. Wins by Two Kicks.

Hyde Park defeated Lane by two corner kicks in the replay of their match in the first round which they were unable to finish on Monday. Lane then had only nine men, but with a full team out yesterday it was unable to hold the aggressive youngsters from Hyde Park. Lineup:

Hyde Park.		Lane.
Colvin	Goal	Larsen
Baker	Right back	Clark
Badger	Left back	Jones
Dalley	Right half	Arensen
McCarthy	Center half	McKnight
Simms	Outside right	Breitling
Crane	Inside right	Karas
Birmingham	Center	Collins

SOCCER MEN TO GO EAST.

Vice President P. J. Peel, Treasurer Archibald Birse, President William Cameron of the A. F. L. C., and President G. H. Kirk of the Peel commission will leave tonight to attend the annual meeting of the United States Football association at New York City tomorrow. Peel is a nominee for the presidency.

RECORD ENTRY LIST FOR STAGG'S GAMES

High Schools Already Have Named 215 Athletes for Maroon Prep Meet.

BY MAROON.

The 1915 Stagg's interscholastic, as the annual prep track and field invitation meet under the University of Chicago auspices is called, bids fair to be the biggest of the kind. Manager Merriam of the athletic department announced yesterday that 215 entries from high school and academy track stars had been received. The time limit for the receipt of entries is Monday, June 7.

Solomon Butler, the dusky athlete from Rock Island High school, who last year carried off the individual honors as the representative of the Hutchinson, Kas., High school, has entered both dashes, the hurdles, broad jump, shotput, and discus throw. His record for versatility is matched by that of Lloyd Smart, a former winner also, of La Grange High school. Smart will compete in the furlong, half mile, low and high hurdles, and the broad and high jumps. His teammate, Fey, will enter the 220, the hurdles races, and the jumps.

Allegan, Mich., a team formerly represented by high point winners, was the first school to register. Hyde Park High entered its entire team of twenty-five track men and registered another twenty-five competitors in the interscholastic tennis tourney in connection with the meet.

Oklahoma City, Fort Smith, Ark.; El Paso, Brookings, S. D.; Shawneem, Okla., and Minneapolis Central High are some of the distant schools to make entries.

ILLINI LOSE STAR JUMPER.

Urbana, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—Harry Gill's scant hopes of defending the track championship in the conference meet on Saturday received another blow today when Carter, his star broad jumper, went to the hospital with a boil on his foot. Carter was expected to give Stiles of Wisconsin a hard fight for first place in the jump.

START LONG WALK TONIGHT.

Veteran Dan O'Leary has secured sixteen entries for the 200 mile walk to be held tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at Madison Gardens. Four more men will be picked to complete the list. O'Leary also will be a competitor. The race will start at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. The first prize is $100. Over forty young walkers have entered for the fifty mile event.

I. G. U. Meet Tonight.

Eighteen units of the International Gymnastic union will hold the center of the stage at the carnival tonight. Over 150 athletes, some connected with the C. A. A. and I. A. C., will compete. All the standard track and field contests will be staged, in addition to a three mile run.

Cyclists Who Will Ride to Coast.

W. B. GASS C. J. GRIMME

W. B. GASS and C. J. Grimme, two inhabitants of Elkhart, Ind., are in Chicago completing preparations for a bicycle trip to San Francisco. Gass made a cycle tour of the southwest last year, exhibiting moving pictures of the White Sox-Giants world tour. Grimme has just recovered from a long siege of sickness and with him the trip will be a search for health. He formerly resided here and his folks are Chicagoans.

MAYOR GUEST OF HONOR AT YACHTSMEN'S BANQUET.

Mayor William Hale Thompson was the guest of honor at the annual dinner given by the Chicago Yacht club at the Auditorium hotel last night. The mayor, who was commodore of the organization for two terms, told his fellow yachtsmen of the progress of the plans for the development of the lake front and predicted that Chicago would become the greatest aquatic city in the world. Among the other speakers were President Charles H. Wacker and Managing Director Walter D. Moody of the Chicago plan commission, Commodore William A. Lydon, Judge George A. Carpenter, Charles Dering, and Congressman Martin B. Madden. Wilbur D. Nesbit acted as toastmaster. One of the features was the exhibition of moving pictures of yachting on Lake Michigan. The dinner was attended by 250 members and their friends.

BIG SPEEDWAY ALMOST READY FOR PRACTICE

BY KEENE GARDINER.

Chicago's two mile speedway will be ready for driver and car tomorrow night when Contractor Shanks will have completed the task of finishing the course in thirty-six actual working days. The army of 1,500 workmen who have been working steadily for the last six weeks on the job of encircling the 330 acre tract will be removed from that scene of activity and placed on the task of completing the bleachers, grand stands, board walks, and roads surrounding the course.

Conditions were such yesterday that a car could have been driven over the track at top speed, but the contractor wanted two extra days to put on the finishing touches to insure both patron and driver that the oval would be in the best shape possible for record breaking feats.

Quicksands Cause Delay.

But for the quicksands discovered in the digging of the subways, the track would have been prepared for the first test a week ago. Special supports were necessary and double the amount of concrete used to insure safety of these four entrances which lead from the outer track to the parking space. Ten more days will be necessary before the stands are fully completed.

Probable cost, $1,250,000.
About 11,500,000 feet of lumber.
Three miles of fence, costing $15,000.
Fifteen miles of sewers.
Team bill of $50,000.
Forty thousand cubic yards of concrete.
One thousand five hundred workmen.
Cost of stands, $250,000.
Seats for 100,000.
Parking space for 100,000.
Fifteen thousand tons of steel for stands.

Will Practice Next Week.

With the course ready for practice tomorrow, the vanguard of forty pilots will be on the scene the latter part of the week, while most of the drivers will have their mounts in shape for initial drills early next week. In the meantime most of the drivers who competed in the Indianapolis race will be refitting their cars.

STARS TO COMPETE IN RUN.

Officials of the Mystic A. C., which is to stage a ten mile run in Grant park on June 12, yesterday announced that indications point to a field of star runners contesting. Entries for the event close on June 9. Five Illinois Athletic club athletes are among those who already have entered.

You'll sure get yours

by the beat-'em-to-it division if you'll stand pat just about long enough to buy some Prince Albert tobacco. Then the cards read: Jam your old jimmy pipe brimful to the spilling-spot, or roll a makin's cigarette, strike fire with a match—and go on. For you've got a through ticket.

That's all there is to it—this digging fun out of a pipe or a cigarette—if you follow suit and play the game via P. A., because then you've switched to the right track! And your tongue will be fine-like-silk whether you smoke one load or a hundred!

For Prince Albert is made by a patented process that cuts out tongue-bite and throat-parch! Now, you just let it sift in that no tobacco ever was, or can be, made like Prince Albert, the national joy smoke.

Cut-loose with a pipe or a cigarette and a tidy red tin of P. A. and swing open your chest to some genuine smoke-sunshine. For then you'll qualify to be a real and true pipe-r on the P. ASSAULT BY TIGERS BEATS WHITE SOX IN FINAL, 4 TO 1

HEAVY ATTACK IN TWO ROUNDS DOWNS LEADERS

Benz, Scott, and Russell Fail to Stop Detroit; Series Even.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Chicago's proud White Sox were battered into defeat in the final home game yesterday when the Detroit Tigers assaulted Joe Benz with vim and vigor in the eighth inning and raked in a victory.

The final count was 4 to 1. The Sox split even on the series of four combats with Jennings' ferocious men and left for an invasion of the east last night, still leading the pennant race by a game and a half.

Harry Covaleski, the noted southpaw, was the honored hurler of the day, holding the aspiring south siders to six hits. The one run resulted when Rowland's men bunched three of their swats in the seventh round for the first run of the day.

Tigers Stage Big Rally.

At the time it looked as if that run ought to win the game, but in the next round Detroit's sluggers drove Joe Benz off the rubber and put the game away with three big tallies.

Scott succeeded Benz, then yielded to a pinch hitter in the last of the eighth. Reb Russell finished the slabbing and the Tigers scored one off him in the ninth for good measure.

Beautiful weather helped to draw a crowd for the final home game. At least 7,000 loyal rooters turned out to enjoy the June air and the pastime.

Bush's Triple Wasted.

It looked like Detroit would run off with the victory when Donnie Bush opened the contest with a screaming triple to right center. He hit the first pitched ball and made third with ease, but he was still there after the next three batters had been retired.

The Sox opened strong also when Quinlan led off with a single, but Schalk slapped into a double play, killing that chance.

Double plays in the second and fourth spoiled five openings for the Tigers and in the seventh it looked as if a lot of Detroit persons would score when they got the bases filled with only one out, but nary a man got home.

Kavanagh Starts Attack.

Kavanagh started that attack with a beauty bunt down the third base line. Breton let it roll, for it seemed sure of going foul. However, the ball hugged the line and went for a hit. Young sacrificed, then Fournier dropped McKee's fly and Covaleski got a scratch hit, filling the bases. In this crisis, Bush popped out and Vitt rolled to Brief.

In the last of the seventh the Sox did some bang up hitting and got one run. With one out, E. Collins cut a single to left and went to third when Fournier hit safely to right. J. Collins beat out a bunt and E. Collins counted. Blackburne and Brief couldn't continue the assault, each dying on a fly ball.

The Sox rally wasn't worth shucks for the sluggers of the Tiger team came up in the eighth and slaughtered everything in sight. Benz was driven off the mound and Scott rushed to the rescue.

Cobb Singles at Start.

Cobb was first up and rapped a single to left. Crawford followed with a red hot double down the right foul line and fast fielding by John Collins held Cobb at third. He scored a moment later when Veach grounded out to Brief. Then Kavanagh pulled a single to left, sending Crawford home. Young got an infield hit on a roller which Benz couldn't handle in time. Benz then retired and Scott took the job. He walked McKee, filling the bases, then Coveleski died on a grounder to Breton, Kavanagh scoring, and Bush ended the assault with a pop to E. Collins.

Fancy base running by Ty Cobb gave the Tigers another tally in the ninth. With one out, Tyrus singled, stole second and third and after Crawford popped out he came home on Veach's scratch single.

The Sox called out the pinch hitters in the eighth, but accomplished nothing, and the real hitters were helpless in the final attack. Score:

NOTES OF THE WHITE SOX.

Hap Felch limped on to the train with the Sox party. He thinks his ankle will be reduced to normal size in a few days.

Buck Weaver watched the game yesterday from the grand stand, as he still is serving time for his misbehavior of Monday. Buck will be eligible to play tomorrow.

A swell running catch by John Collins in the fifth beat the Tigers out of one or two runs. Runners were on first and second, with one out, when John did his stunt.

Immediately after the game the Sox took a flyer for Boston, where they open a four game series tomorrow. Manager Rowland took his entire crew of twenty-one players.

Owner Comiskey and a party of Woodland bards left last night on a fishing excursion at Camp Jerome, in Wisconsin. Secretary O'Neil will wire the results of the games in the east to the Old Roman in camp.

In the Wake of the News

By RING W. LARDNER

FREND HARVEY. I am writeing to leave you know what am I doing today so if you come in the ofice and Im not there you will know where I am onily dont try and reach me or you might interup what Im doing and spoil a good storey for the paper Fri. and may be Sat.

Im going out to the hotel where the Tigers stops at when there in Chi and I will get there a long a bout high Noon and may be get ast to lunch but I will reffuse because I dont never indulge my self in lunch but if Im ast I will go in and set with who ever ast me and hear what they got to say. Thats what Im going out for Harvey is to hear what the diffrunt Tigers got to say and write it up for the paper and Mr. Dusinberry has been telling you what the Tigers done wile they was here but not nothing a bout what they said. So Im going to get a bold of some interviews with them like may Tiny use to do with the diffrunt stage cellbates beffore they was such a thing like moveing pitcher bugs to bother her.

I cant tell in the advance who I will talk to because you cant never tell a bout ball players weather they will proove frendly or not and some of them will may be give you a cold stair even if you was borne in the same town a long with them and never knocked them in your life accept may be to say there bone heads and sliping and so 4th. But Im pretty sure I will get a warmed reception from some of them includeing Donie bush because he use to play S. S. on the S. Bend club when I was oficial score and I use to give him a base hit evry time the umps dident call it foul, and Oscar Vitt because he will talk to any body the umps inclusive, and geo. Moriarty because I and him is fellow song writers you might say and the onily diffrunts between us is that he gets some of his sogs publish. and hugh Jennings because he would be afrade to turn down a repporter on acct. of he might get the life rosted out of him. and Jean Dubuc because he use to go to notre dame, and Harry Convalescent or how ever do you spell it because he give me a good storey onct a bout the Cubs and told me to not print it and I dident. and Sam Crawford because I says in the paper onct that he was a good hitter and last but not leased Cobb on acct. of me writeing a hole storey with he as the Hero and I says some mighty nice things a bout him.

I all so know Kavanaugh but cant be sure wether he will speak to me or not on acct. of him not getting no hits yest. and of coarse it was Fabers falt not mine but that dont make no diffrunts to a man like him thats got tempermunt. But if none of the ball players will talk to me I am pretty sure jimmy Burke the coach and Harry Tuthill the traner will have a few kind wds. to say because Im not no umpire and an other reason why they 2 and all the rest of them should ought to be glad to see me and that is because I wont ask them for no pass to the game like most of the peopl that gos a round to see a ball club at there hotel in the A. M.

But I will know better a bout it this P. M. and this note is to just leave you know why I aint in the office and to tell the public they better read the paper Fri. morning and may be Sat. Respy. R.

FOUR MICHIGAN PLAYERS "PROS"

Dropping of Baseball May Follow Blow by "Purity Board."

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 2.—[Special.]—Athletic Director Bartelme and Prof. Whitney, chairman of the board in control of athletics, are both of the opinion that baseball will be abolished as an intercollegiate sport at Michigan as the result of the charges of the "purity committee." Capt. McQueen, Sheehy, McNamara, and Maltby were declared professionals by this committee, which tried to keep the names of the men secret and use the information as a club to force the Michigan athletic board to indorse summer baseball.

The Wolverine authorities are opposed to summer ball, however, and as they have evidently failed in their effort to keep the team free from summer players, the board will abolish the sport.

Coach Lundgren will be retained to direct class games, it is understood, and the two games with Notre Dame and the Pennsylvania series will be played out.

The purity committee does not believe conditions are any worse at Michigan than elsewhere, and has made public the fact that it found the eligibility committee had written letters to the school authorities where the various Michigan athletes prepared in an effort to check them up.

The board got the goods on Hughitt this year and refused to let him play and also took the letter away from Webber, a former player, who admitted being a professional. Webber is the man in charge of the "purity" committee work and revenge is charged as the motive.

Notes of the Whales.

St. Louis again today.

In four days the Whales dropped three games to left handed hurlers. Packard, Cullop and then Plank trimmed them. Inability to hit southpaw shoots cost the Weeghmans a pennant last year.

One of the attaches of the park rushed up to Charley Williams with a mushroom which he found in the scenic area in front of the grounds. Charley hurried out and gathered a hat full of edible fungi.

St. Louis kicked hard on the decisions of Umpire Westervelt on the bases. Their misery was made complete when McCormick refused to call a balk on Prendergast after Mike caught Deal off third in the seventh.

CUBS TO RETURN HOME LEADERS

Near Rain Prevents Final at Pittsburgh — At Grand Rapids Tomorrow.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 2.—[Special.]—Chicago's Cubs were obliged to leave town tonight without a chance to get even with the Pirates for the double defeat of Monday. Today's game was called off on account of damp weather and the Pirate officials declined to use the open date tomorrow to play off the postponement.

Pittsburgh and Detroit had arranged to play an exhibition game tomorrow in Syracuse, N. Y., and, rather than disappoint the Saline city fans, the Pirates were shipped to Syracuse tonight instead of being here to dispose of a National league championship games. Judging by yesterday's attendance the Pirate owners will get more net revenue by exhibiting in a minor league city than by playing a real game here, unless weather conditions improve.

Too Cold and Raw.

It did not rain enough to hurt anything, but it was cold and raw, and what rain leaked out of the skies came just before time to start the scrap. As there was nobody clamoring at the gates to get into Forbes field, the gates were not opened and the athletes were dismissed to patronize the movies. The rain then ceased, and the game could have been played all right—to empty benches. It will be worked off as a double header here either on July 7 or Aug. 17.

Manager Bresnahan objected to doubling up on July 7, as the Cubs already are booked for two games in Cincinnati on July 6, and Roger puts the pennant prospects of his team above the profits. So the Pittsburgh club probably will agree to play off today's game on Aug. 17.

Cubs Leave for Home.

The Cubs left for home this evening without their manager. He went to Toledo by an earlier train to spend tomorrow with his folks. Vic Saier also was excused from the trip. He went to his home in Lansing for a day off, with orders to report in Grand Rapids for Friday's exhibition game there. The Elks of Grand Rapids are planning to make the Cubs a centerpiece for their celebration in the Furniture city, and Roger de manager plans to send as many of his regulars as are fit to play.

Good was too badly lamed up to work today after the spill he gave himself in the first inning of yesterday's game, and will not be asked to go to Grand Rapids. Archer probably will manage the expedition. The Cubs will return home in first place, no matter what happens to Philadelphia, but they would have liked to make it a wider margin for the lead by beating the Pirates again today. Bert Humphries was all set to do the slab work and expected to deliver another shutout game.

Meet Giants Saturday.

The Bresnahans will resume their battle for the pennant on Saturday at the home grounds, with New York as an opponent. The team has been kept on the road most of the time this season by a poorly arranged schedule, but will have a long stay on the west side. The Cubs have twenty games to play at home before hitting the ties again. These include four games with each of the four eastern teams, to be followed by four games with St. Louis. With the exception of Good, the men are all in fighting trim.

BASEBALL INJURY IS FATAL.

Evansville, Ind., June 2.—[Special.]—Walter Genter, 17 years old, died here today from concussion of the brain caused by being hit with a baseball while playing last Sunday.

WHALES CANNOT WHALE CURVES OF EDDIE PLANK

Locals Are Trounced, 2 to 1, by St. Louis and Fall to Fourth Position.

BY J. J. ALCOCK.

Weeghman's Whales sank two fathoms in the Federal league sea by allowing Eddie Plank and the St. Louis outfit commanded by Fielder Jones to grab the best part of a 2 to 1 score yesterday. Mike Prendergast, who had five straight victories to his credit, was forced to accept his first defeat of the season.

Monday the Whales were sharing first place in the odd league with Pittsburgh's Rebels. This morning the Tinkers are planted in fourth position. That means the Feds are putting on one of the closest races ever staged in any circuit. Kansas City mounted on the top, on even terms with Pittsburgh, by licking the Rebels. Newark jumped ahead of the Whales by lacing Baltimore in an overtime battle. Although at the bottom of the first division, the Whales are only half a game astern the leaders.

Miller Makes Home Run.

A home run over the right wall by Ward Miller, who used to inhabit a Cub uniform, started the visitors to victory. That happened in the second round. A single and a long double produced the deciding run for St. Louis in the unfortunate seventh.

Always weak against left handers, the Whales were like children before the masterly heaving of Plank. Eddie pitched just as carefully as he ever did in a world series combat, and his southpaw shoots completely mystified the locals. Only four hits were garnered off his curvations. He refused to sign a pass, and the only St. Louis error merely let a baserunner advance, so only four locals got on the paths. One of them scored, one was doubled up, and two were stranded.

In six of the nine rounds Plank set down three men in a row. Farrell started the Whales to their one tally when he opened the third with a double. Jackson skied and Prendergast fanned, but Hanford sent home Farrell with a clean single into left. Hanford reached third when Ward Miller's throw to the plate escaped Hartley, but Zwilling's infield demise left him there.

Tinker Gets a Hit.

Hanford and Farrell were the only local athletes to reach third. With one dead in the fourth, Wilson singled, but he was doubled immediately with Zelder. Manager Tinker, who jumped in at short in an effort to bolster the hitting strength of the club, connected with the fourth hit off Plank, in the fifth. Farrell sacrificed his boss to second, but Joe died there when Plank struck out Jackson and Prendergast. Twelve Whales went out without anybody reaching first in the last four innings.

Prendergast likewise gave a pretty exhibition of pitching. St. Louis gathered only six hits off his blubber ball. Only in the seventh were two blows bunched, but that combination beat Sir Michael.

After Miller hit his homer in the second Mike went along smoothly till the seventh. Babe Borton, once a White Sox, started that session with his second single. Miller popped out trying to sacrifice and Hartley forced Borton at second. Charley Deal of world series fame spilled he beans by ramming a double to the left fence, sending Hartley over the plate. Zeider let the return ooze through him and Deal reached third. He was caught off watch by Prendergast on what looked like a palpable balk. Umpire McCormick didn't see the violation of the hurling rules, so Deal was called out. Score:

ROBINS TROUNCE QUAKERS TWICE

Coombs Helps Win Opener, 7 to 2, and Smith Lands the Second Contest, 4 to 3.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 2.—Brooklyn won both games of today's double header from Philadelphia, 7 to 2 and 4 to 3. Coombs played an important part in winning the first game, scoring two runs and figuring in a batting rally in the fourth inning. Sherrod Smith returned to the slab in the second game after several weeks' layoff, holding the visitors to six hits. Scores:

GIANTS AND BRAVES IN TIE.

Boston, Mass., June 2.—New York and Boston played ten innings to a 5 to 5 tie in shivering weather today. The game was called because of darkness. Six New York runners actually crossed the home plate, but one run was lost in an unusual manner. Burns, from third base, had raced for home when Moran caught Doyle's fly. The Boston outfielder threw the ball toward the home plate, but Capt. Doyle of the Giants intercepted it at first base. It was his contention that the ball was too late to catch Burns at home. The umpires ruled that his interference retired the base runner and the score was lost. Score:

PREP NINE PULLS TRIPLE PLAY AND THREE PLY STEAL

Holy Trinity Works Odd Stunts in 11 to 3 Victory Over St. Philips.

BY OTTO A. ENGEL.

Featuring with a triple play and also with a triple steal, Holy Trinity defeated St. Phillips, 11 to 3, at Loudine grounds in the Catholic league yesterday. Szymanski, right fielder, winged a sharply hit ball back to Shortstop Zielinski, who tagged second base and then touched the runner coming from first. Schneider, Palubicki, and Lisewski pulled the triple steal in the eighth, when the victors scored four runs. Score:

SEVERE BREAKING OUT AROUND MOUTH

Itched and Burned. Scratched Causing It to Spread All Over Face. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. All Healed Inside of Ten Days.

Sprague, Wis.—"I have used Cuticura Soap and Ointment with marked success. I had a severe breaking out around my mouth which itched and burned causing me to scratch. That caused it to spread all over my face and it broke out in little blisters then got rough. It nearly set me crazy some days.

"I had been using other remedies without success until I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap and the first two applications gave me great relief. I used the Cuticura Soap to bathe with and Cuticura Ointment right afterwards. I kept on using them until they removed all traces of the breaking out. Inside of ten days it was all healed up." (Signed) Mrs. O. I. Gewin, July 27, 1914.

The delicate yet effective super-creamy emollient properties, derived from Cuticura Ointment, render Cuticura Soap most valuable in overcoming a tendency to distressing eruptions and promoting a normal condition of skin and hair health.

Keep the Corners of Your Mouth Up, Says

[Copyright: 1915: By Antoinette Donnelly.]

DO you want to know the greatest beauty secret yet discovered? Do you want to prove it for yourself? Well, it won't take more than one minute to do it. And it is so absolutely self-convincing that I am not going to attempt to support my statement with evidence from renowned authorities, although there's plenty of it at hand.

If you have a mirror in your home the evidence will be written there as convincingly as the handwriting on the wall in Belshazzar's palace. Stand in front of your mirror with your eyes open. Turn down the corners of your mouth, if they aren't already down. Now turn them up. Presto! Is it the same woman you see there? Is there another beauty trick to your knowledge that can effect as rapid a transformation?

Now for another test: Next time you feel worried or blue force up the corners of your mouth. Try to see how long you can retain the blues and the worries with your mouth curved upward. It can't be done! If you want to be blue you have to keep the corners of your mouth down.

Or for a third test: Walk along any crowded thoroughfare or into any gathering of women. Look at the corners of their mouths. Who are the pretty women? Why, those with the corners of their mouths up, of course!

That's why I want every woman to make her beauty slogan:

Answers to Queries.

Mrs. L.: You should brush your hair at least once a day. And you should make it a deep brushing of the entire scalp. Your hair will not grow unless you keep the circulation in the scalp stimulated by regular and thorough brushing. The loose hairs must be ready to fall out or they would not come out, as you say. But you need not worry over them, for if you are constant and regular with your brushing these hairs will soon be replaced by new and vigorous ones.

Mary: The disagreeable dreams and "nightmares" and the general restlessness are generally associated with indigestion and biliousness. This trouble may be overcome by keeping the liver in good condition. Don't drink any coffee at dinner or before going to bed.

Louise: I should not worry about my weight if I were you, Louise. You weigh five pounds less than the standard weight given for a girl of your height and age.

A. V.: You should use a good cleansing cream on your face once a day at least. I think your skin needs a cream with oils in it. The greaseless creams often cleanse satisfactorily but they do not soften or feed the skin. I shall be glad to send you formula for an excellent cleansing cream if you will send me stamped, addressed envelope.

Eva: Every day bathe your eyes in a solution of ten grains of boric acid to an ounce of water. The most convenient method is to use an eye cup. The cup has an oval mouth which fits around the eye at the margin of the orb.

If you have any beauty problem upon which you wish the advice or need the help of an expert write to Antoinette Donnelly, Chicago Tribune. If you wish a personal reply, inclose stamped addressed envelope.

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for every letter published on "How I Helped My Hair." If you have discovered how to make your hair grow, how to keep it clean, healthy, and beautiful write your experience in at once. Address Antoinette Donnelly, "Chicago Tribune."

THE TRIBUNE COOK BOOK
BY JANE EDDINGTON

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

Hot Strawberry Jam.

OF all the jams that of strawberry is considered the best. It is rather a nice task to make a jam that will keep, but during the strawberry season even the careless cook can enjoy strawberry jam to her heart's content. And it is good and gratifying hot for breakfast, eaten en compote, at the last, and not with bread.

There is a sort of economy in hot strawberry jam that is worth practicing. Strawberry sirup is an excellent thing to have on hand for summer drinks, and it is easy to get a nice cup of it or a little more out of a quart of berries, and have the strawberries for jam as well. Our mothers used to make strawberry shrub as they did raspberry shrub by a process that is today expensive. The berries were covered with vinegar for a day or two, then the liquid was strained off and new berries added to it, and this was done often for three times, before measure for measure of sugar was added to the strained liquid, and the whole cooked to a sirup.

Vinegar, which is truly sour wine, we know, is not the best thing in the world for long life and health, even when we are strong enough to withstand its ravages. A strawberry sirup for fruit lemonades and punches made with water will keep the summer through in fine flavor, and that is long enough. Double strength sirup may be made by straining the liquid off one lot of cooked berries and cooking a second lot in it, then adding the sugar.

Strawberry Jam and Sirup.

Hull and wash strawberries and put a quart to cook with hardly more than half a cup of water. Cook up and strain, and to the berries add sugar to taste, and cook for a minute or two before serving. The berries may be cooked the night before, strained and heated up with sugar in the morning. Add measure for measure of sugar to the liquid or a little less, and cook to sirup stage. Do not use for any kind of jam berries which are bunchy and unripe at the tip.

BRIGHT SAYINGS of the CHILDREN

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The stories may be sent in either by children or their parents. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, "Tribune," Chicago.

Little Dick's grandmother, exhausted by many gallops about the room, said sternly: "Now, Dick, grandma's tired of playing horse; I won't be your horse any longer." For a moment Dick looked annoyed and started to take off the lines, when he brightened up, saying: "Well, grandma, would you raver be a mule?"

Mrs. F. G. W.

My little niece was out snow balling last winter and was annoyed by a little boy, who was also snow balling. Her mother asked her what she did to the little boy for hitting her with snowballs, to which she replied, "O, I got handy."

FLICKERINGS from FILM LAND
by KITTY KELLY

Ruling on Griffith Film Due Today.

Decision on the petition for an injunction restraining the city from preventing the exhibition of the film play, "The Birth of a Nation," at the Illinois theater is expected in the Superior court today.

The bill was filed yesterday by Attorneys Burkhalter & Grossberg, representing Joseph J. McCarthy, who is in charge of the film in Chicago. The attorneys state in the document that the film has been barred by reason of the activities of a group of Chicago negroes seeking notoriety among their own race. In defense of the teachings of the film it is stated that the characteristics of both white and black races as they existed during the period of reconstruction following the civil war are portrayed with truth, but that it does not pretend that the conditions of a historical period that is past exist at the present time.

The huge cost of the film is emphasized, together with the summary that the exhibition is of high artistic merit and is of great educational value both historically and geographically.

Films Supplant Cabareting.

Music or movies, which would you rather eat to? In Buenos Aires, explains Winfield Sheehan, general manager of the Fox Film company, who is on his way New Yorkwards from Los Angeles, pictures substitute in all the restaurants for cabareting. They grind them off all day long, in accompaniment to soup or sinkers, and the market, finding difficulty in acquiring the European films to which it has been accustomed, is opening United Stateswards.

Mr. Sheehan has been west arranging for studio headquarters in the sunny city for winter use, and in the process he picked out a few stars and directors, he says, among them Allan Dwan, now with Famous Players, and his new leading lady, Mrs. Dwan, more generally known as Pauline Bush, a Universal star; Oscar Apfel, a Morosco-Bosworth director, and Raoul Walsh, Majestic actor and director. These people will begin work in the New York studio the middle of June.

The Fox Film corporation is a year old, now employing eleven directors, having started in with only one, and producing a schedule of one feature a week.

Next Chaplin Film Will Be 'Work'

Charles, the Chaplin, at last has a new picture arrived in Chicago, though not yet for release. It's title is "Work," and it will be given an advance showing to exhibitors today at the regular Essanay exhibition at 1 o'clock, postponed from Monday. The Essanayers declare it is the funniest ever.

Filmoids.

"Her Own Way"—Clyde Fitch's, done into a picture containing Florence Reed and much furniture, is the first sample of Metro I have seen. It indicates that Metro is very long on furniture and facial expression and so generous in supplying detail as quite to swamp the screen with bric-a-brac through which the actors have difficulty penetrating. Their main method of approach is facial gymnastics and they work hard to keep the audience from escaping the impression that they are flirting, heavy villaining, heroing and the like. All but Miss Reed, that is, and she succeeds, in spite of the furniture and facial gymnasts, in demonstrating that she possesses a very charming and effective screen personality, even in this ginger-bready production. In the process of following everybody's way but her own as to love and money she enlists the observer's sympathy and interest to the extent of watching willingly through the rococo.

"Gasoline Gus" (Komic-Mutual)—A funny fiction about a ——— turned into a jitney bus by ———, the hated rival, who trundles the hero and heroine into the ditch—the Venice lagoon, to be explanatory—while angrily pursued by the peppery papa who owned the ———.

"The Fable of the Intermittent Fusser" (Essanay)—A typical Georgeadian filmization of the youth who fussed through his youth futilely and then when he was a hardened bachelor fell in love with a thump with a "half-portion"—meaning that she was just 18.

"Those College Girls" (Keystone)—Smashing holes in the proprieties in the gay and festive fashion of Keystones, doing it so rapidly that one has no time to be shocked in the effort of keeping up with the cumulative fun. Rather less hard on the proprieties than usual, and awfully funny.

"The Secret Well" (Kalem)—Such a hectic collection of horrors and general fist-fighting as makes one realize that the art of motion pictures is still lingering around the paleozoic period, in spite of some top-notch achievements. These two reels that circulate through the neighborhood picture theaters are what the multitude sees.

"The Lonesome Heart" (American Mutual Masterpiece)—Featuring Margarita Fischer as a sample of the Orphant Annie sentiment. And a very good orphan does that festive lady make scrubbing the smaller orphans, playing with a toad, writing notes to her imaginary mother. It is rather the cut and dried orphan story, with a runaway and a nice young man figuring in it as per custom, but it is nicely done and full of pleasant humanness that makes it very seeable.

Doris Blake Says

"Women are a delusion—that's why men hug them, mebbe!"

Have you a perplexing love affair? Do you need the advice of a sympathetic, capable woman? Write to Doris Blake, care "Chicago Tribune." Inclose a stamped, addressed envelope if you wish a personal reply.

He Is Bashful.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a man 27 years old, live in a neighborhood where there are very few young ladies. Have a horse and buggy, but am quite bashful. How can I overcome it? Also how may I become acquainted with some nice girl in town or adjoining neighborhood? I live in the country and am working on a farm and do not go out more than once or twice a week on an average. I do not drink at all or use tobacco to any extent.

"D. B."

Why don't you ask some of your friends in town to introduce you to the nice girls? If you have a horse and carriage it wouldn't be hard for you to get into town a little oftener than once a week. I am sure that if you make up your mind you are going to make friends, and forget that you are bashful, you will soon have just as many friends as any one.

This Is Easy.

"Dear Miss Blake: A boy friend of mine and I had quite a time 'chewing the rag' over a question and as we couldn't agree I volunteered to write to you and find out which is correct.

"When a boy is escorting a girl home which arm should he offer if they should come to a bad place in the walk or a stretch of uneven ground?"

He should offer her the arm nearest to her.

The Gardener at Work

Roses for Every One.

WHEN the Dorothy Perkins begins to open its shell pink blossoms upon arches or porch pillars, and the crimson rambler shakes out its superb trusses of red bloom to greet June weather, then the Chicago gardener remembers that there are roses which survive the winter and the attacks of the allied bugs, spiders, and plant lice of many nations.

The Chicago region has its hardy hybrid perpetual roses. Given a rich soil, free watering, frequent spraying with hellebore and Bordeaux mixture for insects and fungus, and covering in winter, and there is no reason why every yard should not have its hardy bush of pink, red, white, or yellow and a climber to beautify a trellis.

A dollar investment in a Baltimore Belle, a Gen. Jacqueminot, and the tea rose, Marechal Niel, is money to bring roses for years if the plants are respected.

Very good colonies of hardy roses can be bought for as small a sum as $1.50. They have been tested in the climate. The Clio and Mme. Plantier are a fine white, the Mrs. John Laing a beautiful fragrant pink, the Marshall P. Wilder a red, and the Gloire Lyonnaise a rare yellow.

Fashions from London

LONDON.—[Special Correspondence.]—Embroidery is taking all sorts of interesting forms these days. Narrow braid is applied lavishly over stamped designs, and embroidery, preferably worked with silk thread, is seen in bold and startling designs. Then, too, there is an embroidered novelty with beads and bugles. These bugles are put to a bizarre use in being made to simulate darning.

I saw a striking frock of midnight blue taffeta made up with this trimming. The design was a flat conventionalized rose and brought into play on both the skirt and the waist. There were pockets suspended from the belt line and these pockets were covered with this darning in heavy white silk. With this were the simulated bugles, and the whole effect was decidedly attractive.

This black and white note in taffeta is much seen both in Paris and this city now. It is essentially a smart effect and at the same time it is a serviceable one. The taffeta sheds dust and is easily cleaned, while it is light weight, also, and cool. Then the contrasting note is always a striking one and distinctive.

Sports coats of taffeta in white and black or black and white are rapidly pushing worsted sweaters out of their place of honor. New ones made, too, of taffeta and satin in stripes, suggest the old time "blazer" in color and effect, but are not quite so wide.

An evening frock of watermelon pink satin and beige tulle. On the belt there is dull gold embroidery.

SOCIETY and Entertainments

Farwells to Build Home in Chicago.

BY CINDERELLA.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR FARWELL of Lake Forest have taken the first steps towards having a house of their own in Chicago.

Mr. Farwell recently bought the corner of Goethe street and Ritchie place and the little red house that stood on it. Ernest Noyes had expected to continue so indefinitely in the little red house, but he was doomed to disappointment, because the new owner asked for it at once, and a few days later it was a complete ruin. The plans are said to be modern, and beautiful and the Farwells hope to be in their new domicile by Christmas.

Mrs. Farwell's sister, Mrs. George Carpenter, wife of the judge, instead of building, has taken the old Isham house in North Dearborn street, which has a large garden space round it, and is remodeling it, and the George Higginsons have taken the Carpenter house in Bellevue place and given up their Rush street house, which has been the scene of many a gay frolic.

Artistic honors are befalling the lovely Miss Julia Cooley, only daughter of Harlan Ward Cooley of 5318 Greenwood avenue, whose wife is also widely known as president of the Chicago Woman's club.

Miss Cooley is beautiful as a young Hebe, tall and most divinely fair, with dark eyes set wide apart, and features delicately molded as a Greek marble. Furthermore, she is sweet, unaffected, and a college girl, also gifted with her pen.

Two poems signed "Julia Cooley" have recently been taken by Poetry, and everybody knows that is like climbing through the eye of a needle!

And another triumph in the dramatic line, a play of hers in verse after the ancient Grecian form, has just taken a money prize in New York in a national competition. The play is to be given in one of the beautiful gardens of the University of Chicago circle some afternoon this month.

Rupert Brooke, another young contributor to poetry, an Englishman, who was frequently to be met here lunching and dining about last spring, has just met with far different laurels in a far distant land. A chill strikes one to think that this young poet, reported to be the handsomest man in England, a veritable young Greek god come to life, full of rollicking gayety, should have died the other day serving England in the Dardanelles.

Mrs. Jacob M. Dickinson, who vanished suddenly last week from Chicago and her interesting task as chairman of the Serbian relief committee, has been discovered in Seattle. It seems that a party of friends, a private car headed northwest, and manifold persuasions were too much for her. She departed for Seattle as one goes shopping, sans farewells, trunks, or any trammels.

A new grandchild, the first daughter of Henry Dickinson, was the main object of Mrs. Dickinson's western visit.

Boosting Chicago as a Summer Resort.

Chicago's campaign to boost itself and Lake Michigan as ideal features to attract the summer vacationists was further augmented yesterday when the Illinois Central railroad announced a new issue of 100,000 copies of a travel folder in which Chicago attractions will occupy pages 1 and 2.

The folder will be used extensively south of the Ohio river and in all territory tapped by the railroad as far south as New Orleans. All of Chicago's various features from the Lincoln park zoo to the bathing beaches and from Lake Michigan boat trips to free golf are set forth.

Chicagoan Heads Actuaries.

J. H. Ritchie of Chicago was chosen president of the American Institute of Actuaries at its fifth annual meeting at the Hotel La Salle yesterday, and Chicago was chosen for the meeting place of 1916.

A discussion of reinsurance of excess lines and status of pension funds formed the program of the closing session of the meeting.

Other officers chosen were:

Vice president—James W. Glover, Ann Arbor, Mich.
Secretary—V. M. Kine, Indianapolis.
Treasurer—Prof. H. L. Rietz, University of Illinois.
Librarian—E. R. Carter, Chicago.
Editor—Donald J. Campbell, Chicago.

Ball Game Will Aid Boy Scouts.

The annual baseball game between the University club and the Board of Trade will be played at the White Sox park on June 17. The proceeds will be used in maintaining and improving the Chicago Boy Scout camp on Crystal lake at Whitehall, Mich. The game, which will start at 3 o'clock, will be preceded by a competitive drill, races, and exhibitions of signaling, tent pitching, first aid work, and wall scaling by the Boy Scouts. The fourth season of the camp will begin June 28 and will extend to Aug. 28. Last year 876 boys visited the camp. Preparations have been made for 1,200 this season, the fourth since Camp O-wa-sip-pe was established.

MRS. DONALD McKINLEY of the woman's auxiliary of the Englewood hospital is among the women active in "Englewood night," which is to be celebrated at Midway Gardens on June 28 for the benefit of their philanthropic fund. The junior auxiliary are to sell autographed impressions of the gardens for the fund and the cast of "The Life of Pan" will give a pageant.

Miss Carolyn Dawes to Wed on Saturday.

AT the wedding of Miss Carolyn Dawes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes of 225 Greenwood boulevard, Evanston, to Melville Ericson on Saturday, Miss Clara Louise Buffington will be the bride's only attendant and Chester Ericson will service his brother as best man.

The wedding is to be a quiet home affair and the service is to be read by the bride's uncle, the Rev. Arthur Beack of Marietta, Ohio, assisted by the Rev. W. E. McElveen of Evanston.

There are to be a number of out-of-town guests which include Mrs. R. R. Dawes of Marietta, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Earle of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanna of New York, and Charles W. Fairbanks of Indianapolis.

The young couple will live in the recently completed house at 210 Lake street, Evanston, which is a gift of the bride's father.

The marriage of Miss Laura La Croix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilton La Croix of Lynn, Mass., to J. William Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Carey of 3933 Grand boulevard, took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents.

The marriage of Miss Mildred Grayson Shepardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Shepardson of 211 East Forty-fifth street, to Leon Lester Goding of Anderson, Ind., took place at 4 o'clock yesterday at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Virginia Martin was maid of honor and Miss Claire Rendlen of Hannibal, Mo., was flower maid. C. W. Goding of Portland, Me., was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Forster of 235 South Grove avenue, Oak Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Florence, to William Sherwood Haines of Fort Wayne, Ind., formerly of Oak Park.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Louise Willis Rintelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton H. Rintelman of 2478 Orchard street, to William Lang Hochschild on Wednesday, June 9, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Myer Silverman of 918 Margate terrace announce the engagement of their daughter, Anna, to Nathan Handmacher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Handmacher of 4442 Sheridan road.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert J. Sweet announce the engagement of their daughter, Ramona, to Ernest G. Carter of Los Angeles, Cal. Miss Sweet has chosen June 25 as the day for her wedding, which will take place at Santa Monica, Cal., where she has been spending the winter and spring with her sister, Mrs. William Henneman.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Wolff of 3040 Washington boulevard announce the engagement of their niece, Ethel Gertrude Bowes, to W. Sterling Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Maxwell of 233 South Ashland boulevard.

Music and the Theaters

News of the Stage; At the Majestic.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

THE American Music hall will resume its function as a place of entertainment June 13 with a Viennese operetta by Leo Stein and Edmund Eysler called "The Blue Paradise." Cecil Lean will be the featured member of the cast, which will include "Shep" Camp and Miss Cleo Mayfield.

At the Majestic:

Norcross and Oldsworth—One of them is 84; the other 76. They render "Silver Threads Among the Gold" with emotion and then walk slowly off the stage, arm in arm.

"The Three Rubes"—They have a gymnastic act more aged than Norcross and Oldsworth combined. Most popular with vaudeville audiences, who are like King James when he used to call for his Old Shoes, because they were easiest for his Feet.

Harry Holman and Company—Harry is fat and sassy and he impersonates a brisk business man who bulldozes his stenographer, with wit and amiability. The lines are sure fire and Harry does well by them.

Stella Tracey and Victor Stone—A new song pest has arrived, with California as the theme of its drool instead of Broadway. One of them is well sung in this act, and Miss Ethel Ponce whistles like a bird and plays the piano.

Lyons and Yosco—Performing sentimental songs with harp and cello accessories. No discords except in their comedy.

Evelyn Nesbit and Jack Clifford—Miss Nesbit's Art seems to have been improved by Suffering; she dances better than she did. However, when she sings "Sprinkle me with kisses if you want my love to grow," the charm of the human voice are perceptibly diminished. Mr. Clifford, her associate, looks as if he, too, had lived; ennui is the theme of his physiognomy, and his tired eyes resemble the orbs of an unfortunate black bass.

Bert Swor—One of Mr. Swor's black-face jokes occurs when he describes a "Billy Sunday highball" as a glass of water with a dollar in it. This is an item of many, all of them pleasing to the audience.

The Kerville Family—In difficult tricks with billiard balls.

Mme. Nazimova, acting in "War Brides," is to headline the Majestic's program for two weeks, starting June 7. She has been one of the notable drawing cards in variety in other cities in this little tragedy.

Miss Anglin's audiences at the Grand like her so well in "Beverly's Balance" that her engagement has been extended, with seats on sale four weeks in advance.

Cyril Maude's contribution to the royal Canadian patriotic fund, through performances in Toronto last week, amounted to $4,000.

The cast of the 1915 version of the "Follies" is announced. The list of entertainers includes Bert Williams, Leon Errol, Bernard Granville, Annette Kellermann, Ed Wynn, W. G. Fields, Will West, Mae Murray, Anna Pennington, Lucille Cavanaugh, George White, Carl Randall, Helen Rook, Stella Chatelaine, Justine Johnson, Phil Dwyer, and the Oakland sisters.

Richard Carle is making ready for revival this week in Boston Richard Harding Davis' excellent farce called "The Dictator." William Collier produced the play back in 1904, and found in it one of his best vehicles. John Barrymore, now one of the most popular and successful of stars, also has cause fondly to remember "The Dictator"; for he first won recognition as an actor by his comic playing in the part of the drunken wireless-operator in the original performances. Mr. Carle's revival will have in one of the parts Miss Amy Ricard, remembered in Chicago from the first run of "Babes in Toyland," in 1903, and as the first actress of the part of the athletic girl in "The College Widow."

Arnold Daly, who has been acting in New York in revivals of "Arms and the Man," "You Never Can Tell," and "Candida," has been advertising: "Last chance ever to see Mr. Daly in Shaw comedies." Warrant for his admonition to theatergoers exists in a peremptory cablegram from Shaw to his American agent forbidding Daly the further use of any of the plays.

The London producers of "Watch Your Step!" are playing act 2 ahead of act 1. The transposition was made after the revue had been thoroughly rehearsed, the purpose being to get act 2, the most attractive of the 3, over before 10 o'clock p. m., at which hour, under war time rules, all London bars close. The concern for the bar is explicable when it is explained that the revue is being given in the Empire, a music hall, and that the bar thereof is operated by the management of the theater.

Miss Mary Garden figures in the plans for the revival in August of "The Songbird." It is the hope of the management that she will accept the part acted in Chicago by Miss Jane Cowl. The sum of $15,000 is lightly spoken of as Miss Garden's weekly salary should the deal go through.

Mr. Collier, who has made no new alliance since the recent disruption of his partnership with George M. Cohan, is writing sketches for use in the variety theaters. He is at work on one for Harry Fox, a flip entertainer in that field, and is to revise and stage for revival next season the comedy called "No. 13 Washington Square," which Miss May Irwin will use. She recently gave it some trial performances.

The White Rats, an affiliation of performers in vaudeville, will begin what they call a transcontinental "scamper" June 8 at the Auditorium. The bill will be given by Misses Nora Bayes, Grace La Rue, Dorothy Jordon, Jose Collins and Clara Morton, and Frank Fogarty, John and Emma Ray, Delmore and Lee, and Moran and Wiser.

Play New Stock Concert in East.

Norfolk, Conn., June 2.—[Special.]—The new concerto of Frederick Stock, director of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, was given here this evening and made a decided impression. It is brilliantly scored in modern style with a grateful solo part which Mr. Zimbalist played with inspiration. Seventy players from the New York Philharmonic orchestra gave admirable support.

MARION HARLAND'S HELPING HAND

by Marion Harland

Prizes Her Opal Ring.

"I NOTICE that somebody is nervous about wearing an opal. I have a beautiful ring with an opal in it and fourteen small diamonds. I prize it highly not only on account of its beauty but association makes it dear to me. When it first came to me I had heard it said opals brought misfortune. Afterward I read in a history of the Bible, where that idea originated. It is said that in olden times the opal was considered in value next to the diamond. A class of men found out the great value of the opal and circulated a story that the stone brings bad luck. So, every one was afraid to wear the opal. These men purchased the stones and sold them to other countries, making great profits therefrom. I had always looked upon superstitions of all kinds as a great evil that had a tendency to demoralization. When I read that I made up my mind to cast aside my fear. Since that time I have taken solid comfort in wearing my beautiful opal ring. I am quite certain no harm has come to me, for I have worn it for a long, long time. JULIA J."

Bottling Grape Juice.

"I see that 'Disgusted' has trouble with her wine. I suspect it is grape juice which has turned sour with keeping. Wine cannot sour, as it must ferment before it is converted into wine, and that supplies the preservative element. After that the beverage improves with age. If 'Disgusted' will leave it alone for a few weeks, and then take off the scum caused by fermentation, she will have grape wine. But, if the grape juice has turned sour there is no way that I know of to sweeten it so that it will be as good as new. The safest plan is to use sugar, half as much sugar as juice, and when it is bottled seal with sealing wax and lay the bottles down. Then the juice will keep the corks moist and it will remain sweet. I hope this will help some one when canning time comes.

"MRS J. G. D."

Will Copy Old Song.

"A writer inquired for the old song beginning, 'There was an old lady lived over the sea.' It may be found in 'Golbook was used in our school fifty-five years or more ago. If the one who asked for it cannot get the verses I will copy them for her. CORNER READER."

Substitute for Court Plaster.

"If you make your own mucilage you can dispense with court plasters, liquid, or otherwise, except where an antiseptic is necessary. Ordinary cutts may be coated with this quite as effectively as with patent preparations. Two coats thoroughly dried will stand the application of water. One teaspoon of gum arabic to an ordinary mucilage bottle gives it purity. H. D. S."

OBITUARY.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR MRS. HUTCHINSON.

Memorial services for Mrs. Elizabeth P. Hutchinson, national treasurer of the W. C. T. U., will be held in Rest cottage in Evanston at the hour of her burial in Hutchinson, Kas., at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

Mrs. Frances P. Parks, the national corresponding secretary, will have charge of the ceremonies in the absence of the national president, Miss Anna Gordon, who left to attend the funeral in Kansas.

Miss Julia Dean, Miss Helen L. Hood, state president of the W. C. T. U., representing the official board; Mrs. A. E. Carman, national superintendent of the medal contests, representing the national board; Miss Louise Hollister, and Miss Epha Marshall, corresponding secretary of Illinois, will be the speakers.

THE REV. HENRY DOX KIMBALL, D. D., LL. D., who died at his home in Pasadena, Cal., on Monday, will be buried Saturday at Rosehill. Dr. Kimball was formerly pastor of the First and South Park avenue Methodist Episcopal churches, Chicago, and of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Oak Park. His second wife, who survives him, was Mrs. Luella D. Eastman of Oak Park, whom he married on June 1, 1903. His pastorates in Chicago extended over the years 1887 to 1897. In 1906 he and his wife founded the Kimball school of theology in connection with Willamette university, Spokane, Wash., of which he was dean. Before coming to Chicago he was pastor of Methodist churches in Troy and Albany, N. Y.; Bedford and Fall River, Mass. He was the author of "Beyond the Horizon" and "Our Girl," and a volume of personal reminiscences. He received the degree of D. D. from Allegheny college, and LL. D. from Nebraska Wesleyan university.

LOUIS RENE BOUDREAUX, a veteran of the Spanish-American war and after the war a civilian in the quartermaster's department, U. S. A., died yesterday at 5042 Kenwood avenue. Mr. Boudreaux, who was born in Youngsville, La., joined the regular forces of the United States at the outbreak of the war and saw service both in Cuba and the Philippines. He is survived by a widow and four children, Rene, Vincent, Orphise, and Margaret.

MRS. H. VIRGINIA GREGG died Tuesday night at the home of her son, James B. Gregg, 665 Cornelia avenue. Funeral services were held yesterday at the home. Burial will be at Laurel Hill, Philadelphia, tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Gregg was the widow of H. H. Gregg, a wholesale druggist of Philadelphia, who died in 1871. She is survived by her son and two daughters, Miss Isabelle Gregg of Chicago and Mrs. R. M. Bell of Minneapolis.

CITY BUILDINGS $3,000,000 BEHIND

BIG STRIKE MAIN CAUSE

Chicago is $3,211,550 behind in its building operations this year, if a comparison with last year's figures is taken as a basis of judgment.

Building Commissioner Ericsson yesterday received a report showing the building permits taken out during the first five months of 1915, and a comparison with the same period for 1914 showed the loss presented by that figure. Much of the decrease the commissioner ascribed to the advance warnings of labor troubles now existing.

"Last year," he said, "there were no labor difficulties, except the brick strike, but this year it has been generally understood for some time was to be one of disagreement between the employés and the building trades. It is largely because of that the decrease in building operations occurred.

"Some of it was due no doubt to the state of the financial market resulting from the war abroad, but capital could have been obtained, if builders had wanted it."

The figures for the five months ending June 1 showed that there were 325 less permits issued this year than last and that the permits issued covered 6,783 less feet of frontage than the permits issued in the same five months of 1914.

KING OF BURGLARS TESTIFIES THAT HE BRIBED POLICE

HE OVERSAW HIS GANG.

The character and philosophy of Nathan Steinberg, "the cleverest thief in America," a specialist in burglary, took precedence yesterday in the minds of the spectators who crowded Judge Dever's courtroom.

Interest in the man himself surpassed his accusations against the defendants, James O'D. Storen, formerly captain of police at the Maxwell stretet station, and Michael Weisbaum and Frederick Roth, former detective sergeants. Steinberg flatly asserted he paid Weisbaum and Roth about $150 for "protection."

Tells Record of Crime.

Under cross examination by Attorney C. E. Erbstein, Steinberg told of his long record of criminal exploits with a satirical nonchalance only to be matched by the gentlemen burglars in the 15 cent magazines.

Regular features, heavy black hair, shrewd black eyes, a quick mind, and a ready tongue conspire to make Steinberg a fit prototype for a hero of underworld romance. But Steinberg did not contemplate his career from the romantic angle. Burglary was "strictly business" with him, and by keeping away from distracting temptations he became a leader in his profession.

Intimations of Framing.

For almost four hours Erbstein fired questions at the witness to discredit his testimony. Practically every interrogation was an insinuation that Steinberg's accusations were "framed to railroad the police officials to jail." Steinberg's hope of an early pardon, his easy existence at the county hospital, with meals served from the Bradley hotel, his admitted practice of "double crossing" his pals, and his long record of crime were emphasized by Erbstein as potent reasons for rejecting his tetimony.

The scheme was hatched, according to the defense, in Joliet penitentiary. Erbstein said it was signed and sealed when Steinberg and some of his associates, Isadore Wexler, Mrs. Wexler, Abe Frank, and Max Lubin, were performing the ceremonies of Yom Kippur (day of atonement) in the prison chapel.

"Atoning or Framing."

"Were you atoning or framing?" asked Erbstein.

"I was praying to God to get me out," said the witness.

"Do you believe in God, Mr. Steinberg?"

"Yes," with a smile.

"Didn't you tell Minnie Gillhouse last September you were framing to get out because the state's attorney was sore at Capt. Storen on account of an entanglement with THE TRIBUNE?" persisted Erbstein.

"I did not."

"Didn't you have conversation with Mrs. Wexler and tell her you were going to frame on these coppers to get yourself out?"

"No."

"You wouldn't lie to get out of prison?"

"Never."

"Going to Reform."

"Are you going to do some more 'jobs' when you get out?"

"No; I am going to reform."

"Your conscience is bothering you?"

"Not exactly."

"You're so used to being indicted you don't mind it," suggested Erbstein.

"O, yes, I do; a whole lot," said the witness. "It costs a lot of money." This was a laugh for the audience.

Steinberg described himself as the "managing director" of the burglaries. He would select the place for the robbery, then send an emissary to plant the tools and finally act as lookout when the job was "pulled off." If his associates were clumsy with the "jimmy" his more expert hand was called into play.

"The philosophy of the burglar who gets too well acquainted with the police," observed the witness, "is that he must frequently change his field of operations. It is an axiom among the profession that policemen can be bought cheap, but they won't stay bought."

It was brought out that Steinberg has served time at the Elmira reformatory in New York, in Sing Sing prison, and twice at Joliet. He is 29 years old. Cross examination of Steinberg will be continued today.

Learning How to Keep Baby Clean.

JANE GRIFFIN

Thirty girls, pupils of the Sexton public school, were given their first instructions yesterday on the duties of motherhood by Miss Lillian Eckert of the board of education. Tiny tubs filled with water were used in cleansing life size dolls with soap. The board of education intends to conduct a campaign for the health of babies in the tenement districts. Among those who acted as mothers was Jane Griffin.

JURY ADVISES EXPERT SURVEY OF PATIENTS.

Recommendations of a coroner's jury for the installation of an observation ward in the county hospital where salaried physicians may carefully examine alcoholic patients before sending them to the bridewell and the equipment of the city hospital at the bridewell with X-ray and other adequate devices for the detection of fractured bones were submitted to Peter Reinberg, president of the county board and Mayor Thompson yesterday by Coroner Hoffman.

The jury's verdict was returned following an investigation into the death of Mrs. Katie Reinberg in the bridewell hospital on May 20 from a fracture of the skull. Mrs. Reinberg was struck by a street car on May 12 and taken to the County hospital, where an interne, acting on the hospital's rule against alcoholics, refused her admission because she had been drinking.

The police took her to a cell for the night and it was not until the next day that she was taken to the bridewell hospital in a serious condition.

Mr. Reinberg said he would bring the matter before the county board today.

HULL HOUSE PLAYERS WILL STAGE FOUR NEW PLAYS.

"Case No. 34," by Mrs. Arthur Aldis, Is Built on an Episode of a Chicago Hospital.

Four plays, all of them by Chicago authors, and three of them staged for the first time, will be given by the Hull House Players June 16, 17, 18, and 19.

Mrs. Laura Dainty Fetham, director of the players, made the announcement yesterday. The scenes of three of the plays are laid in Chicago. One of them is by Mrs. Arthur Aldis of Lake Forest and is called "Case No. 34." It is a hospital story, and is built on an episode in a Chicago hospital which came to the attention of Mrs. Aldis as head of the Visiting Nurse association.

The other plays are "The Poem of David," by Kenneth Goodman, a story of the Ghetto; "The Other Dan," by Oren Taft Jr.; and "Mr. and Mrs. P. Roe," by Martiny Johnson. The last play is the only one that has been staged.

DUNNE SIGNS BOND BILL; RUSHES TO MAKE IT A LAW.

Act Enables $1,000,000 Park Issue to Be Put Before the Voters on Monday.

The long distance telephone, a motor car, and the energy of Timothy Cruise, secretary of the west Chicago park commission, last night played parts in getting the signature of Gov. Dunne to a bill which calls for a bond issue of $1,000,000 for park improvements to be voted on at the election on Monday.

Mr. Cruise at Springfield telephoned to the governor at a grand army encampment at Moline, Ill., asking him to come to Chicago to sign the bill passed by the senate in the afternoon.

When the train bearing the governor pulled into the La Salle street station, Mr. Cruise and Attorney Jacob Le Bosky were waiting for him in an automobile. He was taken to the Hotel La Salle, where his signature was affixed to the bill.

The bond issue is to cover the expense of needed improvements in many of the west side small parks.

Of the $1,000,000 bond issue, $800,000, President William F. Grower said, will be devoted to the improvement of Austin park. The remainder will go to improve Congress park, a tract of 4 6-10 acres lying between the Pennsylvania tracks and South Washtenaw avenue and West Congress and Harrison streets.

In Congress park four baseball diamonds will be laid out to aid "in keeping the 'kiddies' off the street and out of harm's way and mischief." A number of swimming pools and shower baths also will be provided.

"This is the first park appropriation made for the 100,000 people living in the Thirteenth ward," President Grower said in referring to Congress park.

TWO HEADED BABY BORN TO CHICAGO MOTHER.

Child Also Has Four Perfect Arms, Three Legs, and Single Torso, but Lives Only 15 Minutes.

A child with two perfectly formed heads, four perfect arms, and three legs, and a single broad torso was born in Chicago at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It weighed fifteen pounds and lived fifteen minutes after birth.

Dr. James H. Bloomfield, who was present at the birth, exhibited the body last night to the Chicago Medical society in the Marshall Field building.

Dr. Bloomfield said that so far as he knows only one birth of a similar nature has been recorded in Chicago heretofore. The mother of the child born yesterday was Jewish, 33 years old, the doctor said, and apparently is in good health. She has had five normal children. The doctor declined to give her name.

The two heads were well shaped and looked alike. The only deformity of individual limbs was that of the third leg, which resembled a tail. The child was a male. Physicians were curious to know whether there was a duplication of internal organs. Dr. Bloomfield stated that no post mortem had been permitted by the parents. All of the breathing of the child after its birth was done through one head.

MILK PRICE WOULD GO UP.

According to attorneys for three railroad companies who appeared before Municipal Judge Trude yesterday, the enforcement of the city milk ordinance against common carriers will mean a material increase in the price of milk throughout the city.

'Little Doc's' Love Missives to Wife Shown by Herkert

Perfervid Epistles from St. Louis M. D. Figure in Divorce Suit.

HUSBAND 'THIS DUCK'

A new set of perfervid love epistles—the "yittle-hic-doc" letters promised by Theodore Herkert's lawyers—scorched their way into the records of the Circuit court yesterday.

Mrs. Mary E. Herkert, who appeared before Judge Samuel C. Stough on a double barreled mission, having a separate maintenance action to prosecute and a divorce suit to defend, was the recipient of the letters. The writer was Dr. O. L. Suggett of St. Louis, who called Mrs. Herkert his "dear girl" and signed himself variously "Pappy" and "Little Doc."

The letters, written in a sort of a serial form, as the doctor found opportunity, apparently, to escape the vigilant eyes of Mrs. Suggett, contained lachrymose references to "that old call of yours, dear, for 'yittle-hic-doc'". The husband of Little Doc's distant adored one is spoken of fiercely as "this duck"—"I felt like murdering him the night you met him, and now I wish I had!"

Accuses Her of Tippling.

Herkert—"this duck"—is western representative of the wholesale leather firm of B. V. Harrison & Co., and has an income of $6,000 a year, according to his wife. Following the beginning of Mrs. Herkert's action Herkert filed a cross bill for divorce, alleging drunkenness and accusing his wife of statutory offenses. The husband asserts he has a statement from his brother, Oscar Herkert, in which the latter admits having been unduly intimate with his sister-in-law.

The "yittle-hic-doc" letters were resurrected from a waste basket, Herkert's attorneys explain, when the Herkerts were living together. Mrs. Herkert admits having received the letters, which were addressed to her maid as a blind. She was engaged to Dr. Suggett, she said, before her marriage to Herkert.

The first of the letters from the impassioned physician was dated Jan. 23, 1911. It started "Dear Girl."

The Fluent Little Doc.

After a long and fanciful introduction Little Doc struck his stride and proceeded: "I have always felt that if anything of consequence happened to you I'd hear of it and it would ever be like the old call of yours for 'yittle-hic-doc.' Do you recall the night I met this duck? I felt like murdering him then, and now I wish I had. But never mind. I didn't intend to bring up anything unpleasant. We'll dispense with all such and try to get much of the good that is in life out of it, eh?

"I have so much to say that I scarcely know where to begin. My thoughts fly and my brain seems such a laggard. I have an idea—why may I not come up there so we can spend an afternoon together? I have a lot of confidence in you. I mean in your stability of character. It's a cinch—in spite of the many things you have done—you never did anything you didn't want to.

The Baby Restrains Him.

"That's the meanness of this affair. He has you virtually tied hand and foot, with a little baby on your hands, when, if such wasn't the case, you'd maul h—— out of him, figuratively, in less time than it takes to tell it.

"Well, our experience has taught us much, and I think I can safely say we have learned that neither money nor things sensual make for contentment and happiness.

"Reciprocal mentality is the thing. To understand and be understood at all times is the key to the situation, eh?

CAREER OF DR. SUGGETT.

St. Louis, Mo., June 2.—[Special.]—Dr. Orrill Le Grand Suggett broke into the news dramatically when his divorced wife committed suicide in a rooming house Sept. 21, 1914, where the doctor had called on her. On Jan. 28 of this year Dr. Suggett married Miss Virginia Parker, a Lexington, Ky., belle.

Dr. Suggett married his first wife in Chicago Dec. 30, 1908. She then was Mrs. Helen K. Seligman, a divorcee of Omaha, Neb. She divorced Dr. Suggett Dec. 23, 1912.

Dr. Suggett was the scion of an old French family of four generations of physicians and surgeons and a great-grandson of the famous Dr. Le Grand of Paris. For fifteen years Dr. Suggett has been a member of the faculty of the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons.

CANNON FLAYS DEMOCRATS FOR "NONPARTISAN" PLEA.

Says They Might Have Won Full Approval of Public by Indorsing All G. O. P. Ticket.

John C. Cannon, acting chairman of the Republican managing committee, and Congressman Sabath, chairman of the Democratic managing committee, continued their long distance verbal attacks yesterday.

"Our Democratic friends are bragging because they indorsed a part of the Republican ticket. They say that act made a favorable impression on the public. They would have had a great deal more to brag about and might have won the full approval of the public had they indorsed the whole Republican ticket."

The Thirteenth ward Democratic organization, under the leadership of John J. Sloan, the new president, has completed an organization of Harrison, Sullivan, and Dunne precinct committeemen in all the fifty precincts of the ward and will give a vaudeville entertainment and reception to the judicial candidates at Occidental hall, Madison street and Sacramento avenue, tomorrow night.

MEN AND WOMEN VOTE MONDAY ON BOND QUESTION

REVERSALS OF RULINGS.

Sample ballots for the judicial election were issued yesterday by the election commissioners and County Clerk Sweitzer.

Besides the regular ballot, carrying the names of the judicial candidates, little ballot bond proposals, carrying a total of $4,735,000, and the proposed annexation of a part of the town of Stickney to Chicago, will be submitted to the voters next Monday.

Women are eligible to vote on all the bond propositions and the annexation of Stickney. Only men voters can ballot for the judicial candidates.

Here Are Five Bonds.

The five bond propositions are:

$1,000,000—For improvements and extensions in west park system.

$2,500,000—For new county jail and Criminal court building.

The entire city votes on the proposed annexation of Stickney, but only the residents of the Ridge avenue park district, both men and women, vote on the proposed issuance of $35,000 for that park system. These voters are limited to the Eighty-first, Eighty-second, and Eighty-third precincts of the Twenty-fifth ward and the Forty-sixth precinct of the Twenty-sixth ward.

Million for West Parks.

The proposed bond issue of $1,000,000 for improvements and extensions of the west park system will be voted on only by the men and women voters of that district, as follows:

Wards 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 28, and 30; part of Precinct 10 west of North Western avenue; all Precincts 41, 42, and 43 of Ward 27; all of Precincts 1, 2, 3, 10, 11, 31, and Precincts 32 to 54, inclusive, of Ward 33; part of Precincts 1, 2, 4, and 5 east of North Kedzie avenue, and all Precincts 3 and 12 to 58, inclusive, of Ward 35.

The sample ballots carrying only the names of the judicial candidates are slightly different in the country town districts of Cook county from the ballots prepared for the city of Chicago.

"Nonpartisan" Ticket.

On the city ballot the independent candidates are grouped under the head of "nonpartisan" and given a column by themselves, but no circle at the top of the column. In the sample ballots issued by County Clerk Sweitzer the independents get both the nonpartisan column and a circle at the top of the column, so that in the country districts voters may cast a straight ballot for all five of the independent candidates.

The election commissioners also issued special instructions to the judges and clerks of election with respect to counting the ballots Monday night.

Because of a vacancy on the Circuit court ticket of the Democrats and because only twenty candidates are to be elected, the voters are in grave danger of spoiling many ballots, the election officials believe, unless they exercise great care in not voting for more than twenty candidates.

Reverse Former Ruling.

The election commissioners have reversed their ruling of former years in this respect. They now instruct the judges that if a voter places a cross in the circle at the top of the Democratic column and then crosses over and votes for more than one candidate on the other tickets, then his entire straight Democratic ticket is thrown out and his vote counts only for the men he marks on the other tickets, because he has voted for more than twenty candidates.

The same rule is imposed as to a voter placing a cross in the Republican circle and then voting for any candidate on the other tickets. The whole Republican ballot is thrown out and the vote counts only for the men before whose names crosses are marked in the other columns.

Heretofore all such ballots have been thrown out entirely, but this time the men before whose names crosses appear will be counted, notwithstanding the voter has cast a ballot for more than twenty candidates.

Election Officials Suggest.

Although special instructions to that effect have not been issued to the voters, the election officials informally suggested that where a voter desires to vote a mixed ticket his safe way will be to ignore the circles at the top of the columns entirely and place a cross before the name of each candidate he desires to vote for, not to exceed twenty in all for the Circuit court. He may vote for less than that number by so marking, but if he votes for more than twenty by crossing before the names, then his entire ballot will be thrown out.

The positions of the names of the three ballots have no significance. A voter does not vote against names opposite each other. No one candidate is running against any other candidate, but any twenty candidates, without regard to their positions on any of the tickets may be voted for.

The election commissioners decided to abandon their plan of having the ballots delivered to some central school hall in each of the outlying wards on election night.

Drink Victims Mind Defectives, Psychopathic Tests Indicate

Olson Tells of New York Mayor's Experiments.

Troy, N. Y., June 3.—That mental defection is the base of alcoholism rather than the other twist about, as commonly supposed, was given as one of the discoveries of the psychopathic laboratory of the Chicago Municipal court by Chief Justice Harry Olson before the mayors of New York state in a meeting here tonight.

Judge Olson said the work of the laboratory has opened enormous possibilities for psychopathic work in the prevention of insanity and crime and consequent economy to the state. He said it also may even be extended to commercial uses for the weeding of the unemployable from the employable.

Tells Results of Tests.

He illustrated his talk with specimens of the visual memory test used in the psychopathic laboratory, showing the differences between persons of average intelligence and several classes of defectives in their ability properly to draw a simple form from memory.

"The laboratory has examined hundreds of chronic alcoholics and we have yet to find the first case where there was not at least a psychopathic constitution, epilepsy, dementia præcox, manic depressive insanity, or feeble mindedness at the basis, with the exception of a few cases where there was a physical basis, such as diabetes or tuberculosis, and the man was whipping up his flagging energy with alcoholic stimulants," said Judge Olson.

Traced to Mental Defect.

"The group of the mental defects at the bottom of the alcoholism practically all show a defective heredity beyond the average.

"I would therefore emphasize the point that chronic alcoholism is secondary to some underlying mental or physical defect which is primary and without which the chronic alcoholism would not exist.

"It is important that this underlying basis be recognized, for until that is removed there is no hope for curing the alcoholism which our daily experience, carried on for years of failure in the treatment of these cases, attests.

Sees a Way Out.

"The record of assassinations and of attempts made on the lives of others by insane and feeble minded individuals is not a credit to our methods of handling this class. These large cities need an institution planned along the lines of the German clinics, the new psychopathic clinic of Boston, or the Henry Phipps clinic of Johns Hopkins.

"Such a clinic would form the center of the entire system of charities. Patients would present themselves for treatment much earlier than is the case now, when the fear of going to an asylum prevents many individuals from asking for medical advice until the mental disorder has reached the stage in which it is practically incurable.

Enormous Cost to State.

"The importance of work along this line is apparent when it is considered that the state of New York now spends the sum of one-fourth of its total expenditures in the care of the insane, and then more than 10,000 who need institutional care are not receiving it.

"Our state of Illinois expends for its charitable institutions 28.10 per cent of its total expenditures, of which the mental, nervous, and insane group make up 21.80 per cent."

Here's Mind Test and Some Results.

Here is how a victim of hysteria drew it:

Here is how a victim of dementia præcox hebephrenia drew it:

Attorney Herren Promises Court That It Will Cease Operating in This City.

Two weeks hence—by June 15—the baseball pool conducted in connection with the Weekly World, a publication at Wilkesbarre, Pa., will cease operation in Chicago. Attorney Samuel C. Herron so promised Judge Rooney yesterday. The cases of four of five men arrested recently on charges of operating a lottery were continued until that date.

William Rupp, manager of the A. & H. Schmidt saloon at 419 South Dearborn street, the other one of the five accused men, was found guilty last week and fined $200 by Judge Rooney.

"This is one of the most pernicious forms of evil I ever knew of, and I will not consent to a month's continuance so the men behind this pool can make another $10,000," declared City Prosecutor Harry B. Miller in court.

"And I have not promised these men will not be prosecuted even if they do pack their grips and get out of town," Mr. Miller said afterward.

The Weekly World will continue to circulate in Chicago, Attorney Herren said, merely the operation of a baseball pool with prizes being discontinued.

SEIZES 4,000 POOL TICKETS.

Milwaukee, June 2.—Approximately 4,000 tickets of a baseball pool were confiscated today by District Attorney Zabel. The haul is the largest made so far by the district attorney in his campaign against the operating of baseball pools.

11,000 MILES IN MOTOR BOAT

Cleveland, O., June 2.—[Special.]—The leg of the good ship Clio II, a forty foot motor boat, commanded by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wellman of Chicago, registered 11,000 miles today as the craft tied up at the East Ninth street pier on the final stretch of a 12,000 mile cruise begun Sept. 16, 1914. Starting from Chicago, the Wellmans cruised down the Mississippi river through the gulf of Mexico, up the Atlantic coast and back to the Great Lakes through the Hudson river and the Erie canal. They expect to reach home July 1. Mrs. Wellman is an able mariner and often relieves her husband at the wheel. He is a member of the South Shore Boat club of Chicago and is a veteran navigator.

START EARLY FIGHT ON EPIDEMIC OF RABIES.

Aldermen and Health Officials to Confer on Summer Precautions at Meeting Tomorrow.

A conference to consider plans for a campaign to prevent the annual summer epidemic of rabies will be held tomorrow afternoon in the city hall. It will include city, county, and medical organization representatives.

Ald. Willis O. Nance, chairman of the council committee on health, called the meeting. The Chicago Medical society recently urged that an early start be made.

Dr. Nance has invited to the conference:
Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson.
Chief of Police C. C. Healey.
William Stuart, superintendent of the dog pound.
Coroner Peter M. Hoffman.
Dr. Antonio Lagorio, Pasteur institute.
Dr. J. A. Clark, president Chicago Medical society.
Dr. F. A. Fisher, Chicago Medical society.
Dr. J. C. Stubbs, Chicago Medical society.
Ald. Hugo Krause, Anti-Cruelty society.
Ald. Oliver B. Watson.
James A. Pugh, Chicago Kennel club.
Dr. W. A. Evans, former health commissioner.

The meeting will be held in the committee rooms in the city hall and all interested persons have been invited.

ENGALITCHEFF DIVORCE SUIT FORESHADOWED IN 1909.

Anonymous Tip at That Time Said Chicago Wife Was to Quit Prince of the Blood.

The filing of a divorce suit by the Princess Engalitcheff in New York was not entirely unexpected in Chicago. It was recalled there had been persistent rumors here of trouble between the Russian prince of the blood and his American wife and that in 1909 an anonymous note was received by the newspapers informing them the princess had filed suit.

At that time the report was taken to the Engalitcheffs by reporters and both vigorously denied there was even a grain of truth in it.

"The present report is as much news to me as to anybody," said E. W. Partridge, brother of the princess, yesterday. "So far as I am aware, however, there is no reason to disbelieve the report."

PERFORMING BOX CARS OPEN GREAT CLEARING YARDS

MOVE FOR ELECTRIFICATION.

The general superintendent and the principal assistant engineer stood side by side at the top of the hump yesterday in the shadow of the switching tower and smiled. And that was all there was to the formal opening of the Clearing freight transfer yards it took more than two years' time and $8,000,000 to build. They are said to be the biggest in the world.

Below the two men the tracks spread out fan shape. Fifty-two pairs of them, rapidly becoming shiny with use, flowed out to the east.

The completion of the Clearing yard is an important step toward electrifying the railroads entering Chicago. As long as freight transfers are made in the city the problem of electrification is complex. That was the way F. E. Morrow, the principal assistant engineer, explained it.

How It Works.

"The freight transfer yards here sort out the freight that comes into Chicago," he explained. "A train comes in from the east, for instance, with sixty or seventy cars consigned to points on different railroads west of Chicago. Some of the cars may be consigned to Chicago firms. Now, what we do in this yard is to take all the trains that are to go out over the Santa Fé, for instance, run them down one track, and let the Santa Fé haul them out again."

General Superintendent J. H. Brinkerhoff added a word.

"If Chicago," said he, "didn't happen to be about the only city in the country which is the terminal for every road that enters it the situation wouldn't be nearly so complex. That's the reason the switching problem is so mean."

The Fine Art of Switching.

The way they classify the cars is a fine art. A train was hauled to one of the receiving tracks situated at either end of the yard. There the Belt Line railroad, which operates the yard, took it in hand. An engine was hooked on behind and the long train was pushed up the long slope until the first car was just at the top of the hump.

The man in the switching tower had before him a card which the conductor of the freight train had made out as his caboose jogged along over the prairies. That card gave the destination of every car in the train.

When the car came to a full stop the tower man gave the card a hasty glance and a moment later pressed one of a half dozen small buttons on the table before him. A blast echoed down the yard; it was heard half a mile away, for a moment later the whole train quivered. The push was strong enough to send the first car on its way down toward the fan of tracks below. Just as the car started the tower man pressed another button.

The Performing Box Car.

On top of the car which bowled along down the slope stood a man in faded blue overalls. Presently he leaned over and bore with all his strength on the hand brake. The car slid along until it reached the fourth rib of the fan when it changed its course and slid down that rib.

The tower man turned and grinned.

"Did you see that button I pressed just as she started to roll?" he asked. "Well, that threw switch No. 4 down there and she just had to roll in. Nothing to it. Watch. Here goes for track No. 7—Illinois Central stuff for New Orleans."

After a half dozen cars with their riders have slid over the bump a gasoline car chugs up the hill with the riders who are ready for their next turn. It took twenty-three minutes to classify sixty-three cars.

"Why didn't we have a celebration when we opened up?" repeated the general superintendent. "Well, they had one in Kansas City when they opened up a yard there and they got so balled up they didn't get straightened out for ten hours."

U. S. DIVERS SEEKING F-4 BROKE ALL WORLD RECORDS

Thirteen Descents Made, Each of Which Exceeded Previous Mark and Five at Depth of 306 Feet.

San Francisco, Cal., June 2.—Thirteen descents were made in the search for the submerged submarine F-4 at Honolulu, T. H., and every one broke a former world's record, according to Chief Gunner George D. Stillson, who is here after completing his work as chief of the diving operations.

Five of the descents were made to a depth of 306 feet, he said, and eight to 275 feet. The former world's record was 274 feet.

Stillson said that a telephone device was used successfully in communicating with the men under water for the first time in the history of diving.

After being raised to within twenty-four feet of the surface, further salvaging of F-4 has had to be suspended for fear the hulk may break in two. A new method of lifting is to be tried.

SON ACCUSES HIS FATHER.

Charges that Harry H. Wood, superintendent of the dining car service of the Lake Shore railroad, lived at 4239 Grand boulevard with Evelyn Whipple, a divorcee, are made in a deposition filed yesterday in the divorce suit pending there between him and Mrs. Kate G. Wood.

The deposition was filed by Douglas Furman Wood, his son.

"I introduced her as Mrs. Wood," he said, "at the request of my father."

FURTHER SLUMP IN WHEAT MART

Big Drop in Liverpool and Liquidation Again Depress Prices.

COARSE GRAINS HEAVY

Further liquidation was in evidence in the wheat market yesterday. Prices opened lower in response to the sharply depressed cables, but rallied a little. Later there was a renewal of selling and the demand from shorts was soon appeased, local traders being good sellers at the decline. Most of the early buying was by profit taking shorts. Net declines for the day were 2¾@3⅜c, the July again being weaker than the September.

The cash demand was conspicuous by its absence in the local market, but late reports from the seaboard said there had been sales in all positions of about 600,000 bu wheat. Offerings from the country were fair, and there was some hedging pressure from the southwest, where reports generally were favorable.

Weather Conditions Favorable.

The weather conditions generally are favorable and the weekly government crop report said conditions generally were satisfactory. Private reports say soil conditions are exceptionally good, and the cool weather following the wet period has been a favoring condition for winter wheat, so there is little danger now from rust. Tennessee and Kentucky reports were more favorable. Increase in acreage of about 18 per cent is indicated in western Canadian acreage, according to reports to a local house.

Liverpool prices were ½@3½d lower. The weakness was due to prospects for continued liberal shipments, especially from India, while the reports from America were bearish and influenced prices at Liverpool. American hard winter was especially weak.

French Report Is Bearish.

The foreign crop advices generally were bearish. The official French report makes the condition of wheat 77, or 6 points better than a year ago. Russian prospects are good, but the acreage is now expected to be less than a year ago. Clearances were 312,000 bu. Primary receipts were 707,000 bu, against 430,000 bu a year ago. The world's stocks showed a decrease of 7,800,000 bu, according to Bradstreet's against a decrease of 8,208,000 bu a year ago.

Northwest receipts were 256 cars; last year, 159 cars. Winnipeg receipts were 123 cars; last year, 84 cars. Minneapolis stocks decreased only 25,000 bu for four days, compared to a decrease of 400,000 bu a year ago. Unsettled and showery weather was predicted for most of the west central states.

Corn Breaks Near Close.

Corn prices were weak at the close. Early there was quite a show of strength and local traders were on the buying side. Prices at the close were 1⅝c to 1⅝@1½c lower, the break in wheat causing heavy selling by the local trade. Receipts were moderate, 50 cars being inspected in. Primary receipts were 449,000 bu, against 1,945,000 bu a year ago. World's stocks showed a decrease of 2,346,000 bu for the week. Cables were unchanged to ½d off, the spot demand being slow, while weather conditions were moderate.

The cash market was ¼@½c up early, but closed heavy. Shipping sales were 225,000 bu. There was a little export inquiry. Clearances were 252,000 bu. Weather conditions promise to be less favorable. Reports from the south indicate a big acreage increase in that quarter.

Oats Under Pressure.

Oats were under pressure in the late trade, but there was good buying by cash houses early, and there was an excellent cash trade. Futures closed ⅜@½c to ⅝@¾c lower, and cash prices were unchanged to ½c down. Local sales were about 600,000 bu new business yesterday, with 1,000,000 bu in all positions reported by the seaboard. Local sales included about 150,000 bu for export. Nye-Jenks, Armour and J. Rosenbaum were good buyers early. Receipts were 192 cars and 46 cars were inspected yesterday. Primary arrivals were 522,000 bu, against 1,146,000 bu a year ago. Clearances were 77,000 bu.

Free Selling of Products.

Offerings of products were fair, but there was a good cash demand, packers being credited with giving the market a little support. Net losses for the day were moderate. Western packing centers report stocks of cut meats of 363,000,000 lbs, against 218,000,000 lbs a year ago. The cash demand is fair and shipments are large, but the stocks are so heavy there is not much present inducement for heavy buying. Hog receipts were 37,000, with 10,000 expected today, and prices at the yards were 5@10c off. Western receipts were 121,800 compared to 82,800 a year ago. Liverpool prices were about steady for meats and 1s lower for cash lard.

Rye Quiet and Easy.

Rye met with a quieter demand and was easier at $1.17½@1.18 nominal for spot No. 2. This grade sold to arrive at $1.15 and spot sample grade made $1.17½. Exporters took 15,000 bu late on Tuesday. Receipts, 1 car.

Barley was steady, with malting 74@76c; feed, 73c; and screenings, 70c. Receipts, 21 cars.

Timothy seed was easy at $6.80 bid and $6.95 sellers for September and $6.95 sellers for October. Country lots were $5.00 @6.75. Cloverseed was quiet at $8.00@13.50 for cash.

Duluth flax closed 1@1½c higher, with cash on track $1.77½; July, $1.70½; September, $1.82; and October, $1.81½. Receipts, 24 cars. Minneapolis was 3@4c higher, with cash on track $1.76@1.78. Receipts, 1 car. Winnipeg closed 1c higher, with July $1.59 and October $1.62. Receipts, 9 cars.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

New oats are beginning to be offered quite freely from Texas, and J. F. Barrett reported the purchase of 10,000 bu red oats to be shipped here from Memphis, Tenn., first half of July at 43½c. Offerings of old oats are light. There was a good business in cash oats, with sales of about 600,000 bu, including about 150,000 bu for export. The seaboard late in the day reported 1,000,000 bu for export in all positions. Cash prices were steady to ½c lower. Corn prices were ¼@½c higher early, but closed weak in sympathy with futures. Sales were 225,000 bu, including 16,000 bu to exporters.

Correspondents of Clement-Curtis report an average condition of winter wheat of 84.5, indicating a yield of 672,000,000 bu. Spring wheat acreage is estimated to have increased 7.3 per cent, condition 93.9, crop indicated 250,000,000, making total crop indicated 922,000,000 bu. Canadian spring wheat acreage has increased 18 per cent and condition is 94.2. Oats acreage shows gain of 1.8 per cent and condition is 88.2. Crop indicated is 1,216,000,000 bu. Southern states report an increase in corn acreage of 4,000,000 acres.

Weekly government weather report says conditions the last week were favorable for development of wheat. Corn belt weather is decidedly unfavorable. Excessive moisture and cold weather caused much damage by flooding and washing and germination of late planted poor. Much replanting is necessary. Ranges, meadows, and oats have made satisfactory progress, but wet weather has caused considerable damage to cut alfalfa.

John Inglis wired Logan-Bryan from Gainesville, Tex.: "Oklahoma City to Gainesville, fields run very uneven; recent rains no benefit to wheat, but it has stood up well. Only heavy bottoms down. Crop late. Oats splendid. Corn good; needs cultivation. Gainesville cutting early wheat. Fields badly down. Good, heavy crop."

Shreveport, La., reports received by McKenna-Rodgers said Texas was offering oats for immediate shipment, sacked in even weight bags, at 48c delivered Shreveport, and for first half June shipment, 45c. Clipped oats were 1c per bushel less. Price equals 36⅜c Cairo bulk, or 34½c for Champaign.

New York reported sales of 1,600,000 bu wheat in all positions on the decline yesterday.

Most of the business was in old wheats and the demand for new crop grain is slow here. Prices here were not much changed relative to the futures. Sales here were only 10,000 bu.

Le Count wired Barrell from Anthony, Kas.: "Wheat here badly affected with red rust, but has done no damage yet. Think wheat in this territory will average 18 bu per acre. Crop needs two weeks' more favorable weather to mature. Weather cool, threatening rain."

Prices for special brands of spring wheat flour have been reduced to $7.90 per barrel. Minneapolis reported fair sales on the decline and advices from there were to the effect there would be a good business if the wheat market would steady for a few days.

The to arrive committee will hold another meeting today in the directors' room at 3 p. m. to discuss the matter of governing contracts on grain bought and sold to arrive. W. N. Eckhardt is chairman of the committee.

St. Louis wired corn and oats stocks there were virtually exhausted. There are only 62,000 bu corn and 77,000 bu oats. Some demand for oats for export was reported from St. Louis, but there were no offerings.

Tennessee reports were more favorable and some messages indicate as much wheat as last year, with increased acreage. Central Kentucky crop has made a big improvement also since the rains.

Western stocks of cut meats, according to the Trade Bulletin, are 363,000,000 lbs, compared to 218,132,589 lbs a year ago. For the month of May there was a decrease of about 4,000,000 lbs.

The death of Frank D. Woodlock of St. Louis, a member of the board of trade, was announced yesterday. The funeral will be held today at St. Louis. Mr. Woodlock was well known to many members here.

According to a New York message Argentina is offering corn c. i. f. New York for June shipment at considerable lower prices than the corn can be shipped from the west.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 45 cars; corn, 50 cars; oats, 46 cars; rye, 1 car; barley, 21 cars; hogs, 27,000.

Broomhall's Argentine agent cabled wheat and corn arrivals were larger, with condition of corn much improved.

A Buenos Aires cable said: "Weather fine and dry. Corn market steadier with a more confident feeling."

An official French report makes the condition of wheat 77, against 71 a year ago.

P. S. Bartlett returned yesterday from a six weeks' trip in the south.

FIELD MUSEUM BIDS IN TEMPLE

Pays $631,000 at Foreclosure Sale of W. C. T. U. Building Yesterday.

WAS THE ONLY BIDDER.

The Temple building at the southwest corner of La Salle and Monroe streets was bid in for $631,000 at the foreclosure sale of the property yesterday at the auction room of the Chicago real estate board by the Northern Trust company, trustee, for the Field Museum of Natural History, the owner of the $600,000 bonds, on account of which the sale was had. The museum was the only bidder. These bonds were a gift from Marshall Field, making up with money the $1,000,000 which he gave as a present to the museum prior to his endowment some years later. The total indebtedness at this time is $676,000. The difference between the bid and this amount, $45,000, is held, it is stated, in case the receiver may have a surplus of rents to meet it.

The stockholders have twelve months in which to redeem the property, and other creditors have three additional months, which together make fifteen months before a deed will be given to the purchaser. The property is now in the hands of George Manierre, who was appointed receiver Dec. 29, 1914, and in whose hands, as receiver, it will remain until Sept. 2, 1916, the end of the foreclosure proceedings.

Erected in 1892.

The building was erected in 1892 and cost the Woman's Temperance Building association $1,251,648. It occupies a lot 95x188 feet which was leased by Marshall Field to the association for a term of 198 years from Jan. 1, 1890, at a straight annual rent of $40,000. The ground at that time was valued at $700,000.

It is stated the building now has a gross annual rent of $157,000, which is said to be 93 per cent of its total rental capacity, viz: $167,000. Its fixed charges and running expenses, including extraordinary repairs, are estimated at $177,000. It is stated that one reason why the building is not paying is the gradual increase in the rate of taxation in the last twenty years, which shows an increase of $18,000, with no additional income to offset it; also within the last two years, by order of the city, new fire escapes, rewiring, sidewalk, and other expenses, amounting to about $20,000, were incurred.

Two Large Flat Deals.

Two large deals in south side apartment house properties were reported yesterday, in one of which Isador Springer sold to William Kupper of Davenport, Ia., the thirty-six apartment building at 333-343 East Fifty-fifth place with 120x144 feet of ground for a reported consideration of $108,000. The building is stated to have a gross annual rent of $13,500. Mr. Kupper conveyed a tract of 4,718 acres in Alberta, Canada, in part payment, also giving back a mortgage for $70,000 on the Chicago building. Barrett Bros. represented both parties to the transaction.

The other transaction was the sale by the estate of Catherine G. Reed to James Layin of the high grade 9 apartment building at 5474-80 Hyde Park boulevard with 100x150 feet of ground for an indicated consideration of $65,000, subject to an incumbrance of $30,000. The apartments contain 8 and 10 rooms and are stated to have a gross annual rent of about $10,000. John A. Carroll & Bro. were the brokers in the deal. M. Henry Guerin and J. Walter Stead represented the Reed estate in a legal way.

Syndicate Buys in Evanston.

A syndicate headed by Henry E. Chandler, a business man of Evanston, has closed the purchase from Frank M. Elliott of the property at the southwest corner of Chicago avenue and Main street, Evanston. Together with other purchases made recently, the syndicate has acquired a holding having 180 feet on Chicago avenue and 100 feet on Main street, improved mostly with three story brick stores, offices, and flats, for a reported total consideration of about $100,000. Mason & Smart were the brokers, while Joseph L. McNab attended to the legal details.

The high grade six flat building, 5464-66 East End avenue, has been sold by Alvin H. Reed to Henry S. Hawley for an indicated consideration of $35,000, subject to an incumbrance of $14,000. Vacant at 5409-11 Maryland avenue was taken in part payment. Clyde A. Kirk of the office of Alvin H. Reed represented both parties.

Halsted Street Sale.

Mrs. Anna P. Hooker has purchased from Isador A. Rubel the northwest corner of Halsted and Fourteenth streets, 43x100 feet, improved with an old one story brick building containing a theater and two stores, for a reported consideration of $47,500, subject to an incumbrance of $25,000. The sale is at the rate of $110 a front foot. George S. Lurie and Edwin F. Getchell were the brokers.

The new high grade six flat building at 5436-38 Ellis avenue has been sold by Eric G. Ruben, the Chicago Title and Trust company taking title for a nonresident investor, for a reported consideration of $27,000 cash. J. E. Bistor of W. K. Young & Bro. represented both parties.

Record was made of the transfer by Ernest R. Graham to Charles J. Horn of the property on Fifth avenue, 168 feet north of Van Buren street, lot 25x100 feet, west front, for an indicated consideration of $33,000.

Woodlawn Values Jump.

A handsome increase in values on Sixty-seventh street in about a year is shown in a deal just closed by Frank H. Lang. He sold for Charles L. Roberts to Joseph H. Larson 75x115 feet, north front, 200 feet west of Blackstone avenue, for $11,250, at the rate of $150 a foot. It was purchased about a year ago for $80 a foot.

Record was made of the sale by Mrs. Effie Payne to Peter F. Reynolds, the builder, of the southeast corner of Broadway and Addison street, and the southwest corner of Pine Grove avenue and Addison street, 450 on Addison street and 123 on Broadway and Pine Grove, for an indicated consideration of $60,000. Mrs. Payne also conveyed in this connection the south 100 feet of the property to the Convent of the Secred Heart of Pine Grove avenue for a reported consideration of $35,000, making a total of $95,000 for the entire block.

An old frame dwelling is on the property, which Mrs. Payne has occupied for about fifty years. It is said that because the contract of sale did not mention the fact she was to retain the ownership of her chickens and chiken houses, that she was at first unwilling to sign. Mr. Reynolds plans to improve with flat buildings to cost over $500,000, it is said. Louis H. Shapiro of S. W. Winefield & Co. was the broker.

Object to Signboard Law.

At the June meeting of the Chicago real estate board a resolution, submitted by Henry G. Zander, was adopted in which the board entered a protest against the sign board ordinance pending before the council as to its effect on real estate sign boards. It was declared it would impose an uncalled for hardship on real estate agents and brokers.

D. F. Crilly entered a protest against what he termed the entirely inadequate character of the sewerage system in the downtown district. He asserted it was time to urge upon the city authorities the need of one of two trunk lines in the district where conditions were getting steadily worse, he asserted. He was instructed to submit his complaint to the river and harbor improvement committee of the board.

JOINT FINANCE COMMISSION TO LINK TWO AMERICAS

McAdoo Says Conferences Resulted to Great Mutual Advantage of United States and Latin Nations.

Washington, D. C., June 2.—Plans to continue the work begun by the recent Pan-American financial conference through permanent, although unofficial, committees were announced today in a statement by Secretary McAdoo of the treasury. The secretary expressed confidence that "practical results of the most advantageous sort to the United States and all the countries of South and Central America" would follow the conference.

"Some of the governments in South America, I am told," he said, "have already made financial arrangements with some of our bankers, and negotiations are pending between other South American countries and our banukers, with every prospect that they will be consummated."

Mr. McAdoo said the conference showed "absolute unanimity of opinion as to the vital necessity for improved ocean transportation facilities."

The secretary announced his intention of appointing nine Americans to an unofficial high joint commission to take up with similar apopintees from the other American countries the question of uniform laws. He also will name eighteen group committees of American business men to act with groups in each of the South and Central American countries along general lines.

BUSINESS, COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL SECTION

PUBLIC SHOWS FAITH IN U. S.

WAR NOW OLD STORY.

Strength in yesterday's New York market served to emphasize what seems to be marked underlying strength. With the briefest removal of pressure prices tend upward. The country appears to be filled with people with surplus funds who believe in the country and who intend to buy securities pretty much regardless of conditions about which commission houses talk.

In a way the war is getting to be old. The fighting has been on ten months. This country has been jarred to its financial foundation and has recovered. It would be trite to enumerate the reasons in favor of the market. The new features are the wearing away of fear of war results and the intention of investors to buy.

Continental Can Earnings.

For the fiscal year ended Dec. 31, 1914, the Continental Can company showed net earnings of $1,339,433 compared with $788,016 in the thirteen months ended Dec. 31, 1913, and a surplus after depreciation and preferred dividends of $855,080 against $300,329. It had a profit and loss surplus of $1,245,408 compared with $390,329. The reserve for depreciation in 1914 was $116,818.

C., H. & D.'s New Default.

Default has been made in interest due June 1 on $3,000,000 general mortgage 5 per cent bonds of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad. These bonds are not to be confused with general mortgage bonds of Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railway. A larger issue already in default.

Promotion Plan Turned Down.

The Ohio public utilities commission has refused the application of the Ohio Gas and Electric company to purchase the plants of the Middletown Gas and Electric company, the Franklin Electric company, the Leetonia Gas and Electric company, and the electric department of the Lisbon Gas company, and to issue $760,000 thirty year 6 per cent bonds to be sold at 85, $200,000 ten year 6 per cent debentures, and $795,000 common stock at 70.

In denying the application the commission said it was done on the following grounds: "That it is proposed to capitalize the property largely in excess of the real value and, incidentally, that in violation of law, it is proposed to issue capital stock in excess of the combined capital stock of the companies to be merged and to increase the joint indebtedness. It also appears that the service to be furnished to the public is not to be bettered, made more adequate, or to be supplied at a just charge or rate." It has not been decided by the men behind the new company whether or not an appeal will be taken to the Supreme court of the state, as may be done under the Ohio utilities law.

Apparently the commission in its statement is operating on the theory that promotions for the benefit of promoters do not fall under the terms of a law designed to improve service.

Notes of Copper Companies.

The Anaconda Copper Mining company produced in May 20,055,000 pounds of copper against 21,800,000 in April, 19,000,000 in March, and 23,500,000 in May, 1914.

As high as 1,800 tons is mined at the Butte and Superior some days and it is expected that the May record will be in excess of the 45,000 pound mark.

In May the production of the Wolverine Copper Mining company was 450 tons, against 456 tons in April.

The Lake Superior copper companies have not only resumed normal production, but are engaged in a great deal of construction work, expecting to supply an unprecedented amount of copper.

Dividends Declared.

Ahmeek Mining company declared a dividend of $10 a share.

The Pabst Brewing company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable June 15. Books close June 8 and reopen June 16.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, June 2.—Money was in light demand and discount rates were very quiet today. There was a fair business in high class investment securities on the stock exchange, but other sections were quiet. Japanese bonds were firm among the foreigners. Copper stocks were dull, diamonds weaker, and Grand Trunks lower. American securities were dull, awaiting the outcome of the diplomatic situation. The undertone was somewhat better and the closing was steady. Bar silver, 23 5-16d per ounce. Money, 1¼@1¾ per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 2⅝@2¾ per cent; three months, 2 13-16@2⅞ per cent.

PARIS, June 2.—Prices were steady on the bourse today. Rentes, 72 francs, 50 centimes. Exchange on London, 26 francs 4½ centimes.

COFFEE AND SUGAR.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The market for coffee futures was very quiet today, sales being reported of only 7,750 bags. The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 1 point on some scattered covering, but prices later eased off under liquidation and a little trade selling which some thought might be against purchases for new crop forward shipment from Brazil. The close was net unchanged to 8 points lower. June, 5.40c; July, 6.49c; August, 6.50c; September, 6.50c; October, 6.52c; November, 6.53c; December, 6.53c; January, 6.58c; February, 6.61c; March, 6.64c; April, 6.67c; May, 6.70c. Spot easy; Rio No. 7, 7c; Santos No. 4, 9⅝c. It is reported that underscribed Santos 4s have sold under 8c for forward shipment in the cost and freight market. Milreis prices were unchanged. Rio exchange on London unchanged. Brazilian port receipts, 17,000; Jundiahy, 6,000. Rio cleared 8,000 for New York and 16,000 for New Orleans. A private cable from Rio says that the new crop of Rio coffee will be of small bean and poor quality owing to droughty conditions during the last few months. SUGAR—Raw steady; centrifugal, 4.95c; molasses, 4.18c; refined steady. Futures: July, 4.01c; September, 4.20c; December, 3.97c; March, 3.52c.

CHICAGO, June 2.—SUGAR—The following prices were quoted by wholesale dealers per 100 lbs: Cut loaf, H. & E., $7.50; powdered, standard, $6.76; eastern granulated, $6.31; beet granulated, $6.21; extra C, $6.05; canary, $5.80.

SMALL GAINS IN N. Y. STOCKS

EXCHANGE STILL WEAK

Total sales of stocks, 390,000 shares.

Total sales of bonds (par value), $1,668,000.

New York, June 2.—Wall street's attention was quite evenly divided today between this country's relations with Germany and Mexico. The audience granted by President Wilson to the German ambassador and the emphatic declaration to Mexico's warring leaders were almost the only definite developments of an otherwise uneventful session.

The financial community was clearly inclined to regard the visit of the German ambassador to the White House as a factor of favorable import. The entire list, including the international group, advanced smartly during the morning on a volume of business far in excess of the preceding day.

War Shares in Advance.

War shares and other specialties, as well as coppers, participated in the rise, which lost much of its enthusiasm later. Trading slackened to a marked degree in the afternoon and some gains were reduced to fractions at the dull close.

Cables stating that the Bank of England had released $1,375,000 of its gold and had sold $10,000,000 of its foreign gold coin doubtless accounted for the steadiness of local exchange on London, but the record for francs was again lowered, remittances on Paris being quoted at 5.45, against the previous price of 5.43¾. Italian exchange was a trifle firmer, but the volume of bills on Rome was a further reflection of offerings by our bankers and manufacturers against purchases of war supplies.

Missouri Pacific Steadier.

Announcement that the Missouri Pacific railway note extension plan had become effective imparted somewhat greater steadiness to the stock, and the notes also rose appreciably. Later these issues fell back again as a result of an attachment against the company by a nonassenting note holder.

The bond market was firm, an exception being St. Louis and Iron Mountain 4s, which fell 4 points. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Mercantile paper, 3½@4 per cent. Sterling, sixty day bills, 4.7550; demand, 4.7850; cables, 4.79. Francs, demand 545, cables 544. Marks, demand 82⅞, cables 83. Lires, demand 590, cables 589. DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, June 2.—An acute demand was reported today for burlap at high prices. Fancy woolen yarns were in steady demand, but worsted staple yarns were dull. Cotton goods were quiet, with yarns dull. Embroideries were in fair demand.

BOSTON STOCK TRANSACTIONS

BOSTON, Mass., June 2.—[Special.]—There was a much better inquiry for stocks today and prices advanced easily. The last prices were in many instances from one to two points higher. American Zinc and Butte and Superior, the active features, went up two points or more, with fractional reactions at the close. The buying throughout was of an exceptionally strong character. Amalgamated, Calumet and Arizona, Copper Range, Granby, Wolverine, Tamarack, Superior, St. Mary's, Osceola, and Mohawk were from one to two and one-half higher on smaller dealings. Smelting common was well bought throughout, with the price up about two points. In the general list Edison was up 2, Boston and Maine 1, Chemical 1⅝, and Fruit 2. Good fractional advances were noted in the others. Call money, 3@3½ per cent; time loans, short dates, 3½@3¾ per cent; time loans, six months, 3¾@4¼ per cent; time loans, year, 4¼@4½ per cent.

STEEL EXPORTS HELD BACK BY DEARTH OF VESSELS.

New York, June 2.—[Special.]—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

"The New York meeting of iron and steel manufacturers of Friday was a clearing house for more favorable sentiment than has come out at any similar meeting in two years. In the main, operations at 75 per cent were reported, with the steel corporation's percentage somewhat higher.

"Foreign business is well maintained, but the scarcity of vessels is more pronounced. The commandeering by the British government of vessels that have been bringing iron ore from Cuba to Baltimore and Philadelphia is embarrassing companies which have felt secure in having charters covering several years.

"Due to increasing difficulties of ocean transport the acceptance of export orders for steel waits in many cases on actually obtaining vessel space. The fact that certain available vessels sail from gulf ports has caused a diversion of some foreign business from Pittsburgh to Chicago mills. In the last week additional orders for sheet bars for Great Britain, including two lots of 5,000 tons each, have gone to Chicago."

Indianapolis Union Railway.

W. F. T.—The Indianapolis Union railway was incorporated more than sixty years ago. It provides terminal facilities and does switching for the several railroads entering Indianapolis on a train and mileage basis which pays the expense of operation. In addition each company pays a fixed rent out of which bond interest is paid. Seven roads use the property. The capital is furnished by the Panhandle, the Big Four, and the Vandalia, but the other roads have the same use of the property that the three proprietor companies have. The latter three companies had invested $1,056,426 up to June 30 last. There was also an original issue of $1,000,000 first mortgage bonds. Of these $140,000 have been redeemed by a sinking fund. Now a general mortgage has been placed on the property to pay for improvements. This mortgage will secure not over $10,000,000 of bonds to bear such rate of interest as may be determined and to be guaranteed principal and interest by the three proprietor companies, the other companies also contracting to use the terminal and to pay their share of the rent perpetually. An issue of $4,000,000 has been put out under the new mortgage drawing 5 per cent interest. Inasmuch as the terminal is the only one in the city and is a necessity to all the roads using it the bonds are well secured.

New World Life.

M. J. W.—The New World Life Insurance company's annual report of Dec. 31, 1914, shows greater progress in selling stock than in writing insurance. The insurance in force at the end of 1914 was $2,475,700, an increase of $40,750 as compared with the amount a year previous. The number of policies in force had increased from 1,100 to 1,268. The capital stock outstanding increased during the year from $895,365 to $1,091,790. The stock, of $10 par value, is said to have been sold at $25 a share, part of the extra $15 going to pay the seller's commission and the rest being added to the company's surplus. The surplus increased during the year from $435,237 to $547,891. Thus the increase in capital stock was $196,425 and in surplus $112,654. Expenses of management showed slight increase over 1913, but they were greater than the total premium receipts. The company is still a long way from earning dividends. Last year, however, was an unfavorable one for nearly all life insurance companies.

Manhattan Transit.

I. R. McK.—The Manhattan Transit company has $10,000,000 of capital stock outstanding and $300,000 of bonds. The company claims a monopoly of passenger traffic in the borough of Manhattan, New York, other than that on street railway cars and the Fifth avenue omnibus line. It is now involved in litigation over the transfer of the stock of the Long Acre Electric Light and Power company, a subsidiary, to another corporation. No reports of any dividends are found. The stock has a nominal quotation of 87½ cents bid and 93¾ cents asked for a share of $20 par value. Apparently it is purely speculative.

Brief Answers.

I. A. M.—One cannot often find a desirable mortgage for a smaller sum than $500. If you have $100 to invest every five or six months you would do better to buy bonds. You can find plenty of $100 bonds at prices to net between 5 and 6 per cent. Ask some reputable bond dealer for gilt edged $100 bonds. We will review his offering if you wish.

J. W. H.—The American Bankers Insurance company was reviewed recently. Its annual report for 1914 shows it to be in sound condition as to policyholders, though not yet on a profit earning basis.

R. A. D.—The Illinois Film company was recently organized. It expects to produce films, but has not yet begun operations.

There were more cattle on sale at Chicago yesterday than on any previous day in nearly four weeks and reductions of 10@15c in prices had to be made to effect a clearance. The trade was slow, with delayed deliveries by railroads, as well as buyers' efforts to break the market, serving to retard business. Best steers offered sold at $9.25, with the bulk at $8.25@9.00. Cows and heifers were mostly 10c lower than on Tuesday, with dairy cows at a decline of 15@20c. Bulls and calves were steady, with the latter topping at $9.50 for prime vealers.

Hogs opened at a decline of 10c and closed 15c lower than on Tuesday. Early sales were made up to $7.75, but shippers had few orders and packers bought the bulk of the offerings at $7.45@7.65, with few at higher than $7.60 late in the day. Shippers were credited with purchases of 2,500 head and packers took 33,300.

Market for sheep and lambs continued on a firm basis, with prices unchanged to a shade higher for the day. Receipts of 11,000 head found a ready outlet at the prices. Shorn Colorado lambs topped at $10.65, reverting back to the high price of the season, while shorn ewes reached $5.75 and spring lambs sold up to $11.75.

Hog purchases for the day: Armour & Co., 9,000; Swift & Co., 3,700; Sulzberger & Sons, 2,800; Morris & Co., 3,200; Anglo-American, 2,500; Hammond, 2,300; Boyd-Lunham, 1,800; Roberts & Oake, 1,300; Western Packing company, 1,400; Miller & Hart, 700; Independent Packing company, 2,800; Brennan Packing company, 1,000; butchers, 800; shippers, 2,500; total, 35,800; left over 2,500.
